£33,249,040 per Annum.

Thirty-three Million pounds worth of Irish money is sent abroad every year to buy piece goods, apparel, etc., from the Foreigner.

Women of Ireland, at least one-half of this is your work, and we are sure you will agree with us that it must discontinue. If even one quarter of this appalling sum were spent in your own country, think of what wealth and work it would bring to Ireland. The remedy is in your own hands. Buy nothing but Irish cloths, and refuse to be put off with plausible and inferior substitutes. We are the oldest and largest Manufacturers of Dress Goods in Ireland, and make everything from the soundest and most fashionable Tweeds to the finest Serges, Coatings, Gabardines, Venetians, Whipcords, Voiles and Cashmeres, in the most beautiful colourings that can be produced. Ask your Draper for Dinsmore Dress Goods, and insist on getting them.

MEDICAL.

CAVAN COUNTY HOSPITAL COMMITTEE.
APPOINTMENT OF RESIDENT SURGEON.

The above Committee will at their Meeting on 12th December, 1922, appoint a Surgeon to take complete charge of the Cavan County (Surgical) Hospital (late County Infirmary), at a salary of £500 a year. The person appointed shall be a whole-time Officer, but may, within the County of Cavan, attend in consultation cases, and may charge fees to private patients in Hospital.

Adequate accommodation shall at all times be reserved in the Hospital for private patients. No fee shall be chargeable to any patient, except private patients, in hospital. He shall have complete control of the Hospital, subject to any orders made by the Committee of Management and Local Government Department.

Applications shall only be considered from persons who, in addition to the ordinary Medical and Surgical qualifications, shall have had special experience in Hospital Management, and shall have been, immediately previous to appointment, regularly engaged for at least twelve months in the performance of major surgical operations. He shall also be proficient in X-Ray work. Certificate signed by the Senior Medical Officer of the Institution at which the foregoing practice and experience was obtained should accompany the application.

The appointment is for a period of twelve months, and if the person appointed gives satisfaction in the discharge of his duties to the Committee of Management and Local Government Department the appointment will be made permanent.

Applications to be lodged here with me not later than 1st December, 1922.

Canvassing of Members of the Committee will disqualify.

By Order,
P. REILLY,
Registrar to Committee.

WOMAN AND HER HOME.

Shop in Dublin: Buying in London does not Save Money.

In spite of the disturbed state of the country, which makes much travelling an impossibility, there is a good deal of quiet social intercourse going on, such as week-end visits to friends, a short stay at some favourite golfing hotel, or even a rapid visit to London or Brighton.

In any and all of these cases it is the greatest possible mistake to leave until the last the gathering together of the necessary dainty items of a successful outfit.

For instance, if a brief visit to London is contemplated, a woman does not wish to spend her time moving about from shop to shop picking up additions to her wardrobe, pretty though they may be. She wants to have a short, but thoroughly enjoyable time, to see her friends, to go to all the new plays, and to listen to all the good music going.

An Erroneous Idea.

She cannot do this if she is worn out and exhausted. Besides, why should she wait when everything that is wanted can be bought at home for practically the same money. It is an erroneous idea that clothing can be purchased much cheaper in London than in Dublin or other Irish towns. Cheap foreign-made garments can be obtained for very little, no doubt, but good, well-designed clothing is as dear, if not dearer, in London than in Ireland. Bond street prices are considerably more than those charged in Grafton street, so that nothing is gained by spending one's money out of the country.

If but a limited amount of money is at the disposal of the would-be purchaser, she still can achieve a great success with the big firms and the best dressmakers. For it is a great mistake to think that these important business houses only care to cater for the very rich. On the contrary, they will often take infinite trouble over equipping a pretty girl for her entrance into social life, and will give valuable advice on the tiresome little details which must receive attention.

Be Candid.

One word of advice. Be candid with the shopkeepers; say plainly how much you can afford to spend on clothes, hats, etc. It will save time and trouble, both valuable considerations in a business house.

At the present time a girl has only to go to Grafton street and a few of the shops in the vicinity, and she will see for herself the assembly of lovely tea frocks, rest gowns, tea gowns, dressing-gowns, combing jackets, boudoir caps, and all the other delightful feminine frivolities that go to make a pretty woman beautiful.

A word as to the tea frock, a garment that has secured for itself a distinct position. To the modern society girl and young matron it is one of the gowns she cannot possibly do without. In town for a quiet dinner, in the country house, where most are tired after a day with hounds, what so easy to slip into as the tea frock?

To the older woman the classical tea gown may appeal, with its graceful long lines, but girls should, if they are wise, keep to the piquant charms of the tea frock. Some of the new tea frocks which are shown in the salon of a Dublin firm are so attractive that they ought to be seen, as words cannot at all convey their elegant simplicity. For they are so simple and yet enchanting.

Frocks Described.

Picture a frock of peace-coloured satin beauté, veiled in georgette; the plain loose bodice only moderately scooped out at the neck, where the décolletage is outlined with a fragile silver lace. A band of the same lace borders the wing-shaped sleeves, which give a cape-like look to the frock in front. The waist is outlined with a row of roses made of silver ribbon, and that is all, but the style of it is everything.

A soft, rose-pink satin crepe de chine, veiled in like manner, but quite different in its own way, also caught the eye; while a lovely flamingo-red satin with gossamer veilings in soft mouse-grey, with a rose of gold tissue at the waist, was enough to tempt any woman to "covet and desire other goods."

The rest gowns, mostly in wonderful tinsel brocades, depended on their gorgeous colouring for their cachet; otherwise they were often fashioned on mediæval lines. Some had touches of gold or silver embroidery, or a fringe of monkey fur.

Dressing Gowns.

There were dressing gowns of crepe de chine or ninon in the most delicate colourings, with masses of ivory lace and ribbons. Many had narrow hems of swansdown or marabout. In some the lace veiled the crepe de chine; in others the silken folds opened, revealing the delicate tints of lace beneath.

Some of the boudoir caps were made completely of tiny loops of ribbon, which completely covered the crown of lace, and depended in streamers at one side. With others tiny roses in shaded ribbon were the trimming. There was one determining feature; the cap must assimilate in character with the dressing gown. Most women have a cap to match their bed jackets, dressing gowns, etc.; all must harmonise in colour and style.

WANTED—A CLUB.

WHY SHOULD WE LAG BEHIND LONDON.

ONE of the most pressing needs of the moment in Dublin is a real woman's club. There are clubs where women are admitted on equality with men, but 90 per cent. of the clubs in Dublin are closed preserves to women. I do not for a moment propose that women should have a right of admission to these, and I am sure that no woman wants to invade them.

What I am suggesting is that the time is approaching when women should form a club of their very own, on the lines of the Lyceum Club in London, for example. There, professional women, as well as those who prefer to be regarded as just social butterflies, find a common meeting ground.

First Step.

It may be contended that the moment is not opportune to talk of opening a new club; but while the time for carrying the proposal into operation may not be ripe, there is no reason why a strong committee should not be formed in order to prepare plans which could be carried into effect, directly Dublin is more tranquil and the social life of the city assumes its normal whirl.

There is more than one house in Merrion square and in the neighbourhood of St. Stephen's Green that would be eminently suitable for such a club, and a lease could at the present time be secured at a rent far more reasonable than for any time during the past five years.

There is no immediate call to make the club peculiarly elaborate, or to go to the expense of bedrooms for country members—that is a development that can always be considered when it is well established—but a good library, big lounges, cosy tea and rest room, and a good kitchen, and, perhaps, card and billiard rooms would be sufficient to attract a full membership almost at once.

There is the idea anyway. Several friends tell me how badly such a club is needed in Dublin. And why the capital of the Free State shoul dlag behind London I fail to understand.

OUR WOES IN WINTER.

A woman's beauty is never so heavily handicapped as during the winter months. She may be as beautiful as the dawn, a veritable Venus, but, nevertheless, she finds the bitter cold as severe a test as her plainer and more mediocre sister.

What woman can look lovely, or even passable, if she is cold? All beauty is at once drained from her face, leaving it pinched and hardened. It behoves the wise woman, therefore, at all costs to dress herself warmly.

Not for her the dainty, alluring lingerie she sees displayed in flimsy loveliness. No, she must leave these envied gossamer trifles to her more fortunate sister who is able to follow the sun to warmer climes. She, alas! doomed to live in this climate (Heaven help her!) must suit herself to its conditions, and, bringing her rebellious wishes into line, may make up her mind to wear flannels.

East Wind.

Then there is the east wind to be considered—and well considered. What woman does not know the disastrous effect of this bitterest of foes to comfort, good temper, and any pretentions to good looks she may possess? Like the poor, this scourge is always with us, and is no respecter of complexions.

It will search out the woman whose complexion in summer may be as dainty as the petals of a dewy rose and turn it with one bitter blast into the mottled red of a beetroot! As night follows the day, so do watery eyes and red-blue noses follow in the wake of an east wind.

On such a day of cutting blasts, let the woman who values her appearance use a little powder chosen with judicious care, dress quietly, wear as thick and becoming a veil as possible, and leave the rest to Providence!

Then a woman's hands—how patient and long-suffering are the struggles to keep these easily affected members from telling a bitter story. Among the many ills the dreaded chilblain may even make its painful appearance—that complete wrecker of the hand beautiful!

Furs.

But there are compensations. Kind Providence, perhaps understanding the bitter handicap of winter on woman's charms, has certainly made the amende honorable in providing the generous avalanche of furs enriching woman's world to-day. Gone are the long-ago days when a skimpy fur necklet and a still skimpier muff were all that fashion decreed or woman could aspire to.

Now she can revel to her heart's content in every kind of pelt—from the most dignified severities to the fluffiest frivolities. And what woman can resist furs? And who can blame her if she spends her last farthing on the most luxurious and becoming within her reach?

There are certainly worries for woman to consider these chill grey days of winter. Nevertheless, let her take courage. Much may be done by a little self-sacrifice—a little extra time and care devoted to her person. A few brisk exercises in the morning before or after the bath will help considerably. The face and hands should be gently massaged with a soothing cream at bed-time. The indolent woman who from sheer laziness neglects these simple duties will lag far behind her more energetic sister in the alluring quest of beauty.

FOR THE COOK.

BEEF MOULD.

Into a stewpan place about 4lbs. of middle shin of beef, cut into five or six pieces—the butcher will cut it for you—with just enough water to cover, a sliced onion, carrot and turnip, pepper, salt, parsley, thyme, celery, some cloves, and pepper corns; simmer very gently until the meat will leave the bones, and then drain off the liquor. Beat the meat up well with a fork, and pack into a mould; reduce some of the stock by boiling fast, fill the mould three-quarters full; put a plate on top, and press with weights until quite firm. It will then turn out like a brawn or jelly.

TO PICKLE ONIONS.

Skin the onions and put into hot brine, a good handful of salt to 1 gal. boiling water, and let them remain two days. Take them out, and drain for the day. For 7lb. of onions get 3 pints of vinegar, 30 peppercorns, 30 allspice berries, 4 pieces of brown ginger, 30 cloves. Dry the onions in an old cloth, drop in dry jars, and put vinegar and spice over, hot. Tie down when cold.

THE MOTOR SHOW: A RETROSPECT.

Nothing is more remarkable in connection with the Motor Show than the way it has developed from being a mere spectacle into a market. In the early days of the Show those who visited Olympia were nearly all sightseers, and, though the brilliantly-lighted halls at Olympia and the White City are still attractive spectacles, many of those who inspect the thousand or so of the cars exhibited have a real intention of owning one of them. Another development in connection with the Show itself is the evidence it provides of the way motoring has spread itself over different classes of the community. The millionaire can still spend three thousand pounds or more upon a vehicle of luxurious description; but, on the other hand, the man whose limit for a car is about two hundred pounds is now well catered for, and in between those extremes there are cars at all prices, suitable for the pockets of many buyers.

There has never been a year when the car buyer had more advantages on his side than the present time. Prices have been reduced very considerably, practically all the cars on the market have stood the test of a year or more in actual use, and their reliability is beyond question; all unnecessary fittings have been discarded, finish and workmanship are now at their best, and a vast range of different models should be capable of providing a car pleasing to the tastes of the most fastidious owner.

The New Models.

Most of the new models are produced under the auspices of firms who have gained enviable reputations with larger cars, while in at least two cases firms who in the early days of the light car were leaders of the movement have re-entered the field with small cars, which are certain to be popular, especially among those—and there must be some thousands of them—who remember the merits of the earlier models. In many cases the new cars are to be available with bodies which, though nominally two-seaters, have a space at the rear for two additional passengers. The occasional four-seater body is not exactly a new idea. It was produced by one firm as long back as 1914, but nobody would look at it. A few years later a firm of body-builders endeavoured to place such a body on the market without success. The body which the motoring public rejected eight or nine years ago, however, bids fair to be popular in 1923. All who have ridden for any distance on some of the earlier dickey seats will appreciate the change. The new body is not intended for use as a permanent four-seater, but two moderately-proportioned people can be carried in a fairly comfortably manner, while the family man can carry children, who would not be safe in an ordinary dickey seat.

At some former shows it has been quite easy to pick out one or two models which would not justify their existence, but a careful examination of every stand at Olympia and the White City did not reveal a single model which was not worth consideration, and which should not achieve success. Every one has years of experience behind it, and the new models, where they are not marketed by firms of old-standing, have been subjected to more than usually severe tests extending over long periods.

Smaller Cars.

The reading of the specifications of the 1923 cars does not convey an adequate impression of their advance over those of former years. An inspection of the cars reveals their cleaner outline, their better finish, and, above all, their more complete equipment. Hoods, screens, side-curtains, wings, and other fittings have undergone a vast improvement, and in many cases the manufacturers have modestly refrained from mentioning all these little changes, which, in their cumulative effect, make so much difference in appearance, comfort, and service.

Where new models have been introduced, the tendency has been decidedly in the direction of smaller cars. The extreme instance of this tendency is the Trojan, at £175, which is produced by a firm hitherto concerned with a model priced at nearly two thousand pounds for the chassis alone. A more notable case, though the difference between the two models is less marked, is the introduction of a 20 h.p. car by the Rolls Royce Company. The new car will in no way supersede the one which has carried the letters R.R. to fame, but it will be a most interesting addition to the cars of moderate power. A somewhat similar instance is the Armstrong-Siddeley, which, following its success as a 30 h.p. car, is now to have a rather smaller brother in the form of a model rated at 18 h.p.

The Spectacular Side.

Another respect in which this year's show was distinctive was in the variety of colour presented to the eye both at Olympia and the White City. British and Continental cars were shown in many different tints, while most of the American productions are now available in several colours instead of choice being restricted to the sombre hues as formerly. So far as the spectacular side of the show is concerned, the large cars naturally made the best showing. Luxurious carriages built to the order of Royalty were exhibited on the Rolls Royce, Armstrong-Siddeley, and Crossley stands, while in the same class Lanchesters, Napiers, Vauxhalls, Daimlers, Sunbeams, Austins, De Dions, Talbot-Darracqs, and Wolseleys, among others, added to the spectacular effect of the exhibition.

A summing up of the show can only lead to the conclusion that there has never been so wide a range of different models available to the purchaser, and many who have hesitated to decide on a new car will be tempted by the outstanding merits of the 1923 productions.

Alvis Models.

There are several differences in the matter of detail between the 10 h.p. and the 12 h.p. Alvis models, mainly in gear box design and cooling arrangements. On the larger car a thermostatic control of the cooling is fitted to the water circulation system. In both cars the engine has side-by-side valves, and the gear box and engine are separately supported on the chassis. The smaller car is known as the 10-30 h.p model, and looks extremely well as a two or four-seater or coupé, while the 12-40 h.p. chassis is well adapted for use with an all-weather body, while as a four-seater it has a noble presence. When it was first put on the market three years ago the Alvis quickly achieved a reputation for reliability, and the new models bear evidence not only of sound design, but of the highest grade of workmanship and finish.

G.W.K. For 1923.

The G.W.K. for 1923 does not differ greatly from the previous model. The friction transmission as fitted during the past year has proved itself to be as effective as it is simple. The four-seater G.W.K. is still one of the prettiest cars on the road, and the finish of the bodywork is distinctly good.

The Overland.

The Overland policy for 1923 is continued concentration upon the Model 4, which, so far as mechanical features are concerned, has undergone little change. Bodywork, however, has been improved, and whereas the car was at one time only available in one colour, quite a variety of popular tints are now presented to the choice of the buyer. In view of the performances of the Overland Model 4 over a period of years, it is not surprising that the company are continuing to specialise upon the one type.

Austin Cars.

The Baby Austin will be one of the most attractive of the 1923 small cars. This firm, which commenced their post-war programme with a 23 h.p. car last year, turned out a 12 h.p. model, and now enter the light car field with a 7 h.p. car. The new car has an engine of 54 mm. and 76 mm. bore and stroke respectively, the actual Treasury rating being 7.2 h.p. Like other new small cars, the Austin is made as an occasional four seater, a type of body which has much to recommend it. In outline, design and construction the Baby Austin is alike good, and the engine has been the subject of very prolonged test before the final design was decided upon. The two larger models are substantially unchanged so far as general specification is concerned, but improvements in detail have been made.

The Trojan.

One of the few departures from what has come to be regarded as orthodox practice is the Trojan. Briefly, the specification is 10 h.p. two-pair cylinder two-stroke, water-cooled, epicyclic gears, dynamo lighting and mechanical starter. The car is fitted with solid tyres, and it is claimed that the springing is so effective that it is difficult to detect the presence of the solid rubber. The car certainly looks to be a vehicle of utility, and its performances will be watched with considerable interest, especially as it is produced by a firm whose name is known wherever motor vehicles have penetrated. The price is £175 complete, and at the Show it was placed on the Leyland Company's stand alongside the "Leyland Eight," the chassis price of which is £1,875.

The 1923 Maxwell.

The Maxwell for 1923 will again be presented as a 20.9 h.p. car, with an engine of 92 mm. and 114 mm. bore and stroke, respectively, the cylinder head being detachable, and the valves of the side-by-side type. This is one of the few cars of American origin fitted with a cone clutch. All the familiar features of the Maxwell are retained, and the coachwork has been further improved.

Humbers.

For the past few years Humber cars have continued to increase in merit and in popularity, but there was a blank in the range of models which was left when the firm discontinued the Humberette about seven years ago. Some thousands of that model were turned out during the cycle-car boom, and many of them are running well to-day. The firm have now, however, made good the omission, and all who see the car will agree that it was worth waiting for. In outward appearance it greatly resembles the larger Humbers so far as radiator design and general lines are concerned. The engine is a four-cylinder 8 h.p. unit, with a bore and stroke of 56 mm. and 100 mm., respectively. The body is what has come to be known as the family type. The rear space has no door, which is an advantage when children are carried, while in the case of baggage this can be securely stowed away without fear of jolting off. In every respect the new Humber is an excellent car, and the larger Humber models also worthily uphold their name.

The Singer.

Amongst the light car class at the Show the Singer was one which stood out on its own and attracted very considerable attention. The models listed for the year 1923 are a departure from any previous ones turned out by this famous old Coventry firm, and embody in them all the latest practices to be found in automobile construction as applied to high-powered and high-priced cars. The engine has come in for a very considerable amount of attention by the designers and testers, and the model which has finally been accepted as standard embodies several important features. Another is the gear-box, which is attached to the engine in one unit, thereby saving considerable weight and at the same time making an absolutely silent drive. The bore and stroke of the engine is 63 mm. x 88 mm., which gives a cubic capacity of 1,096 c.c. The Singer Company are making four distinct models on their 10 h.p. chassis, the two-seater, with double dickey, or four-seater open touring cars being called the Coventry-Premier, the two-seater, with double dickey, or four-seater All-Weather model, with self-starter, being called the Singer de Luxe.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC.

At the weekly meeting of the Governors of the Royal Irish Academy of Music, held at Westland row, Mr. James W. Drury, M.A., presided. The following were also present:—Sir John Irwin, J.P.; Major Arthur Whewell, Mr. B. Warburton Rook, Mus. B., T.C.D.; Mr. George Prescott, M.I.E.E.; Mr. Frank Wynne, and C. E. Grahame Harvey, Secretary.

The minutes of the "Board of Studies" and Routine Committees were read and signed.

The following resolution was passed unanimously by the Governors in silence, standing:—"The Governors have learned with deep regret of the death of Mr. Frank Browning, who for very many years served as a Governor of the Academy, representing the "Coulson Endowment," and they desire to convey to the relatives of the deceased gentleman their sincere regret."

BIG FIELDS AND CLOSE FINISHES.

ESSEXFORD'S FINE EFFORT.

Despite the fact of there being no item of outstanding importance down for decision, yesterday's card yielded as good and interesting a day's sport as anyone could wish for, and the pleasure incidental thereto was enhanced by the glorious weather. It was more like a day in July than mid-November, and the only fault, if any, that could be found was that the glare of the bright sun made it next to impossible to discern the colours of the riders when the races were being run. Runners were forthcoming in strength, as will be understood when it is mentioned that eighty-four horses were saddled for the half-dozen events, and the finishes in the majority of instances were exciting enough to satisfy the most exacting.

The fine field of seventeen runners turned out for the Killesher Plate, which, as is so often the case with hurdle races at the Curragh, furnished a splendid race. Regarded as a very open affair, 6 to 1 was laid on the field, and at that price Merry Miner, Galtee Boy, Treble Scotch, and Garrymore found most favour with the punters. Of the more fancied quartette Galtee Boy did best, and at the last flight was looming large in the picture, but his penalty stopped him, and in a great finish Ischevaha prevailed over The Tatler by a short head, with Red Hussar a neck off third. Mill Belle was always a pronounced favourite for the Scurry Plate, which was associated with another thrilling set-to, in which she played a prominent part, even though she was eventually relegated into fourth place. The proverbial sheet would have covered the first four in the last furlong, and it was only by a narrow margin that Corfie, well ridden by the apprentice, D. Quirke, got the better of Essexford, who, in only just failing to concede the winner 31lb., can certainly claim the honours of the race, whilst Flower Vale also acquited himself right well, and takes his chance in the Cambridgeshire to-day.

It was satisfactory to find as many as fifteen turn out for the Rathbride Plate, which was confined to amateur riders, and backers were right on the mark when they made Monstrous their first choice. The class of the horses competing was poor, all being maidens that had not previously been placed second or third in a race value 90 sovs., but it was a thoroughly sporting affair nevertheless, and after Tarbet and Royal End had shown prominently for a long way, Monstrous, who was the mount of his owner, Mr. W. H. Dixon, who races a good deal in England, where Lines trains for him, and has a few horses on this side with Mr. H. Hartigan, came away in the straight to score in effortless fashion. On the strength of her second to Golden Grey at the last meeting here, Moor Maiden was staunchly befriended for the November Plate, as were Ali Shar and Orena, but the first-named never flattered, and for quite a long way Tomtoi looked very like winning. He, however, seemed to become unbalanced, and was readily run out of it in the end by Ali Shar.

Had he been able to preserve a straight course, Shining Bachelor must have won the Newbridge Plate, and as it was he only succumbed by a head to Bruff Battle after losing several lengths through persistently swerving towards the rails. The finish of the Moderate Plate was practically confined to the two rank outsiders, Peggy Stuart and Entangler, and in a desperately near thing the former earned the fiat by a short head. Details:—

IRISH CAMBRIDGESHIRE.

TO-DAY'S RACE.

Although the runners for the Irish Cambridgeshire will not be as numerous as at one time seemed likely, there is material for a fine race, and, with quite a large percentage of the candidates strongly fancied by their immediate connections, interest will be well maintained right up to the end. Knock Brack, Desmond Dale, Princess Georgie, and La Mienne will not be saddled, and the field will be made up of the following:—

TREMOLA (Mr. T. J. O'Neill), ch. c., by Tredennis—Bachelor's Beauty (Coombs) (inc. 12lb. ex.), 4, 10-8 H. Wragg
FERDIA (Mr. H. M. Hartigan), ch. g., by Southannan—M.S. (P. Behan), 6, 9-10 Joseph Canty
HIGHLANDMORE (Miss Cowhey), ch. c., by Lomond—Gargamelle (W. Rankin), 3, 9-8 H. H. Beasley
KING DAVID (Mr. T. K. Laidlaw), b. c., by Righ Mor—Minstrelsy (Hunter), 3, 9-6 M. Wing
VALIANT (Major Scarvell Cape), ch. c., by Orpiment—Soligena (Cape), 3, 9-6 T. Burns
ZRIA'S CHARM (Mr. J. C. Sullivan), b. h., by Zria—Zingarella (P. Behan), 5, 9-4 James Canty
LITTLE MARTEN (Mrs. Collie), ch. c., by Marten—Winn Daly (M. Reidy) (inc. 12lb. ex.), 3, 9-4 F. Hunter
FLOWER VALE (Mr. D. Foley), ch. g., by Valens—Flowerer (D. Moloney), 6, 9-4 C. Aylin
ULULA (Mr. A. M'Cann), b. h., by Ulster King—Sailor's Lassie (M. Dawson), 5, 9-4 W. Beasley
MINNIEMENT (Major Scarvell Cape), b. f., by Orpiment—Minnie Orme (Cape), 3, 8-8 R. Cullen
CAVALRY TROT (Mr. F. S. Low), b. h., by Mellcray—Keel Row (Walker), 5, 8-6 J. Dines
QUEEN OF THE WEST (Mr. A. Le Roch), bl. f., by Morena—Dooneen (Jeffery), 3, 8-0 C. Penrose
MOUNT PROSPECT (Mrs. T. O'K. White), b. g., by Saxham—Lady Geraldine (Dawson), 6, 7-12 D. Ward
FARNEY (Capt. Shirley), ch. c., by Orby or Roi Herode—Lady Cicero (Rogers), 3, 7-11 J. Patman

Little Marten, who has well pleased his astute trainer in his preparation for the race, is bound to acquit himself with credit, but the 12lb. penalty incurred for winning the Irish Cesarewitch may stop him, and on the running in the Hibernian Handicap earlier in the season Ferdia would appear to hold the beating of him. Tremola, who won the Great Tom Plate at Lincoln last week in such convincing style, is, with all his weight, entitled to respect, and were Ulula at his best he would take beating, but he has only recently recovered from an attack of coughing, and one is inclined to prefer the prospects of Dawson's other charge, Mount Prospect, who, in receipt of 5lb., ran Galtee Boy to a short head a fortnight ago. It should be a near thing in their placings as between King David and Valiant, the former of which now is allowed 4lb. for a length beating in the Curragh Biennial Stakes, and may now turn the tables. Farney is well spoken of, but for the winner I shall depend on leaving the remaining places to Ferdia and Valiant. Other selections are as follow:—

KING DAVID,

RACING IN A FOG.

BLACKLAND WINS CHIEF EVENT.

A dense fog placed the Leicester Stewards in a quandary yesterday, and the gates were not open until the time for racing to commence. Then it was decided to postpone the start for half an hour, and to run the races on the Round Course after deciding the others. After the latter had been decided, however, the fog had not lifted in the least, and as it would have been decidedly dangerous to have carried out the long-distance events they were finally abandoned. There was a small amount of grumbling at the curtailed programme, but really the executive did well to decide four races, though nothing could be seen of them for more than a hundred yards. A police whistle sounded half-way down the course announced the starts, and in almost every instance when the horses did appear to view one horse was out by himself, so that the judge had no great difficulty in spotting the winner.

Leeds United was an easy winner of the Humberstone Plate, thus repeating his Windsor success. His owner, Mr. Willey, who is a Parliamentary candidate for Central Leeds, had been following the example of Lord Derby last week and tipping his horse at his meetings.

It was hoped that the King would again score in the Leicestershire Handicap with Will Somers, who had already twice scored over the course this season. The race was taken by Blackland, the representative of the ex-jockey, Higgs, who was understood not to have fancied the horse. Anyhow, he certainly had no good following in the Ring. He proved a comfortable winning ride for Weston, who, now that he is closely connected with South country racing, will have better chances than he has hitherto enjoyed. Pictura had been regarded as one of Escott's good things, and with the winner out of the way would have scored, but Will Somers could only dead-heat for third place.

The Apethorpe Nursery was the most interesting event decided. Three horses were strongly fancied, and they filled the first three places. Rock Ruby colt, said to be better than the previous day's winner, Park Square, had never before been placed, but under bottom weight he scored cleverly.

1.30—HUMBERSTONE (T.Y.O.) (S.) PLATE of £200. 6 f.

Mr. Willey's br. f. LEEDS UNITED, by Golden Sun—Pond Lily, 8-11 P. Jones 1

Betting—7 to 2 agst. Cotswold, 4 to 1 IDUMEA, 7 to 1 Armageddon, 8 to 1 Dryad, 10 to 1 each D'Amade, Dynamic, High Society, and Drury, 20 to 1 any other.

Won by three-quarters of a length; same.

SPORTING PARAGRAPHS.

Eighty-four horses ran at the Curragh yesterday.

Barcedo (aged), by Barcadaile, out of Vauxedo, will be put up for sale after the Mountjoy Plate at the Curragh to-morrow.

During an interval of racing at the Curragh yesterday, Omelet Lodge, b. f. (2 yrs.), by Drinmore—Killenaule, was sold to Mr. Cash for 22 gns.

Both the Clock Tower Handicap and the Stoughton Maiden Stakes at Leicester yesterday were abandoned owing to a dense fog.

J. Dines rode the winners of the last two races at the Curragh yesterday. Dines, it should be mentioned, has not entered into any riding engagements for next year.

The most successful trainers during the French flat racing season just closed were C. Bariller and L. Robert, with 54 and 43 victories respectively, E. Leigh being third with 38.

At the Curragh yesterday 4 to 1 each was laid against Valiant and King David for the Irish Cambridgeshire, and Little Marten and Ferdia had supporters at 8 to 1.

Kircubbin, who won the Irish St. Leger last year, and a good winner on the Continent this season, has been leased by Senor Martinez de Hoz, the Argentine owner, from the Marquis de San Miguel.

E. M. Quirke and A. Barrett, who were injured when their mounts fell at the Phœnix Park on Saturday, are both progressing satisfactorily. Quirke, whose injuries were the more serious, though still weak, is now out of danger. They are under the care of Mr. D. Kennedy, at the Merrion Nursing Home.

BILLIARDS.

SMITH IN GREAT FORM.

The afternoon's play at Leicester square, London, yesterday found Smith in great form. He practically monopolised the table; for Newman scored but eleven points all told, while Smith collected his necessary 667 in an hour averaging 157 for each effort. In play with 167 unfinished, he made the break into 329. At his third visit he added another fine break of 348, and then went to his points with 155 (unfinished). Interval scores:—Smith, 2,001; Newman, 761.

The evening's session left Smith leading by 1,438 points. Newman had more chances than in the afternoon, and compiled clever breaks of 213, 62, and 101, but Smith again held the upper hand. He only added 4 to his afternoon's unfinished break, but subsequently scored runs of 235, 82, and 187. Closing scores:—Smith, 2,667; Newman, 1,229.

INMAN v. FALKINER.

Inman had the best of yesterday afternoon's play in this exhibition game at Piccadilly, London, scoring 667 points against Falkiner's 472. Falkiner's best breaks were 205 and 146, and Inman's 115, 116, 177, 120, and 166 (unfinished). Interval scores:—Inman, 2,000; Falkiner, 1,557.

At night Falkiner was on his game, and at the close had practically caught Inman, scoring 900 points for the session against Inman's 516. In a break of 453, he made several profitable runs of close cannons, his other breaks being 117, 164, and 136 (unfinished). Inman's best were 336 (full), 144, and 94. Closing scores:—Inman, 2,517; Falkiner, 2,457.

DERBY.

TO-DAY'S PROGRAMME AND SELECTIONS.

A fine programme has been prepared for the Derby November Meeting this week, and, as there are now only a few days left before the close of the season, fields are certain to be commensurate with the entries. The two outstanding events on the first day's card are the Markeaton Plate and the Chesterfield Nursery. In the former event the unfortunate Leighton has another chance. He was unplaced to Two Step on Saturday. Manton will be represented by both Blue Lady and Stratford, of which I perfer the Newbury Handicap third; and Crubenmore, Port Royal, St. Louis, and Envoy have been specially reserved for this race. The Irish colt, Moor Haven, which crossed on Saturday, is greatly fancied, and if Humpty Dumpty is saddled he must have a chance. Orpi is not out of it, but in looking for the winner I shall rely on

STRATFORD.

A big field is certain for the Chesterfield Nursery, from which the Galante colt has been scratched, leaving Scyphius top of the handicap. Greenfinch (F. Bullock) should finish in the van, despite his penalty, and I shall pin my faith to him, with Duteous the danger. Selections:

Breadsall Plate—Revues.
Belper Handicap—Predial.
Chesterfield Nursery—Greenfinch.
Rangemoor Stakes—Mountain Light.
Doveridge Plate—Bellman.

[The figures in front of the names of the horses are an index to placings in their last three engagements—reading from right to left. Where a horse started slowly and was unplaced an s appears instead of 0; f indicates fell; n did not finish.]

The meet yesterday was at Bonestown, and another delightful morning greeted what for a second day was a good-sized company. In fact, the attendances on this occasion broke all records for a meeting at Dunshaughlin. In agreeable contrast to the opening morning hares from the outset came quickly to hand, and an early finish was effected, with an abundance of game still remaining on the land. The first couple of trials were short affairs, but when the beat gave out and a move was made we had another series of splendid courses, and from then to the close of the proceedings the sport was really high-class. The Dunshaughlin Club have in the past catered excellently for those lovers of the leash who are partial to the sport in the open country, but they have seldom provided finer or more genuine tests of greyhound merit than they did on Monday and yesterday over the Grange and Bonestown preserves.

A surprise was forthcoming in the Tara Stakes, in which An Dail met more than his match when he came up against Top Price in the deciding course. It was a good-length slip, but Top Price had too much pace for the brindled, who, changing sides nearing the hare, was led about three lengths, and very cleverly outpointed by a decisive margin. The winner, who is a useful stamp of puppy, ran his courses remarkably well, and, unlike An Dail, who obviously has had too much of it lately, continued to run on, his final effort being a very stylish one. Miltiades II. and Florrie's Chum divided the Ratoath Stakes, Miss Dease taking the I.C.C. Cup on a toss. In his course with Fainne-an-Lea Miltiades II. was led from a short slip, but getting his chance off the turn he fully availed of it to administer a sound thrashing to Mr. Mullally's fourth season dog. Florrie's Chum showed nice pace in all his spins, and also handled his game artistically. Indeed, it was on the cards had the decider been run off that he would have had speed enough to pull him through. Nothing in the Hope-Johnstone Cup moved as smoothly as Greencroft Boy, but against Juryman II. he unexpectedly cracked in the run up, and after leading two lengths for half-way, he was passed out, lost the turn, and was well beaten in a short spin, the Cup thus remaining in the Dunshaughlin district.

INTER-CITY HOSPITAL MATCH.

MATCH CANCELLED.

The London United Hospitals v. Dublin Hospitals match, provisionally fixed for December 6th at Richmond, has been cancelled.

HOSPITALS CUP.

DUN'S (5) v. ADELAIDE (0).

The first match in the second round of the Hospitals' Cup was played yesterday at Donnybrook, Duns' proving lucky winners by a goal to nil. Teams:—

Sir Patrick Dun's Hospital—F. Davies; E. Bingham, C. Nunns, T. Mellin, J. F. Steele; R. Guise-Brown, G. F. Gillespie; R. J. Crichton, L. W. Smith, R. S. Crawford, J. Speedy, J. D. Clinch, W. Henry, T. Woods, and W. McDowell.

Adelaide Hospital—W. Van Zyl; C. W. McCaldin, W. McMahon, J. Patrick, E. Dudgeon; J. Bowyer, C. McCaldin; O. Chance, D. Bluett, J. du Toit, P. Labuschine, R. Keays, C. Loubser, E. McAlpine, G. Rankin.

Referee—Mr. Exshaw.

Dun's were much the bigger and heavier team, and were expected to win easily. They gave a very slack and disappointing exhibition, and were well beaten in the first half, but their fast and energetic light opponents' tackling and marking were excellent. Early on Loubser, following a dribble, was nearly in for Adelaide; while at the other end Steele was only held up outside. Soon after Dun's were pressing, when an Adelaide back miskicked, and R. S. Crawford picked up, and was lucky to be awarded a try, which Gillespie converted, Dun's leading at half-time by 5 points to nil.

Play was very hard, and at times bordering on the rough side, in the second half, the tackling being very strenuous. Each side pressed in turn, and in the last few minutes McMahon made a great run for Adelaide, but was knocked over in time. Five minutes before "no side" Gillespie got his collar-bone broken, and was carried off.

For the winners Davies, Steele, Millin, and Gillespie (backs), and Crichton, Crawford, Clinch, and Smith (forwards), played best; while the pick of Adelaide were C. W. McCaldin, D. McMahon, C. McCaldin, and Bowyer (backs); Loubser did a lot of tackling and spoiling forward, and Labuschine, du Toit, McAlpine, and Rankin also did well.

Result:—
Sir Patrick Dun's Hospital—1 goal (5 points).
Adelaide Hospital—Nil.

AONAC TAILTEANN

(IRISH RACE OLYMPIC).

The Director of Tailteann Games has received the following communication from the French Olympic Committee:—

"Those who have undertaken the revival and reorganisation of the Olympic Games decided, from the very beginning, to combine manifestations of art and ideas with athletics. They knew that nothing would conduce so much to the healthy, complete and harmonious development of youth as such an association. The Congress of Arts, Literature, and Sports convened in Paris in June, 1906, by the International Olympic Committee, decided, therefore, that the work of the Congress of 1894, for the revival of the Olympic Games, should develop along these lines, and that artistic and literary competitions should be held at the time of the celebration. Why should not we follow, even partially, the traditions of ancient Greece, whose Olympic Games gave occasion for so many masterpieces? As Baron Pierre De Boubertin says:—"The Olympic Games of 1924 should show that literature and art have become part of the Olympic celebrations, thus completely fulfilling the ancient tradition. The French Executive Committee wishes to give a very special eclat to the art competitions. These competitions will be International, and five in number:—(a) architecture; (b) literature; (c) music; (d) painting; (e) sculpture. Just as in olden days, artists and poets received, like athletes, the olive branch as a symbol of victory, the prize-winners of the art competitions of the 8th Olympiad will receive from the head of the State the same medal as the victors in the athletic games. Three prizes will be allocated to each of the five competitions:—1st prize, Olympic silver-gilt medal; 2nd prize, Olympic silver medal; 3rd prize, Olympic bronze medal. It is important, therefore, to arouse at once in artistic circles, a spirit of emulation for the creation of original work, which will have the effect of directing art into new channels. All necessary information about dates of entry, the composition of jurys, etc., will be given later. It is sufficient now to state that complete liberty will be given to competitors, both as regards the choice of subject and the form and size of the work, the only conditions imposed being, that this should be new and directly inspired by sport. The aim of the French Olympic Committee is to give to athletic fêtes a character of art and beauty. Athleticism will thus adopt more harmonious forms, and art will gain new sources of inspiration in colour, movement, and rhythm."

It is interesting to note, that the additions above referred to had already formed part of the programme of the Tailteann Games, and that this is an indication that the promoters of the Greek Olympic had something to learn from this country and feel the necessity of extending their programme to complete in attraction with that of Aonac Tailteann.

The British Empire Shakespeare Society (Dublin Branch) announces a public lecture on Thursday next in the Molesworth Hall, Dublin, entitled "The Play of Macbeth: Its Importance as Tragedy," by Mr. Bernard Schillman. The President (Professor Trench) will take the chair at 8 o'clock. A programme of Shakespeare recitals and songs will follow the lecture. It will be remembered that Mr. Schillman gave a lecture on "Shylock" last session, and his address on "Macbeth" is anticipated with much interest.

YESTERDAY'S CASES IN THE COURTS.

INJURED BY MOTOR CAR.

PRISONER'S ALLEGATIONS.

SOLITARY CONFINEMENT.

In the King's Bench Division yesterday, before Mr. Justice Dodd, Mr. Serjeant Hanna, with whom was Mr. Geoghegan (instructed by Messrs. Wm. Smyth and Son), applied on behalf of Mr. Patrick Moore, of Portmanna, Clonee, Co. Meath, for an order giving liberty to serve notice on the military authorities of an application for a writ of habeas corpus. Mr. Moore, counsel said, was arrested on the 24th October, and he had been detained in Trim since that date without any charge being made against him. He had been refused an interview with his solicitor, but a communication had been made by a device with his solicitor, who had made an affidavit. Counsel proceeded to read the affidavit of Mr. Boyle, one of the firm of Messrs. Smyth and Son, in which it was stated that he was informed by Mr. Moore that on the 24th October, at eight o'clock in the morning, he was raided by a party of National soldiers and taken prisoner to Trim Military Barracks, where he had once been kept in close confinement for being in possession of a fowling piece and 12 cartridges. Prior to the raid being carried out, Mr. Moore had called at Portobello Military Barracks for the purpose of getting a permit from the National military authorities. He had a note on the back of a visiting card of his own from Mr. Sean Milroy, T.D., recommending that he should get a permit. When Mr. Moore called at Portobello Barracks he was told to call back in a day or two, and they would attend to him. Owing to the pressure of business, Mr. Moore overlooked the matter, trusting that the permit, which he had in his possession, from the British military authorities would be sufficient to show that he was entitled to have firearms for the protection of his person and property, coupled with the fact that he had already applied to the National Army authorities, and informed them of the fact that he had a fowling piece and required a permit for it. On being brought to Trim Barracks, Mr. Moore wrote three letters to Commandant Sean Boylan to know when he would be tried and also offering substantial bail for his appearance in any Court that might be fixed to hear any charge that might be brought against him; and to none of these letters did Mr. Moore receive any reply.

A FORMER RAID.

On the 27th October Mr. Moore was refused permission to see a solicitor. He wrote two telegrams to Mr. Sean Milroy, T.D., informing him of the matter, and neither of them was allowed out. Since the date of Mr. Moore's arrest he had been kept in solitary confinement, and the military authorities refused to supply him with a knife, fork, or spoon with which to eat his food. Prior to Mr. Moore's arrest about two years ago, he was one of the rate collectors for the County of Dublin. A raid was made on his house for the rates, and he was arrested, taken away, and kept a prisoner for three days when he escaped. On that occasion Mr. Moore refused to part with the rates, but offered to give the money, which amounted to a large sum, to Mr. Friel, the then Chairman of the County Council. Mr. Moore was quite satisfied that his incarceration was the result of a vendetta against him by men in Trim Military Barracks.

ISSUES RAISED.

He (Mr. Boyle) first went to the Home Office and saw Mr. Friel, who undertook to communicate with the Ministry of Defence with a view to getting Mr. Moore liberated. He first communicated with Mr. Friel, as he was aware that Mr. Friel was perfectly cognisant of Mr. Moore's past history and of the raids that had been made on him. On each morning when he rang up to find out the result of their inquiries he was informed that the matter was still being attended to, and still nothing was being done. It was now almost three weeks since Mr. Moore was arrested, and no charge of any sort had been preferred against him.

Mr. Justice Dodd said that Mr. Serjeant Hanna had raised two distinct issues—one the right to habeas corpus, and the other the right to have the prisoner interviewed in jail.

Mr. Serjeant Hanna said that he would take one order governing both issues, so that the Government might have specific notice of the application that they proposed to make.

Mr. Justice Dodd said that it was a very important case, and he would like to have the issues very clear in the order. He made an order giving leave to serve notice of application for a writ of habeas corpus, and, if the military authorities declined to allow the solicitor to see the prisoner, giving leave to serve notice of an application for an order that the solicitor for Mr. Moore be allowed access to him, subject to any general rules relating to prison regulations.

A NENAGH CLUB.

ACTION BY TRUSTEES.

In the Chancery Division yesterday, before Mr. Justice Powell, in the action of Frank R. Moloney and John Dooley against Patrick J. Caddell and others, and against the Nenagh Commercial Club and the Ancient Order of Hibernians,

Mr. C. S. Campbell (instructed by Messrs. C. J. Reddy and Son) applied on behalf of the plaintiffs for an order for discovery of documents. He moved on the affidavit of Mr. Moloney, who stated that the action was being brought to recover moneys expended by the plaintiffs as trustees of the Nenagh (65) Branch of the Ancient Order of Hibernians for the preservation, maintenance, equipment and management of the property that was vested in them as such trustees. The writ of summons was served on the secretary of the Nenagh Commercial Club, on John D. Nugent, and the A.O.H. (Board of Erin) in March, 1921, and all the defendants, with the exception of Henry F. Powell, entered an appearance. In the affidavit it was stated that there was in the possession, power, or procurement of John McSweeny, the last secretary of the Nenagh Division, minute books and records, accounts and receipts, correspondence, etc., relating to the appointment of the plaintiffs as trustees, and to the acquisition of the property, showing that the plaintiffs made payments and incurred liabilities for, and at the request of, the division. He believed that when the Commercial Club was formed the members thereof entered into possession of the premises, furniture, and other property and documents of the Nenagh Division. It was necessary for the plaintiffs' case that the documents in question should be discovered.

Mr. Justice Powell made an order for discovery against the Nenagh Commercial Club, against the A.O.H. and Mr. J. D. Nugent.

On the application of a representative of Mr. James O'Brien, solicitor for the club, a cross-order for discovery was made against the plaintiffs.

AGREED DAMAGES.

Before Mr. Justice Pim and a city special jury yesterday, the action brought by Mrs. Aimee Wilkinson, of Newtown, Co. Meath, against James Mongey, of Enfield, in the same county, was tried. The plaintiff claimed damages for personal injuries, caused to her by the alleged negligent driving of the defendant's motor car on the public road near Trim, Co. Meath, on the 20th November, 1921. The plaintiff was being driven in a pony trap, when the motor car ran against the trap and overturned it. The plaintiff was thrown out on the road, and amongst the injdries which she sustained was a fracture of the base of the skull. She was confined to her room for two months, and had been, according to her statement of claim, for twenty-six weeks prevented from attending her occupation. For medical and surgical attendance, nursing, medical appliances, etc., she incurred expenses to the amount of £135.

The defendant, in his defence, denied negligence in the driving of the motor car, and that it was in consequence of such negligence (if there was such) that the plaintiff suffered any injury. He also alleged contributory negligence on the part of the driver of the plaintiff's pony trap.

Mr. Denning, K.C.; Mr. Lardner, K.C.; and Mr. Murnaghan (instructed by Mr. F. C. O'Reilly) appeared for the plaintiff.

Mr. Battersby, K.C., and Mr. James Henry (instructed by Messrs. O'Neill and Collins) appeared for the defendant.

After evidence on both sides had been given, the parties agreed to a settlement, and the case was withdrawn from the jury. The defendant agreed to pay to the plaintiff £825, to cover damages and costs.

RAIDERS IN A SHOP.

PROPRIETOR'S NARROW ESCAPE.

An armed raid on the licensed premises of Denis Mordaunt, of 33 St. Albans road, Dublin, led to the appearance in the City Police Court yesterday of a young man named James Ryan, of 45 Newmarket. The accused was charged with having conspired with others not in custody to rob by force and violence while armed with a revolver.

The case for the prosecution was that Ryan, with another man, entered Mr. Mordaunt's shop and "held up" the assistant, Miss May Reid, by presenting a revolver at her. A further charge was entered against the prisoner of having attempted to murder Mr. Mordaunt and of robbing the shop safe of £5.

Miss Reid said that when the men came into the shop one of them said, "Whisht; don't open your mouth." The witness called Mr. Mordaunt, who caught one of the men behind the counter and knocked him down. Ryan fired three shots at Mr. Mordaunt while he was struggling with the other raider. The bullets pierced some jars and biscuit tins in the shop.

Evidence of identification was given against the prisoner by Mr. Mordaunt and John Butler, a messenger boy.

Mr. Collins, K.C., returned the prisoner for trial to the City Sessions.

POLICE KEPT WAITING.

PUBLICAN'S FEAR OF A RAID.

For failing to admit policemen on duty to his licensed premises after closing hour, John J. Murtagh, publican, of 28 Eden quay, was fined £5 by Mr. Cooper, K.C., in the Dublin Police Court yesterday. It was stated that defendant failed to admit a sergeant and constable at about 11.40 p.m. on Saturday. Looking through the window, the sergeant said that he could see a man behind the counter pulling a cork from a bottle. On going to the rear he saw men leaving from the direction of the back entrance.

For the defence it was pleaded that a fortnight previously when the door was opened after closing time armed men rushed in and "held up" the assistants. Fearing a similar outrage on the night that the police came, it was thought better not to open the door.

In imposing a penalty of £5 Mr. Cooper remarked that, though there was something in the point about the raid, it had been shown that the defendant was aware of the presence of the two police outside the door.

BETTING IN A STABLE.

A SMART FINE.

Charged with using a stable for betting purposes, Daniel Doyle, described as a "licensed carman," was fined £15 by Mr. Collins, K.C., in the Dublin Police Court yesterday. It was stated that the stable, which is at 15 Fitzwilliam square, had been used by the defendant for the purposes mentioned on several dates within the past six months. Fifty-three betting dockets were discovered by the police.

BIG CATTLE TRADE LAW SUIT.

The decision in an action involving a sum of almost £2,000 and a like sum in expenses was given in the House of Lords last week. The successful pursuing parties were Strathmore Auction Co., Ltd., of Glasgow, who sued the Scottish Live Stock Association for the above-mentioned sum. During a portion of the period of the war, cattle and sheep were graded, the commission was pooled, and the auctioneers were paid according to their pre-war revenue. It appears the pursuing company handled all the surplus stock coming to Glasgow, and their action was for remuneration for doing so. The defending Association contended that this should also have been pooled, but, although an adverse decision had been given in the lower Court, the House of Lords were unanimous in its finding for the Strathmore Company, with all expenses.

WEATHER FORECAST.

General Inference.—The anti-cyclone is now central over the British Isles, and tending to move northwards. Fair, settled conditions are likely generally, with mist or fog inland. More air movement than of late is, however, anticipated over the Southern counties of England, where the fog is not likely to be so widespread during the day.

Ireland.—Wind indefinite, light; fair generally; mist or fog inland in most places; rather cold inland; moderate temperature near coasts.

South-Western seaboard—Mouth of Channel to South-Western Ireland; Irish Sea and St. George's Channel; North-Western seaboard—Northern Ireland to Hebrides—Winds indefinite, mainly light; fair generally; visibility mainly good; sea slight or smooth.

NEWS SUMMARY.

IRELAND.

A young woman driving in a trap in which there were several men was shot dead yesterday in an exchange of shots with national troops in County Cork.—(P. 8.)

At the inquest on the national soldier who was killed in the ambush at Dalkey on Monday night, the jury returned a verdict of wilful murder against unknown persons.—(P. 9.)

GREAT BRITAIN.

Polling takes place to-day. Some 200 results will be announced to-night and the remainder to-morrow.—(P. 7.)

ABROAD

The Governments of London, Paris, and Rome have agreed to a preliminary exchange of views before sending delegates to the Lausanne (Near East Peace) Conference. Ismet Pasha is alarmed at the prospect of an Allied agreement and is on his way to Paris to meet M. Poincaré.—(P. 7.)

Strong earthquake shocks were felt in two districts in Chili on Monday night, but no damage is reported.—(P. 7.)

The Social Democrats, having refused to enter the Coalition with the People's Party, the German Government has handed in its resignation.—(P. 7.)

Germany, in a Note to the Reparations Commission, makes proposals for stabilising the mark. These include a moratorium, together with an internal loan of 500,000,000 gold marks.—(P. 7.)

There opened in Athens yesterday the trial of Greek ex-Ministers and a general on charges of high treason which led to the débâcle in Anatolia.—(P. 7.)

SPORTING.

At the Curragh yesterday Ischevaha won the Killashee Plate, Corfie the Scurry Plate, and Ali Shar the November Plate.—(P. 4.)

At Leicester Blackland won the Leicestershire Handicap Plate.—(P. 4.)

COMMERCIAL.

London Stock Markets were higher, and most of the rises were held to the close.—(P. 11.)

Loanable credits were none too plentiful in Lombard street, and very little was done in discounts. There was a sharp recovery in the leading foreign exchanges.—(P. 10.)

Dublin Stock Market was firm and busier.—(P. 11.)

The British Elections.

Yesterday the British election campaign closed in a flood of speech by some thirty leaders of various parties. To-day the polls will be open from Plymouth to the Orkneys, and before to-morrow night the result of the great contest will be known to all men. From the mere standpoint of figures this will be the biggest one-day election in history. Fifty-seven members have been returned unopposed to the new House of Commons, and 558 seats remain to be filled by the votes of 20,000,000 electors. For these 558 seats there are 1,386 candidates. The election is even more remarkable, however, for its political character than for its dimensions. No vital question of policy is before the country; no clear-cut issue is at stake. The Labour Party, indeed, has pinned its faith to the disastrous principle of a capital levy; but, however that principle may fare at the polls, it is not likely to have a decisive effect on the verdict. All the other parties offer virtually the same programme to the electors. All are agreed upon the necessity of certain things—a curtailment of Britain's commitments in foreign affairs, a close alliance with France, improved relations with the United States, strict economy and the encouragement of industry at home. In effect, to-day's election is mainly a question of men. It is, perhaps, the most personal election in the whole record of British politics. To which of the rival statesmen can Britain most safely trust the execution of the common programme?

Britain's answer is hardly in doubt. The late Government fell because its supporters in Parliament became profoundly distrustful of its head—not of his capacity or patriotism, but of his mentality and methods. Mr. Lloyd George had won such autocratic power by his personal gifts that he refused to believe that he could be dispossessed at all. Some of his colleagues—like himself, brilliant and masterful men—shared his indignant, but perfectly honest, astonishment when the crash came. Their first appeals to the country reflected their confidence that it would redress a shocking blunder and would vindicate "brains" against the revolt of "mediocrity." They are wiser men to-day. The country welcomed the downfall of the Coalition with a sigh of relief. It welcomed the prospect of a return to the safe and familiar methods of party government. Mr. Lloyd George has thrown himself into the fray with his customary vigour, and has enjoyed fine "receptions" in the provinces; but he will be the leader of a minority in the next Parliament; and that minority will be held at every turn by the opposition of the probably larger minority that Mr. Asquith will control. It is certain that the Conservatives will be the largest party in the new House of Commons. Mr. Bonar Law's policy of tranquillity has commended itself with daily increasing force to a country which desires tranquillity and believes that it can be achieved by plain, straightforward, unambitious government. There is, indeed, a substantial probability that the constituencies to-day will give the Conservatives a majority over all other parties.

In his speech at Glasgow on Monday Mr. Bonar Law asked the country to give him a working majority. It is not necessary to assume that in all circumstances Mr. Lloyd George's party would oppose a Conservative Government. He has hinted at the possibility of co-operation. Mr. Chamberlain and Viscount Birkenhead retain each a foot in either camp; and, as we have said, the two programmes are nearly identical. Nevertheless, no Government whose existence depends on the support of another party can have any feeling of security or any real sense of power. It is compelled to keep itself in office by a series of bargains and compromises which offer a constant temptation to the restlessness of political intrigue. As Mr. Bonar Law said at Glasgow, a Conservative Government which is not sure of a working majority will be sure of nothing. It will be weak at home, and its chance of making its influence felt in Europe will suffer a corresponding diminution. The ideal result of to-day's elections would be a strong Conservative Government, free to co-operate at suitable times with Mr. Lloyd George's party, and faced by an Independent Liberal Opposition which would be sufficiently formidable to keep it vigilant and united. The calculation of the Conservative headquarters in London is that a majority of forty-five is the minimum that will give the Administration a sense of power. We believe that it is Ireland's, as well as Britain's, interest that at least this margin of security shall be obtained.

The American Debt.

In spite of the fuss and bustle of the general election, Britain is finding time to pay her debts. To-day the Treasury will pay another £10,000,000 to the United States on account of war debts. This is the second monthly instalment of £10,000,000; but, unlike the October payment, it is being devoted not to the reduction of interest, but to the reduction of capital. Although £10,000,000 every month would mount up quickly, a long time must elapse before the American debt of nearly £1,000,000,000 could be squared in this fashion. The debt must be funded with the least possible delay. But for the fall of the Coalition Government Sir Robert Horne probably would have been in the United States at present, negotiating with the Funding Commission, which was established in the early autumn. The Americans, apparently, have a funding scheme cut and dried, and it involves not only Britain's debt, but also the debts of France and the other Allies. It provides for a minimum interest of 4½ per cent. and a minimum period of twenty-five years for the completion of the operation. Neither of these figures seems to us to be practicable. The rate of interest is far too high, while the period of payment is far too short. If, and when, Mr. Stanley Baldwin goes to America, he will be faced with the task of persuading the War Debts Funding Commission to modify its terms. A short-term funding operation would do more harm than good, and the losses which Britain would suffer in her efforts to serve a high rate of interest would re-act appreciably on America's welfare. The United States must continue to trade with Europe in order to keep the vast army of American workmen in their jobs. Europe's prosperity, more particularly the prosperity of the British Isles, will contribute to America's progress; but Europe's collapse or bankruptcy would paralyse it. Britain, by paying to the limit of her over-taxed capacity, is ready to do her share in the promotion of more intimate relations with the United States; America must do the rest. If the two nations can put their financial dealings on a basis which will be satisfactory to both peoples, a great stride will have been made towards that Anglo-Saxon unity which ought to be the aim of every English-speaking man. At present the war debt is a far greater barrier between Britain and America than the Atlantic. It has been responsible, directly or indirectly, for most of the suspicion and bitterness which have been poisoning the wells of Anglo-American friendship since the Paris Peace Conference.

A Racial Question.

The Supreme Court of the United States has decided that a Japanese cannot become a naturalised American citizen—that under the Constitution the privilege is reserved to the "white," or Caucasian, race. It was not expected that the Court's decision would be otherwise. Whether the original inhabitants of Japan, who still survive in the North under the name of the hairy Ainu, are Mongolians seems to be uncertain; but that the Japanese is of Asiatic stock is not to be doubted. It does not follow, however, that, because the United States Supreme Court assures him that no suggestion of racial inferiority is intended, the Japanese will be satisfied with the ruling. He regards himself as aggrieved not because he is refused United States citizenship, but because he is rejected while others are being admitted. Moreover, Japanese citizens of the United States are being born every day in the Hawaiian Islands. Indeed, in a few years the electorate of the islands will be eighty per cent. Japanese. In many instances families of young Japanese are American citizens; yet their parents must remain alien in the land of their children. While these are hard cases, nobody really doubts the wisdom of the framers of the Constitution in limiting citizenship to Europeans. Even in California East and West cannot meet. The time is approaching rapidly when a change will be made in the Constitution of the United States in the direction of limiting, rather than extending, citizenship. Immigration is curtailed already on a percentage basis. It will soon be confined to a few nations which, in the opinion of the American people, will contribute the most desirable attributes to the composite stock.

Gamblers in Currency.

Vienna correspondents report that the collapse of the mark has sent the "profiteers" thronging to Berlin in such numbers that the harassed Consular officials in Vienna cannot cope with their importunities. These carrion crows, gathered about the disintegrating carcasses of expiring eagles, are not "profiteers" in the ordinary sense of the word. They are speculators who have acquired the mysterious sense which enables them to track down an obscure, but profitable, deal as unerringly as a pig unearths a truffle. Some, indeed, are content to take the obvious advantages offered by a suddenly collapsed currency. They live on the fat of the land for a nominal sum, and invest their money in readily exportable and readily re-saleable merchandise. There are plenty of bargains to be had, and these gentlemen may be seen at every frontier, green with terror lest the hawk-eyed Customs officials should take suddenly to searching their socks. They are, however, the small fry of the profession. The bigger men acquire merchantable trinkets merely as a hobby. Their principal business is the buying and selling of exchange. How they do it is beyond the knowledge of common men. It is to be observed, however, that a falling currency—the mark, for example—does not descend evenly. It drops heavily, then stops suddenly, recovers brightly for a day or two, and starts to fall again. The hesitation and the brief improvement are engineered by the speculator. The international exchange gambler takes big risks; but for the most part he does very well out of his dubious trade.

CHRYSANTHEMUMS.

NEW VARIETIES AT LONDON SHOW.

The bright warm tints of autumn flowers formed a spot of colour in the grey fog-laden atmosphere of Vincent square, London, where the Royal Horticultural Society's Show was held yesterday afternoon.

The exhibition was largely composed of chrysanthemums and carnations, with a sprinkling of orchids and late fruit.

In the section devoted to new forms, two excellent chrysanthemum novelties came out in "Oriole" and "Mrs. M. Hunter," both of the single variety and yellow in colour.

The former is a clear lemon, with four or five rows of florets of splendid size, and good firm centre. "Mrs. M. Hunter" is of a deeper shade, and has wider petals; it also is of good shape and habit. Both were awarded the Society's Award of Merit.

The large Japanese varieties were well represented in a wide range of shades. Of the yellows the well-known "Princess Mary" is still one of the largest—with blooms well over twelve inches in diameter, as well as one of the most generally satisfying.

Singles brought out a number of very attractive varieties, one of the most commanding of which was "Sandown Radiance," a rich crimson of fine size and shape, with a deep orange centre.

A silver gilt Banksian Medal was awarded to Baron Schroeder for a large stand of chrysanthemums, composed chiefly of the smaller decorative types, with several new Japanese seedlings.

Perpetual flowering carnations were a fine section, including many choice kinds. Several of the newer forms were in evidence on the stand arranged by Messrs. Stuart and Lowe. "White Pearl," the sweetly-perfumed holder of two Awards of Merit, is most attractive. Two quite new forms were also on view in "Arras Grove." The variety was named as lately as last Saturday by Lord Inverforth. It will be brought out next year.

In every grade of industry, among employers and employed, among manufacturers, shopkeepers and financiers, there is at this moment a passionate desire to be left alone.—Sir E. Mackay Edgar, Bart.

WHAT AN ELECTION COSTS.

The general topic of conversation at present in England and Scotland, and in a lesser degree in this country, is to-day's British Parliamentary election. General elections are, as a rule, costly items. It would, at this juncture, then, be interesting to inquire what the probable cost of such an election might be.

Many years ago the expenses incurred in electioneering contests were so extravagant that Parliament, in its wisdom, enacted that henceforth every candidate should furnish a detailed account of the money expended on his behalf. For reasons best known to themselves, many of our legislators and would-be legislators declined to fulfil the requirements of the law.

The compiler of the return has thought it worth while noting that the returning officer at Waterford received only thirty pounds from each of the successful candidates, and twenty-five pounds from the unsuccessful ones; out of which sum, after paying all expenses, he had but ten pounds eighteen shillings left to pay himself for his trouble.

At the University of Oxford no official charges whatever are made, whether the seats be contested or not; and the same rule obtains at the University of London, all expenses being charged to the Parliamentary vote for the University. In Scotland the returning officers receive nothing for themselves, not even being repaid their outlay for travelling and other personal expenses; an arrangement evidently to the mind of the officer concerned with the election for Tipperary, who claimed and took nothing for his valuable services.

Were the official charges the only ones to be met, men owning but moderately filled purses might have a chance of winning their way into Parliament, which is scarcely possible as things really are. In the smaller constituencies money melts in a mysterious way; and to fight the political battle in a large constituency forty years ago ran into thousands of pounds, even where economy was the order of the day.

Apart from the unavoidable or official expenses, representing the cost of polling booths, ballot boxes, advertising, stationery, clerks, sundries and fees to returning officers, the amount in contested elections ranged from about £26 in a Yorkshire borough to £1,861 charged in the city of Manchester.

In county contests, "hire of conveyances" was, according to the return, a formidable item, since many voters had to be brought from far distant places, and it was nothing uncommon for two thousand pounds to be spent in that way.

In the general election of 1880, which was, perhaps, one of the most exciting elections of modern times, when Gladstone, after his memorable Midlothian campaign, was returned for that constituency, the "average cost per vote polled" by some of the more notable members of the Legislature was Gladstone, £1 14s. 1d.; Lord Hartington, 13s. 10d.; Sir William Harcourt, 10s. 8d.; Mr. Chamberlain, 2s. 1d.; Mr. Forster, 3s. 9d.; Lord George Hamilton, 8s. 11d.; Mr. Goschen, £1 9s. 5d.; and Lord Randolph Churchill, £2 4s. 2d.

At this election fifty-nine, out of eighty-three, English counties, or divisions of counties, were contested at a cost altogether of seven hundred and eighty-one thousand pounds; one hundred and seventy-four borough elections entailed an expenditure of £627,000. The Scottish elections extracted £198,000 out of the pockets of politicians, while £104,000 were distributed among the Irish constituencies. The Welsh counties and boroughs cost politicians £101,000, thus making a total of £1,811,000. To this something considerable must be added for the missing returns, when we shall be within the mark of setting down the costs of a general election—the perfectly legal costs only—at the enormous sum of £2,000,000 sterling. To-day, as then, what the actual cost is one may guess, but no one will ever know.

COURT AND PERSONAL.

To-morrow afternoon Princess Louise, Duchess of Argyll, will open a sale in Brent House, London, which has been organised by Lady Butler in aid of the Irish Distressed Ladies' Fund. The Marchioness of Sligo, the Countess of Arran, Viscountess Fitz-Alan, Lady Dunsany, Lady Mary Crichton, Lady Evelyn Ward, Lady Henry, and Lady Stanley will be among the stall-holders.

* * *

The Marchioness of Londonderry is expected to return to Mount Stewart from London at the end of this week. The Earl and Countess of Ossory are settled in London for the winter. Captain Cecil and Lady Doris Gunston have returned to London from Biarritz, and have taken a house in Southwick place, Hyde Park. Admiral the Hon. Victor and Mrs. Stanley will leave London shortly for Monte Carlo, to visit Mr. and Mrs. H. Burroughes, who have a villa at Cap d'Ail.

* * *

Lord and Lady Greville are at the Connaught Hotel, London, where they will stay until Christmas. Sir Richard and Lady Musgrave will spend the winter at their house in London. They are at present on a visit to Mr. and the Hon. Mrs. Baring at Market Harborough. Major and Mrs. Kerr Smiley have returned to their house in London for the winter.

* * *

The Earl of Carrick, who succeeded his father, the sixth Earl, in 1909, celebrates his forty-ninth birthday to-day. The title of Viscount Ikerrin, now borne by the heir, was conferred in 1629 on Sir Pierce Butler, Kt., a collateral descendant of the Ormonde line, and in 1748 the eighth Viscount was made an Earl. The present peer married the only daughter of the late Lieutenant-Colonel H. Gore Lindsay, of Glasnevin House, Dublin. The heir is their son, born in 1903, and the second heir is his twin brother, the Hon. Horace Somerset Butler.

* * *

The marriage arranged between Mr. R. B. Waddell and Miss Irma Pratt, daughter of Mrs. Dallas Pratt, present address, 32 Ashley Gardens, S.W. 1, will take place very quietly at St. Andrew's Church, Ashley place, Westminster, on Saturday, December 9th, at 2 p.m. All friends will be welcome at the church.

* * *

The engagement is announced between Harry Lancelot Neligan, son of Doctor J. W. Neligan, Kells, Co. Kerry, and Norma Constance, younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Cox, Derryhale, Dundalk, Ireland.

* * *

A marriage has been arranged, and will take place in January, between Wellesley G. Despard and Gertrude, youngest daughter of the late Maddison Wall Fisher, M.D., Coote terrace, Mountrath, Queen's County.

* * *

Dr. E. J. Watson has returned to 25 Fitzwilliam place.

* * *

Dr. T. A. Neill Watson, Islington, Terenure road, has removed to 26 Albion street, Hull.

* * *

Miss Barry will be at 25 St. Stephen's Green until Wednesday.

* * *

Mrs. Jeffers has returned to 302 Great Brunswick street.

LONDON LETTER.

FRANCE AND BRITAIN.

59 FLEET STREET, LONDON,
TUESDAY NIGHT.

The situation regarding the Near East crisis seems to be easier, thanks to an improvement in the relations between France and Great Britain during the past twenty-four hours. News comes from Paris that the French Government has now allowed it to be known that it is ready to associate itself with the employment of force in the Near East, if the Kemalists should violate the Mudania agreement. This rather implies that a common ground for unity has been found, and makes it probable that Lord Curzon will meet M. Poincaré in Paris on Saturday and then will proceed with him to Lausanne, where they will meet Signor Mussolini. These probable arrangements, however, will not fall in with the views of the Turks, who threaten to withdraw from the conference if confronted with a pre-arranged compact. Unity among the Allies is the very last thing the Turks want to see, and, if they can prevent it by bluff, they will. How far they will be able to bluff remains to be seen. It is not difficult to forecast that a determined front on the part of the Allies will speedily cause the Turks to climb from the very high tree on which they have exalted themselves.

The air in London to-day was weighted with about one hundred tons of fog, and everybody realised the fact. The fog is so general that it extends right away to Germany, where conditions are much the same as they are here. Late last night the fog greatly increased in density, and theatre-goers found some little difficulty in reaching home. Many suburban trains were over an hour late in reaching their destinations. The air was a little lighter this morning, and railway traffic was not greatly impeded, though many workers were late owing to the slow movement entailed on locomotion generally. It is feared that the weather of to-morrow will be much the same as it is to-day; for the forecast indicates fog generally.

If the weather forecast for to-morrow proves to be correct, the election may reasonably be described as a step in the dark; for it is said that the fog is to be general, and possibly much thicker than it has been to-day. Many people fear that such weather may make a great difference to the polling, particularly in the case of the women voters; but it may be recalled that the polling day in the recent municipal elections was one of the wettest days for many months, and yet the women turned out in force to vote against Labour.

THE FIRST RESULTS.

It is hoped that the first election results to-morrow night will come to hand about half-past nine, but the bulk can hardly be issued until between eleven and half-past one. In some thirty boroughs, however, the counting will not take place until Thursday. As far as can be seen, about two hundred results will be made known to-morrow night, and (including the unopposed returns) the composition of nearly half the new House of Commons will be revealed.

Red rowdyism in the East End of London has over-reached itself, and it is now said that there is a decided reaction against the violence displayed at Conservative and Liberal meetings. A well-known election agent said to-day that the ill-advised operation of roving bands of "Red" youths and young women had done the Conservative cause more good than harm. The law-abiding elector has been greatly disgusted by the exhibition of rowdyism and the almost total denial of free speech. The women particularly are resentful, and they may make their feelings patent to-morrow at the polling stations. A warning has been issued by the agents generally that all women voters should poll early in case of a recrudescence of rowdyism after dusk.

A few months ago, when the Coalition was daily growing more unpopular, the Labour Party believed that it would return from the general election the strongest body in the House, and was already beginning to allocate the seats in the first Labour Administration. The change of Government greatly diminished its expectations, but still left it confident of securing two hundred seats. Now it is not expected to secure much more than half that number.

The downfall in its hopes is attributed chiefly to the capital levy, and it is not difficult to believe the story that after the election an attempt will be made to fix the responsibility for inserting this particular folly in the party programme. Recently Labour candidates have said as little about it as possible, while some have repudiated it altogether. Mr. Ben. Tillett is one of these, and another is Mr. Cash, a chartered accountant, who is Labour candidate for Saffron Walden. It will be interesting to see whether the electors of Saffron Walden "will keep the Cash and let the levy go."

COSMOPOLIS.

London is a place of many nationalities, as we learn at election times. In parts of the East End it is necessary for a candidate to have a working knowledge of Yiddish if he desires to make a personal canvass, and I see that the Liberal candidate for Holborn (which includes the Italian colony in Saffron Hill) has thought it worth while to issue a special edition of his address in the native language of the ice-cream vendors and organ-grinders who have votes in the division.

The general election has brought a certain amount of prosperity to the Post Office; for it is estimated that the total number of election addresses and polling cards and other correspondence will amount to something like one hundred million letters. Only one of these communications may be sent free under the Representation of the People Act, 1918; all the others have to be paid for. It was estimated that at the last general election nearly fifty million unpaid packages were sent, which, if charged for, would have brought the Post Office well over £100,000. This time the number of candidates is very much greater, while there are more electors. In London quite four million free communications have already been sent.

THE PARLIAMENTARY MEMORIAL.

The Prince of Wales has consented to unveil the Parliamentary War Memorial on Wednesday, the 22nd, the day preceding the King's State opening of the new Parliament. The Memorial, a handsome tribute in stone, some thirty feet by fifteen feet, is in Gothic style, and the work of Sir Bertram Mackennal. It is erected in St. Stephen's porch, immediately beneath the great window facing the south end of Westminster Hall—one of the most conspicuous sites that could have been chosen within the building, as all visitors must pass it directly on their right on their way to the central lobby. Some two hundred names are carved in the stone, being those of members of both Lords and Commons, officials and staffs of both Houses, their sons and grandsons who lost their lives in the Great War. The cost of the Memorial has been subscribed by members of the late Parliament and by the officers and staffs connected with St. Stephen's.

After a long illness Mr. G. H. Chirgwin, known all over the English-speaking world as "The White-Eyed Musical Kaffir," died to-day. Most people who enjoyed his entertainment probably thought that his name was assumed, but it was his real patronymic, and is not uncommon in Cornwall, whence he originally came. The "white eye," his right to which he once had to defend at law against a would-be usurper, was the result of an accident. One day he got some dust in his eye, and, in rubbing it, brought away some of the burnt cork. The audience laughed when they saw the odd patch, so Chirgwin tried the same thing again, and ultimately made the "white eye" his professional trade mark.

NEAR EAST PEACE PRELIMINARY.

ALLIES TO COMPARE NOTES.

CONFERENCE ON SUNDAY.

ISMET ALARMED AND HURRIES TO PARIS.

The Governments in London, Paris, and Rome have arranged to exchange views, through the usual diplomatic channels, on the Near Eastern situation. Lord Curzon will meet the French Ambassador in London; M. Poincaré will have informal conversations with Lord Hardinge in Paris; and the Marquese della Torretta, the new Italian Ambassador to London, who is expected in a day or two, will put the views of his Government before the British Foreign Minister.

If the conversations proceed satisfactorily, and no sharp conflict of view is apparent, Lord Curzon will go to Paris, probably on Friday night, and have an interview with M. Poincaré. The two Ministers will leave for Lausanne on Sunday and will meet Signor Mussolini, who cannot leave Rome until the end of the week. At this interview it is hoped and believed that the general basis of an agreed policy will be found, and the Allies will then be able to meet Ismet Pasha in formal conference early in next week.

The announcement of these preliminary inter-Allied conversations has, however, produced a bad impression among the members of the Turkish delegation, who are already at Lausanne; and they declare that, if they are confronted with decisions taken without their participation, they will withdraw altogether. Ismet Pasha is so perturbed that he left Lausanne last night for Paris, where he will arrive to-day and ask to see M. Poincaré.

STEPS TO SECURE A UNIFIED POLICY.

The conversations between M. Poincaré and Lord Hardinge in Paris on Monday were continued in London yesterday between Lord Curzon and the French Ambassador, and resulted in an agreement under which preliminary discussions between the Allies will take the form of Notes, which will be followed by conversations between Lord Curzon, M. Poincaré and Signor Mussolini.

A British Note was despatched to Paris and Rome yesterday, giving the list of points along which agreement, prior to the Lausanne Conference, is desirable, and also the British views.

The new Italian Ambassador in London will place Lord Curzon in possession of Italy's views, and if, as seems probable, a general basis of agreement is reached in time, Lord Curzon will go to Paris next Friday and have an interview with M. Poincaré.

The French Premier and the British Foreign Minister will then proceed together to Lausanne, where they will meet the Italian Premier.

The British position still is, that a reasonable agreement as to the basis on which the Allies are to meet the Turks must be a condition precedent to the Lausanne Conference. Lord Curzon still insists that he will not agree to the opening of the Conference until the Allies know definitely where they stand, and have agreed upon a common programme.

The Government has received M. Poincaré's views on the situation; these show that the French Prime Minister is in agreement with this country in stressing the supreme necessity for a united Allied front.

Further, it was learned authoritatively last night that M. Poincaré, in his talk with Lord Hardinge on Monday, not only cleared away the myth about a serious divergence of view between the British and French Governments in regard to the Near East, but gave an assurance that if the Turks attacked, the French troops would do their part alongside the British troops.

In other words, he is extremely anxious to avoid conflict, but will not shrink from cordial co-operation with the other Allies in any action forced upon them. Furthermore, the attitude of the Allies regarding the question of evacuation is based upon the terms of the Mudania Convention, which clearly stipulates that Constantinople shall not be evacuated until a definite peace treaty has been concluded between the Allies and Turkey.

It is known that Ismet Pasha is going to Paris, but the British Government has the assurance that M. Poincaré will enter into no negotiations of any kind with him in reference to the Near Eastern situation or the Lausanne Conference.

ITALY DETERMINED TO BE HEARD.

Signor Mussolini, the Premier of Italy, is unable to leave Rome before next Friday, owing to the political situation there, but the Marquis della Torretta, the newly-appointed Italian Ambassador to London is expected to arrive in England this week. He will see Lord Curzon and lay before him the views of the Italian Government.

Italy's determination to take part in any preliminary discussions is shown in the following telegram from our Correspondent in Rome, dated yesterday:—Upon being informed that the British Foreign Office had invited M. Poincaré to go to London for a preliminary understanding between England and France on the Lausanne Conference, Signor Mussolini immediately advised London that Italy should take part in any such preliminary meeting. Without waiting for an answer from London, Signor Mussolini requested the Marquis della Torretta, a former Italian Foreign Minister and the newly appointed Ambassador, to leave for London immediately to represent Italy.

TURKISH CIRCLES DISCONCERTED.

An Exchange telegram from Lausanne says that the news that the Allies are to have preliminary conversations has created a bad impression among the members of the Turkish delegation, and Ismet Pasha had decided to go to Paris that (last) night to interview M. Poincaré.

The Press Association's Special Correspondent also telegraphs from Lausanne:—The position of affairs between London and Paris with reference to a preliminary meeting of the principal Allied Powers before the opening of the Conference, and the comments of a section of the London Press hinting at the possibility of a further adjournment of the Conference, in order to enable the Allies to co-ordinate their policy before coming to Lausanne, are impressing, not to say disconcerting the Turks, who are most anxious for an early meeting.

Ismet Pasha leaves to-night by the Simplon express for Paris. He will be accompanied by Rashid Bey, Rafet Bey, Hunir Bey, the legal adviser, a personal Aide-de-Camp, and a secretary.

Ismet Pasha proposes to spend only one day in Paris.

They say that M. Poincaré is most anxious to meet Ismet, and that this desire was made known to him by the French authorities on the day of his arrival in Lausanne, but he evinced some hesitation in accepting. However, the matter was definitely settled after a long conversation last night between Ismet Pasha and Ferid Bey, the Angora representative in Paris, who came to Lausanne for the purpose, and who is returning to Paris to-night with Ismet Pasha.

AMERICA CAN HELP.

ISMET PASHA TO HIS "BLOOD BROTHER."

IRISH TIMES FOREIGN SERVICE.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

LAUSANNE, Tuesday.

"I wish America would play a major rôle in the Lausanne Conference," Ismet Pasha, head of the Turkish Nationalist Delegation, told me. The new Turkey is a great democracy like America, and with almost identical ideals—besides, we are blood brothers on the question of prohibition," he added, with twinkling eyes. "We have a 'dry' law like the one in the United States, the only difference being that we enforce ours."

The Pasha, who is rather deaf, speaks French hesitatingly. He is accompanied by a leather-lunged Turk, who shouts every question into his ear, insuring that the Conference will at least be a noisy one.

"Turkish troops have never violated the neutral zone as established at Mudania," Ismet Pasha insisted.

"Will Turkey insist on Russian participation in the Conference?" I asked Ismet. To this the diplomat of Kemal's Government would give no reply, but he referred back to Turkey as a great democracy.

"Our struggle for years has been a direct revolution towards democracy," he declared emphatically. "We have probably become the most republican country in the world. The Sultan opposed the independence of the Turkish people, and therefore he has been removed. The Caliphate, which is the spiritual Rulership of the Mussulman world, will remain in Constantinople, but thereafter the Caliph will have no temporal power whatever over Turkey.

"Westerners cannot appreciate the significance of this changed direction in the oldest dynasty in the world. The Caliphat will remain in the Osman family, of course. However, the late Sultan, on account of his political attitude, is eliminated."

"Are you going to Paris before the Conference?" I asked him.

"Well, I am here," the Turkish leader replied enigmatically.

"NO SEMBLANCE OF INTERFERENCE."

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, Tuesday.

There is much concern among Government officials over the reported attitude of Turkish Nationalist leaders against what they regard as interference by the United States in Turkish internal affairs in the Near East tangle. Some despatches from Constantinople mention a "new Note" received from the Secretary of State, Mr. Hughes, which displeased the Nationalists because of reference to the so-called capitulations.

It is made plain here that no Note has been sent to the Nationalists or the Turkish Government, and that the United States has refrained from any semblance of interference in internal Turkish affairs, although it has been on guard to protect the legitimate rights of Americans in the Near East. It is officially explained that any anger on the part of the Nationalists with America must be due to a misunderstanding.

ANGORA AGGRESSIVE.

"NAGGING CONSTANTINOPLE."

IRISH TIMES FOREIGN SERVICE.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

CONSTANTINOPLE, Tuesday.

While Rafet Pasha declares the situation now completely established, Angora is continuing to nag Constantinople, and is addressing new demands to the Allies to permit the passage of troops to Thrace. They are also renewing their demands to occupy the city.

A list of prohibited luxuries three feet long went into effect to-day, and a "bone dry" city is promised after the lapse of one month.

As the result of special pleading by Raouf Bey, Angora has decided to retain all the sixty thousand old Government officials in their positions in Constantinople at the cost of four and a half million pounds (Turkish) monthly, but huge numbers of these have been given indefinite leave of absence. With an Oriental sense of humour, however, Angora has decided to double the luxury and stamp tax in Constantinople to pay the bill.

Instructions have been forwarded to Ismet Pasha at Lausanne to proceed immediately to Paris, after he has presented his credentials at Lausanne, to arrange for a Protocol governing Constantinople and its administration.

I learn that Angora has concluded a "Fraternity" Treaty with Persia, and has revoked the law prohibiting marriage between Turks and Persians.

RUMOURED OUTRAGE IN ANATOLIA.

Reuter's Constantinople Correspondent telegraphs:—Rumours of grave happenings in Brusa (Anatolia) have been current during the past three days. It is alleged that the Kemalists broke into a French convent and pensionat, and assaulted the Sisters, one of whom died in consequence of the brutal treatment to which she was subjected. The French Consular Agent has been despatched to Brusa to investigate the rumours.

SURPRISE FOR FRANCE.

A RECORD REVENUE RETURN.

The October revenue report has come as a pleasant surprise to the Inland Revenue officials of France. It shows an excess over estimates of nearly 60,000,000 francs, whereas the previous months of this year all showed deficits. As compared with October, 1921, the receipts are 197,000,000 francs up, while the total for the first ten months shows an increase of 1,614,000,000 this year. The revenue receipts for last month exceeded 1,502,000,000, a figure that has never before been reached in French history.

The business tax yielded more than 208,000,000 francs; stamp duties showed an increase of nearly 130,000,000 francs, and indirect taxes exceeded the estimate by nearly 20,000,000. The income tax yielded over 175,000,000, and the war profits tax more than 147,000,000 francs.

SUICIDE FOLLOWS DIVORCE

NEW YORK BANKER'S LAST LETTER TO HIS WIFE.

IRISH TIMES FOREIGN SERVICE.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

NEW YORK, Tuesday.

Mr. Jesse Wassermann, a member of a prominent New York banking and Wall street firm, committed suicide by shooting himself with a revolver in a bath-tub filled with water in his hotel here.

By the side of the bath he left a note addressed to his wife, whom he divorced, and who is now living in Baden, Germany, stating that he killed himself because of the "barrenness of life without you."

Reuter adds that the firm has since failed.

GERMAN MINISTRY RESIGNS.

REICHSTAG MAY BE DISSOLVED.

SOCIAL DEMOCRATS THE CAUSE.

The German Government has fallen.

The Social Democrats, at a meeting last night, says The Times Berlin Correspondent, decided by a large majority to refuse to remain in the Government if the German People's Party were included in the Coalition.

Dr. Wirth at once placed the resignation of the Cabinet in the hands of President Ebert.

The possibility of a dissolution of the Reichstag and of new elections is thought in political circles here to have been brought nearer.

A Reuter Berlin telegram says that President Ebert has accepted the resignation of the Cabinet.

JAPANESE STINNES.

GIFT TO AID GERMAN CHEMICAL RESEARCH.

IRISH TIMES FOREIGN SERVICE.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

BERLIN, Tuesday.

Japan, which has bought up many valuable war secrets from Germany since the armistice, is giving another gift—this time, one of 36,000 yen (about £4,000)—to aid German chemical research.

Shortly after the armistice the Japanese Government astonished the intelligence officers by attempting to discover the war secrets that the Germans were withholding from the Allied Commission by giving 100,000 yen to German chemists.

The new gift has been made by Hajimy Hoshi, a Japanese chemical magnate, who entertained the leading German chemists here, including Professor Haber, famous for high-explosive inventions, and others known for their researches of gas and other phases of chemical warfare, at a banquet attended by the Japanese Ambassador.

Among the Germans present were Herr von Leverkusen, President of the German Chemical Manufacturers' Association; Herr von Simons, former Secretary of State, and Herr Schmidt-Otto, head of the Amalgamated German Scientific Society.

Hajimy Hoshi, who is referred to in the local Press as the Japanese Stinnes, was a graduate of Columbia University twelve years ago, and borrowed 200,000 dollars to start a drug store in New York. He now controls a big pharmaceutical manufacturing plant in Japan.

He announced to his guests the startling progress made in chemical manufacture in Japan, asserting that the Nippon industry was becoming independent in the making of basic products.

Hoshi left to-day for Frankfurt, where he will personally inspect the big chemical plants there.

ELECTION DAY.

200 RESULTS BY TO-NIGHT.

MR. BONAR LAW'S SEAT

LABOUR EXPECTS A VICTORY.

THE LAST WORDS.

Polling	To-day.
Declarations	To-day and to-morrow.
Parliament Meets	Next Monday.
State Opening of Parliament	Thursday week.

By to-night Mr. Bonar Law will have an idea whether it will be possible for him to carry on his ministry. All the parties went to the polls to-day hopeful of the return of their candidates.

During the past few days optimistic bulletins as to the probable result of the General Election have been issued from the headquarters of the four main parties who are contesting the 558 seats.

The main fight is between the Conservatives, the Liberals, and the Labour Party, who are represented as follows:—

Conservatives	444
Independent Liberals	339
National Liberals	138
Labour	412

Already 57 M.P.'s have been returned unopposed, and the present state of the parties is as follows:—

Unionists	42
Liberals	5
National Liberals	5
Labour	4
Nationalist	1

In the last Parliament there were 375 Unionists, and Mr. Bonar Law requires the return of at least 228 of his followers to-day in order to secure a majority of 45, which would just about suffice to give it a reasonable stability.

The capital levy proposal, according to the candidates themselves, has severely affected the chances of the Labour Party, and, if they succeed in securing the election of a quarter of their nominees, the majority of independent observers who have followed the campaign will be surprised.

The Independent Liberals—the supporters of Mr. Asquith—will undoubtedly go back in greater force—a round hundred is Sir Donald Maclean's estimate; while Mr. Lloyd George does not seem likely—owing to the split vote in many constituencies—to have more than 50 adherents.

THE KING'S INTEREST.

Very complete arrangements have been made to inform the King of the results of the polling, and the existing telegraphic facilities at York Cottage, Sandringham, are being added to on this occasion, while a special staff of skilled telegraphists and telephonists will be provided by the General Post Office.

His Majesty takes keen interest in the result of a general election, and arrangements are now being made to indicate to him the representative strength of the various parties as these are recorded in London.

FESTIVITIES IN LONDON.

To-night promises to be a great festive occasion in the West-end of London.

Gala suppers and dancing will be the order of the evening, and everywhere outside at points of importance, as well as inside all the principal hotels, arrangements have been made to show the results as they are declared.

The Savoy will have 1,200 diners, and dancing will take place in the great ballroom. Four huge ladders will record the state of the parties as the election results come through. Four similar ladders will also be arranged in the foyer. Individual results will be shown on two immense boards.

Special arrangements have been made by the various companies serving the suburbs to run special late trains and buses to take home the crowds after the results are announced.

BY WIRELESS, TOO.

People in England who have wireless installations, however, will stay at home and learn the declarations in comfort, for the results are to be sent out broadcast from Marconi House.

No remarkable announcements were made by any of the leaders in the final speeches which were delivered last night, and the Capital levy proposal of the Labour Party was again the principal theme.

THE PRIME MINISTER'S SEAT.

The election campaign in Glasgow closed with all the parties in a state of feverish excitement. Each of the fifteen divisions of the city was contested, and, except the Labour men, few ventured a prediction.

Keen observers consider that a marked change has been wrought in the situation by the House of Lords' decision on the House Letting Act.

This is claimed as a great victory for the Labour Party, who exploited the decision in every constituency with an effect which has not escaped attention in Unionist circles.

An intensive campaign was carried out last night in the Central Division, where the Labourists and Independent Liberals strained every nerve to defeat the Prime Minister.

Sir George Paish has made an energetic fight, and, with the Labour candidate at his heels, it was difficult to forecast the result.

That Mr. Bonar Law fully appreciated the situation was apparent from his appeal to the electors, and his ridicule of an opponent's leaflet on the rent decision.

Labour is hopeful of capturing the six seats in the city, in addition to the two earmarked as their own; but Mr. Smillie's estimate of ten Labour members for Glasgow is regarded as too sanguine.

MR. CHURCHILL AGAIN HECKLED.

Mr. Churchill, though still in somewhat feeble health, finished his brief campaign by addressing four meetings last night in different parts of Dundee.

The effort meant considerable strain, and occupied about three and a-half hours. In the main he was well received, but at some of the gatherings there were hostile elements, who heckled him with vigour.

Mr. Churchill dealt with the principal current political problems, and returned to his hotel at a late hour none the worse for the ordeal.

EX-PREMIER'S NINE SPEECHES.

Mr. Lloyd George's tour finished at Bristol last night, when he delivered his ninth speech of the day and the fortieth of his tour.

OVER 200 RESULTS TO-NIGHT.

Results of over 200 polls will be declared late to-night or in the early hours of to-morrow morning.

In this total will be included the results from 39 London boroughs or divisions, some 130 English boroughs, about a dozen English county divisions, eight Welsh boroughs, and about 19 Scottish burghs.

NORTHERN ELECTIONS.

OUTLOOK IN FERMANAGH AND TYRONE.

Everything is ready for the polling in Fermanagh and Tyrone and Londonderry City and County. All the candidates are well supplied with motor cars, and so far as the Unionist electors are concerned, it seems probable that there will be an exhaustive vote.

The Nationalist and Sinn Fein agents in Tyrone-Fermanagh have been exceedingly busy during the last three days, and they believe that their candidates will be returned by a majority of 5,000. The Unionists expect to lose one of the seats.

In Londonderry the return of Sir Malcolm Macnaghten (Unionist) is regarded as certain.

Speaking at a meeting of his supporters in St. Columb's Hall, Londonderry, Captain Edmund Loftus, the anti-partition candidate, referred to the leaflets and posters which had been circulated stating that the local Sinn Feiners repudiated him.

He was, he declared, a better Sinn Feiner than those who had repudiated him. There had not been a leader of the Irish race during the last fifteen years who could not testify to his work for the nation. He was an absolutely independent candidate, and he asked the electors to cast their votes for the only policy which could bring peace to Ireland

SONG BY MELBA

ENSURES A HEARING FOR SPEAKERS.

PRIMA DONNA ON TORY PLATFORM.

Madame Melba appeared on a Conservative platform at Southampton last night. She had just begun to speak when a man shouted, "Give us a song, Nellie," and the cry was taken up by the whole audience.

The famous singer said that she would sing "Home, Sweet Home," on the understanding that she and the other speakers were given a good hearing. The bargain was kept.

Earlier in the evening the Duke of Northumberland, who was the principal speaker, was subjected to continual interruption.

A section of the audience sang "Don't go down the mine, Daddy," and "The Miner's Dream of Home," while another shouted, "What about your mining royalties?"

The Duke said that they were a bad investment, and he wished he could get rid of them.

THE LAST WORDS.

SPEECHES OF PARTY LEADERS IN BRIEF.

MR. LLOYD GEORGE:

When I tell you that it is a mistake to make an attack on private enterprise—and that is what a capital levy means—I am saying that, not in the interests of the rich and of the millionaire, but in the interests of the multitude of people who depend for their daily bread upon the machinery of trade and commerce of this country. Let us work for practical progress, and not for wild and visionary schemes. It has been my aim throughout life to help the suffering.—At Stockport.

The Labour Party has committed itself to the most stupid programme that ever was put before the electors—a policy which, if it were listened to, would involve the nation in irretrievable disaster.—At Bristol.

DUKE OF DEVONSHIRE.

I am confident of the country's vindication of the present Government. It is essential that Mr. Bonar Law's Party should have the genuine support of the House of Commons. I am convinced that its work will be useful to the country, unattended by fireworks though it may be. The result of the polling will show whether or not the country believes that in sacrificing the Coalition it lost the best administrative brains.—At York.

SIR GEORGE YOUNGER.

The change in Government is a blessing to the country, and it is a good thing that your "cabin boy" was useful when the ship was driving to the rocks and the skipper was in difficulty. Under Mr. Bonar Law's Government there will be no alarums or excursions, but steady, sober, solemn administration, and, if necessary, well thought out legislation which will not create too much industrial disturbance.—At Ayr.

LORD PEEL.

Assist in returning a party to power so strong that it will be superior to all other parties, and thereby remove the temptation to enter into unhealthy bargains in Parliamentary life.—At Taunton.

SIR A. BOSCAWEN.

The Conservatives are the only party which can govern the country to-day, and it will do so on principles which will restore confidence and prosperity, and in that way cure unemployment.—At Taunton.

VISCOUNT GREY:

If democracy does not succeed no other form of government will succeed. If as a result of the election no one party obtains a clear majority, then I agree that there must be some sort of a coalition to carry on the government. If so, then I want a different coalition from the last one. I do not want the same men and the same sort of coalition back again, because I am sure they will pursue the same unstable policy.—At Berwick.

VISCOUNT CAVE:

The country is glad that Coalition has gone, and that there is a straight fight. The Government is not going to worry the people with theatrical tricks. It is going to do its duty by meeting emergencies as they arise without disturbance.

MR. CHAMBERLAIN.

Mr. Henderson has declared that his Newport speech was misreported, but his explanation of what he said, which appeared to-day, made it clear that whether or not he stated the Labour Party would make war on private industry, that was what he meant.

Under nationalisation we would see a great army of officials directing affairs from London, who would allot workers to specified industries, and order what work they were to do. Mr. Henderson proposed that many retail shops were to pass under Government control.

What is the world going to be like when nationalisation has been carried? Was there ever a madder scheme? Women would not be able to buy what dresses they liked, because the State would give them no choice. To abolish private enterprise would kill the mainspring of industry. The men who invite working classes to treat capital as an enemy were as foolish as the man who sat on the branch of the tree while he sawed it through.—At Birmingham.

MR. J. H. THOMAS:

After all the revelation we have had of Cabinet Ministers calling each other liars and revealing Cabinet secrets it is no wonder that abroad their word is not accepted; their prestige is so low that they are mistrusted by our enemies and suspected by our friends. I ask Mr. Bonar Law if he will stop the trickery existing to deprive men of pensions. Medical boards have no other reason for their existence.—At Derby.

MR. J. R. CLYNES:

The Premier's final words are as empty as his first. There is no programme or policy having relation to the realities of our internal or international troubles. All we get is a vague traditional Toryism, mingled with a plea for impossible tranquillity. The Premier's proposal for the present problem is like sending a village fire brigade to extinguish a prairie fire. The opposition to capital levy shows that the rich men are not facing their obligations as the poor men faced their obligations during the war.

VISCOUNT LONG:

What is wanted is work. More could be done to ensure work by a Near East settlement than by anything at home, and Mr. Bonar Law's Government gives the greatest hope of such a settlement. The electors must choose between the Conservative policy of a steady, moderate progress, of peace abroad, and prosperity at home, and the Labour policy of taxing wealth and levying on capital—a policy which could only lead us into a morass of disappointment and despair.—At Swindon.

MR. ASQUITH:

We should cut our losses in Mesopotamia and make an end of a bad job. The speedy adjustment of international claims is essential. I hope that the new Government and Italy and France will reach a final ascertainment of the amount, mode, and time of the payment of reparation. I predict that unless Germany is granted a moratorium to establish her to stabilise her currency the conditions will plunge from bad to worse.—At Paisley.

EARTHQUAKE AT CHILE.

BIG SHOCKS, BUT NO DAMAGE REPORTED.

According to advices which were received yesterday from Santiago de Chile, strong earthquake shocks were felt at La Serena at 10 o'clock on Monday night, and at Constitucion at half-past ten.

An Exchange Company's message to New York from Buenos Ayres confirms the report of the earthquake at Constitucion, which it describes as a big shock, but says that no damage was caused by

TO-DAY'S LONDON PAPERS.

THE PEOPLE'S ASSIZE.

IMPORTANCE OF THE POLL.

"THE TIMES" OF TO-DAY SAYS:—

With the opening of the polling stations this morning the war period closes. Four years of disappointment lie behind us. To-day's voting may decide whether the coming years shall be marked by quiet achievement and by the restoration of the country's strength at home and abroad. Though the revolt against the Coalition Government was led by the Unionist Party in the constituencies, and was consummated with the help of the present Prime Minister, it found approval in circles wider than those of any party. The appeal to the electorate which the new Government immediately made is in truth an appeal to the country to say how it wishes its affairs to be managed in future, and with a view to the future. The answer to the appeal should, therefore, be deliberately prospective. We trust it may be so clear that none can question its meaning.

If the electors of the country desire straightforward government in an increasingly normal workaday world, they should to-day vote so as to place power and responsibility fairly upon the shoulders of the Unionist leaders. Had circumstances placed in office a purely Liberal Government, with the prospect that it might secure a Liberal majority at the polls, we should probably have recommended electors to support the Liberal cause. We should rejoice to see a strong minority of Liberals returned to Parliament under the leadership of men whose record has proved their devotion to the public welfare. Infatuation like that which in 1918 rejected Mr. Asquith, and triumphantly elected Mr. Horatio Bottomley, is not a healthy phenomenon in any body politic.

Similarly we hope that sound representation of the wage-earning section of the community will not be curtailed, however much it may be distributed among the existing parties, and however wholesome a rebuff to the advocates of dissembled Communism would be.

NEAR EAST.

FRANCO-BRITISH ARRANGEMENT.

Though the situation at Constantinople remains critical, it is hoped that it may be possible for the Allied representatives there to carry on without a breakdown, states The Times. On Monday M. Poincaré received Lord Hardinge, to whom he admitted there was room for an inter-Allied consultation before the Conference, so that we could reach agreement, and that if the Turks attacked at Constantinople, French troops would do their part alongside the rest. He then discussed at some length how a preliminary conference could be arranged.

A discussion also took place between the French Ambassador in London and Lord Curzon, with the result that the following arrangement was reached. The preliminary discussion is to be by means of writing. The British are preparing a list of the different points on which they think the Allies should be agreed, and their views thereon, which will be sent to Rome as well as to Paris. There is every reason to believe that the Italian position is just as satisfactory as the French, so that if things go as is hoped in London, a substantial sort of roughly-blocked agreement should be available in a few days, which will show how we are going to stand at Lausanne.

NAVAL ECONOMY.

SIR PERCY SCOTT'S PROTEST.

Admiral Sir Percy Scott, in a letter to The Times, writes:—Just now, when all the would-be members of Parliament are screaming to the voters that, if elected, their policy will be "Economy," it is, as Mr. George Lambert very mildly put it, "disquieting to hear that the Admiralty are still thinking of building two more battleships that are not wanted." It is more than disquieting, for it will be a wanton, wicked waste of the taxpayers' money. No one can deny this statement of mine, but to get our votes all the candidates are now bellowing "Economy."

The question of the utility or otherwise of battleships was discussed in your columns for some months, and no one could state what the use of a battleship will be. All naval officers and many other people who have taken the trouble to study the possibilities of the new weapons know that the proposed battleships will be of no use for war purposes. They will only be an expensive incubus to the nation. We shall get what we do not want at the expense of what we do want. Why is a department of our defence allowed to run riot with the taxpayers' money? If the many millions that these ships will cost have got to be spent to help unemployment, why not have something useful for it—cut a canal across Scotland, and so connect the North Sea with the Atlantic Ocean?

THE STOCK EXCHANGE.

MARKETS MORE CHEERFUL.

Although business in Stock Markets yesterday remained on a small scale, the general tendency was very cheerful, largely owing to the further improvement in the foreign exchanges and hopes of a substantial Unionist majority at to-day's election, states The Times. Conversion Loan was notably firm among Investment Stocks, and some fairly substantial advances occurred among Home and Argentine Railway Stocks, while French Bonds responded to the rise in the franc.

In the more speculative markets, Oil and South African Shares were also favourably influenced by firmer advices from Paris

EX-MINISTERS' TRIAL.

CHARGED WITH CAUSING GREEK COLLAPSE.

IRISH TIMES FOREIGN SERVICE.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

ATHENS, Monday Night.

The trial of the "Greek traitors" who are blamed for the recent Greek disasters commenced before the Revolutionary Tribunal in the Hall of the Chamber of Deputies to-day. The accused men, MM. Gounaris, Theotokis, Stratigos Goudas, and General Hadjienesti, appeared calm, but their pale faces betrayed hidden trouble and worry.

M. Gounaris was seated on the same bench from which, as Prime Minister, he spoke in favour of ex-King Constantine. The Revolutionary Commissary, seated on the desk formerly occupied by Venizelos, read out the charges to the accused men. The substance of these was that the prisoner took from M. Venizelos Greater Greece, and handed over to the enemy Ionia and Thrace, with munitions, fortresses, etc. All were accused of high treason.

The accused men objected to the mode of trial, and argued that politicians are judged by a special tribunal nominated by Parliament, and not by a revolutionary tribunal not provided for by the Constitution.

The Revolutionary Commissary replied that revolutions create their own law, which is superior to written law.

The objections of the defendants were disallowed.

DR. SOPHIE BRYANT'S WILL.

FORTUNE OF £11,676.

Mrs. Sophie Bryant, D.Sc., the first Irishwoman to obtain the London degree of D.Sc. (formerly head mistress of the North London Collegiate School for Girls), who was found dead on Montanvert, near Chamonix, Switzerland, on August 14, aged 72, left £11,676.

BOYS INJURED BY EXPLOSIVES.

Bernard Tracey, aged nine, was admitted to the Adelaide Hospital last night at 10.15, suffering from injuries to the head, caused by the explosion of a firework.

Peter Kelly, aged twelve, 135 Francis street, was wounded in the arm last night about 9.30, by the explosion of a hand grenade. The grenade had been taken from the Liffey, and a number of boys were playing with it, when it exploded in Kelly's hand

TO STABILISE THE MARK.

NEW GERMAN NOTE.

REICHSBANK'S OFFER.

MORATORIUM SOUGHT.

AN INTERNAL GOLD LOAN.

Germany has sent a Note to the Reparations Commission setting forth proposals for stabilising the mark.

One of these is a three years' moratorium, and in connection with it Germany announces that the Reichsbank is willing to participate in an internal loan of 500,000,000 gold marks.

At the same time Germany demands a definite settlement of the reparations question.

NEW PROPOSALS.

SETTLEMENT PROSPECTS.

The German Note to the Reparations Commission contends, says Reuter's Berlin Correspondent, that final stabilisation of the mark is possible only after the question of reparations has been definitely settled in accordance with Germany's capacity to pay, but since Germany cannot wait for such final settlement, she proposes a provisional settlement.

This, says the Note, cannot be achieved by Germany alone, and foreign assistance is requisite. The Reichsbank has declared its readiness to place five hundred million gold marks at the disposal of the Government for the purpose of stabilisation.

The stabilisation project depends upon the following conditions:—

First—Germany must be freed for three to four years from all payments in cash or kind under the Treaty of Versailles, though she will continue to make deliveries in kind for devastated areas in so far as they do not entail any increase in the floating debt.

Secondly—Germany considers that she must receive a minimum of five hundred million gold marks from foreign banks.

The foregoing conditions are considered necessary by the Reichsbank prior to giving five hundred million marks from its reserves. The money advanced by foreign banks and by the Reichsbank will be adminstered by an independent board.

As soon as the process of stabilisation is sufficiently advanced, the German Government will issue an internal gold loan. Half the product from the internal loan and the full yield of the foreign loans will be utilised to cover payments in cash and kind under the Versailles Treaty, and the other half of the proceeds from the internal loan will be applied to the requirements of Germany's own budget.

WHAT WILL BE DONE.

These measures will enable Germany to balance her own budget, to check any increase in floating debt, and to discontinue the discounting of Treasury bills with the Reichsbank.

Germany states, moreover, that she will abolish all dispensable debts, reduce the number of officials, avoid unproductive expenditure, restrict legislation which entails additional expenditure, and re-organise Government enterprise on a productive basis.

Germany will take all requisite measures to increase production, while retaining the eight-hour day as a normal working day, and will restrict the importation and consumption of luxuries and alcohol.

When the stabilisation of the mark has been effected foreign States must, on the other hand, abolish the restriction on the importation of German goods caused by the fall in the mark.

Moreover, Germany must be granted equal economic treatment in all respects.

For the purpose of executing the foregoing plan, Germany proposes:

First—A final settlement of Germany's obligations as soon as possible, that these obligations, together with the service of the loans, can be met from the surplus on the Budget.

Secondly—Freedom from payments in cash and kind under the Versailles Treaty, with the above-mentioned reservations.

Thirdly—Convocation of a conference of international financiers with regard to bank credit to be accorded to Germany; and Fourthly—The adoption of suggestions of the German Government regarding equal economic rights for Germany.

TO-DAY'S GREAT RACE.

A RECORD ENTRY.

Our London Correspondent has received the following communication from a sporting gentleman, not unknown in Ireland:—

To-day takes place the great handicap sweepstake of the year, known as the Election Stakes of £400 apiece. As is well known, it is run over a course of 615 yards, and the venue is the United Kingdom. Such world-famed obstacles as Constantinople, Mesopotamia, anti-waste, unity with France, reduction of income tax, and no capital folly have to be negotiated, and thus it may well be compared with the Grand National course.

The following record entry has been secured, and the places drawn by the competitors are as follow:—

1—(Inside) Conservatives.
2—Asquithian Liberals.
3—Labour.
4—Lloyd George Liberals.
5—Nationalists.
6—Independents.

After much thought, the handicapper has come to the conclusion that in a straight-run race entrants should start as follows—The Conservatives at scratch, the Asquithian Liberals on the 350 mark, and National Liberals on the 400 mark.

The two babies—Nationalist and Independent—are to toddle off from the 560 mark. The public are asked to make their bets early, as there is sure to be a rush to get on just before flag-fall.

Extra accommodation will be provided at the fence named "The Capital Levy Folly," as it is expected that Labour will take an Imperial toss over it. We would hesitate to give a "nap" selection, but probably in a close-run race Conservatives will win by a short head.

NINE ULSTER COUNTIES.

ONE AREA IN REVISED WAR PENSIONS SCHEME.

Under a reorganised scheme, the Counties of Antrim, Armagh, Cavan, Donegal, Down, Fermanagh, Londonderry, Monaghan and Tyrone have been established as a war pensions area, and the local committees have been dissolved.

The new committee will consist of 25 members (not less than four to be women), and will include five representatives of disabled men discharged during the war, one representative of women in receipt of pensions as the widows or dependants of men who have died through war service, five representatives of the local authorities (Antrim County Council 1, Down County Council 1, Belfast County Borough Council 2, Londonderry County Borough Council 1), six representatives of employers and workmen in industry in equal numbers, and five representatives of voluntary associations engaged in the care of ex-servicemen and their families in the area.

The meetings of the new body will be quarterly.

A letter from the Ministry of Pensions, London, detailing the scheme was read before the Belfast Committee yesterday afternoon, when it was intimated that the 18th December was the date for the establishment of the new committee for the entire Ulster area.

OVER 500 INTERVIEWS.

ULSTER DELEGATES IN BRITAIN.

Two hundred Unionist delegates, about half of whom are ladies, returned to Belfast yesterday from Great Britain, where they had interviewed the candidates in the General Election. Their mission was to secure pledges from candidates that the rights of Ulster would not be interfered with.

The delegates were welcomed at a breakfast given by the Ulster Unionist Council in the Y.M.C.A. building.

Lady Craig, who presided in the absence of the Prime Minister, congratulated them most heartily on the success of their mission.

Mr. A. W. Hungerford, Secretary to the Ulster Unionist Council, in his report, stated that the delegates since leaving Belfast on 30th October covered the whole of Great Britain from Land's End to John o' Groats. All the groups worked at very high pressure, and in the short time at their disposal the delegates had over 500 interviews with candidates and their agents. Their interviews were not confined to Conservative candidates, but included representatives of all political bodies.

GOVERNMENT'S THANKS.

Reports were then given by the delegates, who referred to the work accomplished in several areas.

The Right Hon. H. M. Pollock conveyed to the deputation the thanks of the Northern Government. He said that they had fought many battles together in the course of Ulster's history, and engaged in many campaigns. They had had defeat temporarily, but somehow or other they had always managed to secure ultimate victory. There seemed to have been a special providence behind Ulster in her many difficulties. Providence, it was said, helped those who helped themselves, and it was in that spirit the deputation had gone forth to fight the battle in Great Britain. They had informed the people of Great Britain that there was such a place on the map as Ulster. It was common knowledge that there were a lot of people who did not know there was such a place as Ulster, although there was hardly a spot on the face of the earth but there was an Ulsterman.

Captain C. C. Craig, M.P., also joined in the welcome, and said that it was the duty of the Ulster Party in the House of Commons to carry on the good work which the deputation had begun.

Major H. Robinson read an address to Mr. Hungerford recording the high appreciation of the Ulster Delegation of his arrangements.

Lady Craig then presented, amid applause, an epergne to Mr. Hungerford, while Mr. Hunter was made the recipient of a rose-bowl, and Miss Bullick a brooch.

A hearty vote of thanks was passed to Lady Craig, on the motion of Sir Dawson Bates.

A BORDER FIGHT.

"SPECIAL" OFFICER'S STORY.

The story of a fight between Ulster Special constables and ten armed men along the Louth-Armagh border line was told yesterday afternoon at a Special Court in Forkhill (Co. Armagh), when Denis Lavelle, of Tullydonnell, a retired schoolmaster, and his son, Thomas, were jointly charged with being in possession of two revolvers and thirty rounds of ammunition, without having a permit.

The Court was presided over by Major Dickie. District Inspector McFarland, prosecuted, and Mr. O'Connor, Crossmaglen, defended.

The District Inspector stated that originally the charge against the accused was one of having firearms and ammunition with intent to do bodily injury, but it was now reduced, on the instructions of the Attorney-General, to having the arms without a permit.

A captain, who had been in the Ulster Specials on the 14th October, deposed that on that date he was patrolling the Tullydonnell area with a Lancia car and a Crossley, and stopped outside the defendants' house, which was about 50 yards inside the border. He dismounted, and was walking towards the border with a sergeant when he heard a challenge, followed very closely by fire from rifles and automatics. He went towards the house, and as he did so he saw the remainder of his party going up the hill behind the house in extended order. He followed, and chased the men as far as he could to the border, maintaining a good firing position. There was much firing between the parties, and eventually the attackers, who numbered about ten, cleared well into the Free State territory.

He searched Lavelle's house after the engagement, and in an upstair room, in a bed, he found two Sam Browne belts, with two holsters attached—one containing an automatic and the other a Webley revolver. He also found two pouches containing ammunition. The revolver and pistol were loaded. There was an exit from this room to the hills behind, and the bolt on the exit door was closed from the inside. In the hall he found two trench coats, which, the Lavelles stated, must have been left behind by men who had been in the house taking tea.

When Thomas Lavelle, the son, was charged, he said—"I know nothing about it. It must have been left by the men after them. I belong to no society." The father, in a statement, said—"I know nothing of the matter. They must have been left by the men. I would not sleep in the house if I knew they were there. They don't care where they leave these things. I have no sympathy with these parties. I am in sympathy with the Free State, which, I think, will bring peace to Ireland."

In cross-examination, the witness stated that he believed the statements of the men, and he was aware that the people living along the border were constantly visited by armed parties. He had no doubt that Lavelle's house had been used for the usual purpose of levying a meal. He believed that the men who had run out of the house had left the firearms behind them, and also that, with an hour elapsing after the engagement, the Lavelles could, if they knew of the arms and ammunition, have hidden them. The point which puzzled him was that the door was bolted on the inside. He regarded as extremely improbable the suggestion that, of the three men who had been in the house two had cleared off by the door, while the third closed the door after them and went out by the kitchen. He had previously been informed that men had stopped at Lavelle's house, and that no information had been lodged with the police.

Mr. O'Connor—What do you want these people to do—considering that recently the only magistrate in the district (Mr. Johnston) entered his own house and there found a number of men taking tea, with their revolvers lying on the table beside them? What could be done by the people who were harassed by these parties, and who, if they refused tea, might have very serious consequences following that refusal? Lavelle and his son could do nothing against armed men—they had no rifles or war equipment, even if they were inclined to use them.

Mr. Vize, J.P., said that he knew Lavelle for 25 years, and he was a decent, respectable man.

The Captain, recalled, stated that no shots had been fired at his party from the house. The shooting commenced when the armed men were 70 yards away.

The magistrate dismissed the case against the father. In the case against the son, Thomas, he held that a technical offence had been committed, and he ordered his imprisonment until the rising of the Court, and bound him over for six months.

SUPPOSED KIDNAPPING.

MISSING MAN IN THE ARMY.

The Preston Guardians yesterday solved the mysterious disappearance while on holiday in Ireland of John Andrew Kelly, an attendant at Ribchester Workhouse. Kelly failed to keep an appointment with his wife in Sackville street, Dublin, and she believed that he had been kidnapped.

Inquiries by the Dublin police authorities, however, showed that he had joined the Army, and was on active service. The Guardians have refused to pay his salary for October.

THE STOP WATCH.

"You have put the wind up me so much it has stopped my watch," was the exclamation of John William Thompson, aged 19, motor engineer, when surprised by a detective while in a neighbour's house.

Thompson was charged at Kingston-on-Thames with breaking into the house and stealing 5s. on two occasions, and a remand was ordered.

SHOT ON THE BORDER.

INQUIRY INTO JONESBORO' AFFAIR.

Yesterday morning the Commissioner appointed by the Government of Northern Ireland resumed at the Courthouse, Newry, the inquiry which had been adjourned from the 1st of August, relative to the deaths of Margaret Moore, aged 12, and Minnie Connolly, aged 20, both of Edenappa, Jonesboro', Co. Armagh, who were shot dead on the night of Sunday, the 23rd July last, by, as alleged, an outpost of the Royal Sussex Regiment as they and two other girls were returning from the Free State to their homes, just across the border in Northern territory.

At the time the military were searching Moore's house.

Mary Moore, who was assisted in the box by her sister, owing to being lame from the injuries which she received when her sister was killed, said that on the Sunday night in question her sisters Katie and Margaret (the latter deceased) and Minnie Connolly (also deceased) went towards her home, and crossed in single file the "stile" (which leads from Free State into Northern territory) into their field. Minnie Connolly was in front, Maggie second, Katie third, and witness last.

They went down the field in this order, and when they came near the well two shots were fired. They all shouted "We are girls; don't fire," and lay down along the ditch. There was then a silence for about two minutes, and after that a volley of about twenty shots rang out.

Her sister Maggie then exclaimed, "I'm dying, Katie; I know by the way my eyes are going." Minnie Connolly was dead by this time. Witness herself was struck in the left leg and chest. Two soldiers came running up the field with their rifles, and she said to them, "Soldiers, you have shot four girls." They replied, "Why are you out after 'Curfew'?" Witness said it was not after "Curfew."

The soldiers carried Katie and herself to their mother's house, and as they were going towards it witness saw a soldier in the corner of the cornfield with his cap off.

When she reached the house she found there were other soldiers in it, and she said to them: "You cowards, you; you did a good night's work." One of the soldiers replied: "We will give you more lead," or, "We will rip you with lead."

The Commissioner asked the witness to be very particular as to what this soldier said, and to repeat the exact words used.

Witness said that she believed the words were, "We will give you more lead." Her sister was dead at this time.

Replying to Captain Barron, witness said that when she was being carried into the house she admitted saying to the soldiers: "I don't blame you; I blame the officer." They were not challenged or called upon to halt by the soldiers before they were fired upon.

John McAvoy, a farmer living within 600 yards of Moore's house, said that this night his wife directed his attention to dogs barking in the direction of Moore's place. He went out and stood for a short time, when he heard a shot and then a volley, intermingled with screams. He returned into the house and saw by the clock that it was then a quarter to 11 o'clock. The reason he looked at the clock was because he thought it was time to put out the lights on account of Curfew.

Thomas O'Rourke stated that the shooting took place at 10.35 p.m. according to his clock. After the volley he heard someone say, "I am shot."

This concluded the evidence for the day, and the Commissioner adjourned the inquiry until the 16th inst., at Belfast.

QUEEN ANNE'S MODERN INTERIOR.

"SO-CALLED ANTIQUE."

An action involving charges of fraud against a firm of art dealers who, it was alleged, had persuaded a wealthy rubber merchant to spend over £100,000 on furniture that was not antique, as represented, was heard by the Lord Chief Justice and a special jury in London yesterday.

The plaintiff was Mr. Adolphe Shrager, of Kent Lodge, Westgate-on-Sea. The defendants were Mr. Basil L. Dighton, Mr. G. S. Edwards, Mr. James H. Edwards, Mr. A. O. Headley, Mr. H. W. Lawrence, and Mrs. Beatrice Dighton, members of the firm of Basil Dighton, Ltd.

Mr. Disturnal, Counsel for plaintiff, announced that the action would not be proceeded with as against Mr. G. S. Edwards, Mr. J. H. Edwards, Mr A. O. Headley, and Mrs. Dighton, for whom judgment would be entered with costs He could not, and did not, allege fraud against those defendants.

But, with reference to some of the so-called antique furniture, he suggested that there had been a gross fraud. There was a Queen Anne bureau that had been priced at £220. It had an old exterior, but its interior was so modern that it smelt of newly-worked oak. That had been palmed off on to Mr. Shrager. Again, there was a Chippendale card table, the needlework-covered top of which was perfectly modern. "In fact it was a fabrication deliberately put upon my client," said Counsel, to exact £260 from him.

The hearing was adjourned.

ROW ON ARGENTA.

PRISONERS CHARGED WITH ASSAULT.

Trouble between internees on board the Argenta in Larne Lough and members of the crew, was mentioned at Larne Petty Sessions yesterday, when three prisoners named Patrick M'Brien, Patrick Quinn, and Francis Woods were charged by District-Inspector Silcock with assaulting a seaman named Patrick Murphy, who declined to prosecute.

Mr. H. H. Mussen, Assistant Chief Crown Solicitor, who prosecuted, said that although the charge was one of assault, the facts disclosed would, he believed, show something more serious. While the accused were being taken out to the Argenta under escort M'Brien furiously assaulted Seaman Murphy as he was about to make the tender fast to the ship, and it was a miracle that Murphy was not knocked into the sea between the tender and the side of the vessel.

The other prisoners did not actually strike Murphy, but they actively aided and abetted M'Brien. Consequently the police had great difficulty in rescuing Murphy. He (Mr. Mussen) had been instructed by the Attorney-General to attend and press for a severe penalty, if the magistrates found the charge proved.

At this stage, Quinn, one of the accused, asked for an adjournment, as the solicitor whom they had engaged was unable to attend. He produced a telegram to that effect which he had received that morning.

The case was adjourned till 28th inst.

BOMBS IN A PARK.

Twenty-one Mills grenades, five of which were charged but not detonated; an egg bomb, an eighteen pounder shell, part of a Mauser revolver, a rifle bolt, and other articles were found by a park ranger in Dunville Park, Belfast, yesterday morning. Evidently they had been hurriedly dumped by some person who feared a search.

KILLESHANDRA CRIME

YOUNG WOMAN KILLED IN FIGHT.

LIMERICK TRAIN-BURNING.

Armed men on Monday night stopped the Limerick-Nenagh train between Castleconnell and Lisnagry, and set fire to some of the carriages.

A number of men in a trap driven by a young woman near Charleville fired on National soldiers when called upon to halt. The fire was returned, the young woman being shot dead and four of the men captured.

At Drumcarry, near Killeshandra, on Monday night, armed men entered the house of a Mr. Martin when the family were saying the Rosary, and shot a young man dead.

RAILWAY OUTRAGE.

PASSENGERS ORDERED OUT: TRAIN SET ON FIRE.

On Monday night the Limerick train to Nenagh, which was due to arrive at about 8.30, was stopped by armed men between Castleconnell and Lisnagry. The driver and fireman—John Crossen, Nenagh, and William Nolan, Limerick—were compelled to drive the train some distance from the station, when all the passengers were ordered out, and the carriages being sprinkled with petrol, were set on fire. A number of passengers who arrived in Nenagh from Dublin for Limerick, had to remain in Nenagh overnight.

TWO MEN ROBBED.

When returning to Limerick from Grange district two vanmen named Guerin and Foley, the former an employé of the Croom Mills Bakery, and the latter employed at Messrs. Ryan's, mineral water manufacturers, were stopped between Ballyneety and Cahernarry by three armed men, who relieved them of cash amounting to £20.

On Monday night a party of national troops from Charleville came upon a trap driven by a young woman, and containing a number of men, near the village of Newtownshandrum.

On being called upon to halt the male occupants of the trap fired on the soldiers, who replied.

During the firing the woman was shot dead. Four of the men in the trap were captured.

COUNTY CAVAN.

YOUNG MAN MURDERED.

Raiders on Monday night visited the house of Mr. Martin in the Townland of Drumcar, between Killeshandra, County Cavan, and Arva. The family were at the Rosary when the raiders called and shouted "Hands up." One of the family—James—refused to put up his hands, and he was shot. He survived only a short time.

COUNTY WEXFORD.

AMMUNITION DUMP.

Gorey troops, operating under Captain James McCrea, in the Courtown Harbour district, on Saturday night, discovered in a shed on an out-farm at Raheengurrin, a mile from Gorey, an ammunition dump, in which they captured the following: 66 sticks of gelignite, 1 stick of amberite, 1 land mine, 3 stone of blasting powder, 3,000 No. 4 detonators, 2 grenades, 12 full cartridges, 156 empty sporting cartridge cases, 1 box buckshot, 4 rounds No. .303 ammunition, 2 rounds .32 revolver ammunition, 1 carbide tin powder, and 350 electric detonators. The military took possession of the articles.

COUNTY ROSCOMMON.

ATTEMPT TO BURN BOYLE SCHOOLS.

A daring attempt was made to burn the Boyle National Schools on Saturday night. The incendiaries opened a number of windows, through which they piled up a heap of wood shavings, as well as a number of school books, which they set alight. The fire was first observed at 10.30 p.m., and an armoured car was quickly on the scene. They extinguished the fire before much damage had been done.

COUNTY WATERFORD.

SHOT BY ARMED MEN.

BRAVE WOMAN'S STRUGGLE WITH RAIDERS.

An inquest was held at Waterford yesterday on Mr. Charles Reginald Boyce, who was shot dead on Monday evening in his own shop, Michael street, Waterford, by unknown men.

Philip Fanning, shop assistant, was the principal witness. He stated that shortly before 5.30 three men entered the pawnship and asked for Mr. Boyce, who came in almost immediately. One of the men asked to be shown some field glasses. Mr. Boyce complied, and the men selected several pairs, apparently with the object of purchasing. Witness then left, and entered the adjoining saleshop to serve a customer. He heard a scuffle afterwards, followed by the sound of a shot. Witness rushed back to the pawshop, but found his way barred by a man with a revolver. He then ran out on to the street by the saleshop door, and on gaining ingress to the pawnoffice by its Little Michael street entrance, found Mr. Boyce lying on the floor, almost dead. Before witness could gain an entrance to the pawnshop the three men had disappeard.

Miss Annie Boyce, sister of C. R. Boyce, who was in the saleshop adjoining the pawn office at the time of the shooting, related how she was prevented from giving assistance to her brother. Hearing a scuffle, she made a dash for the door dividing the two shops, but was stopped at the opening in the counter by a tall man in a trench coat, who carried a pair of field glasses in either hand, and who shouted loudly for the exit door.

Witness prevented him from gaining the street door, and tried to seize the field glasses. The man in the trench coat knocked her down against the counter, and rushed back into the pawn office, slamming the door as he went. Before she could open this door she heard a shot fired. Forcing her way in at last, she found her brother collapsed on the floor. She saw a man in a trench coat running out of the street door of the pawn office.

Medical evidence showed that a bullet pierced Boyce's heart, and that death was due to hemorrhage.

The jury returned an open verdict in accordance with the medical evidence, and added a rider expressing sympathy with the relatives of Boyce.

COUNTY CORK.

MOTOR CAR FIRED ON

Whilst returning from Mitchelstown via Tullow in a motor car on Monday evening, Messrs. William Broderick and M. Broderick, urban councillors, Youghal, were ambushed near Tallow, County Waterford, machine guns and rifles being used against them. Both men jumped out of the car, one taking shelter behind it and the other behind an adjoining ditch. The driver, M. Lynch, remained in his seat. After ten minutes firing a voice from the opposite hill asked who were there and what the car was. The Messrs. Brodericks were asked if anyone was hurt. They were allowed to resume their journey. The machine gun made a hole in the ditch near the car. All three men had narrow escapes.

COUNTY GALWAY.

ARRESTS BY NATIONAL TROOPS.

National troops from Galway on Monday arrested, near Portumna, the following men on suspicion of having been responsible, with others, for the blowing up of the bridge at Ballycrissane, between Portumna and Eyrecourt—Messrs. Reddan, O'Hara, Melody, Madden, and Nevin. A man named Uhan was arrested yesterday and lodged in Galway Jail. He admitted that he was one of those who lately raided Kilchreest post-office.

HISTORIC RUINS.

THE RESTORATION OF DUBLIN BUILDINGS.

At a Council meeting of the Royal Institute of the Architects of Ireland, held at 31 South Frederick street, Dublin, the President (Mr. Lucius O'Callaghan, F.R.I.A.I.) occupied the chair. There were also present:—Messrs. J. H. Webb, L. F. Giron, F. Hayes, S. M. Ashlin, P. J. Lynch, R. H. Byrne, R. M. Butler, G. P. Sheridan, and G. F. Beckett.

The following resolution was passed unanimously:—

"That the Royal Institute of the Architects of Ireland, recognising the great historic, civic, and æsthetic value of the partially destroyed public buildings of Dublin, such as the Customs House, the Four Courts, etc., desire to place on record their conviction that these buildings should be most carefully preserved, and, as far as possible, restored to their former condition. That, in the meantime, all necessary steps should be taken to protect the walls, etc., from injury by weather or otherwise, until restoration is possible."

Mr. L. F. Giron was again nominated as representative for the Architectural Association of Ireland on the Council for 1923.

It was decided to form a Chapter of the Institute in the Cork area.

A report of the Townplanning Committee was read and adopted.

Arrangements were made for the holding of an exhibition of the Royal Institute of British Architects Testimonies of Study during the week commencing November 20th.

SEIZED UNDER TREATY.

GERMAN PROPERTY IN SOUTH AFRICA.

In the Supreme Court, Pretoria, yesterday, in the case of the Custodian of German Property in South Africa v. the Randfontein Estates, the judge (Sir Arthur Mason) gave judgment in favour of the Custodian, declaring that the German-owned Bearer securities, etc., were property within the Union under the Treaty of Versailles.

It seemed to him that there was no essential legal difference between bearer securities and other obligations in respect of the place in which they could be regarded as being situated. The language of the Treaty seemed to compromise bearer securities within the scope of the confiscatory measures in respect of German property in Allied States.

THE PERFECT FILM FACE.

LONDON-IRISH GIRL'S SUCCESS.

Margaret Leahy, 20 years of age, a beautiful London-Irish girl, residing at 70 Seymour place, Marble Arch, is to be the film protégée of Miss Norma Talmadge. "A perfect film face" is Miss Talmadge's eulogy of the Daily Sketch girl, who will leave for the United States in the s.s. Homeric on November 25th. Her mother will accompany her. On Monday night Miss Leahy had the honour of being presented to the Duke of York at the Marble Arch Pavilion.

"I am very pleased to have this opportunity of congratulating you on your good fortune," said the Duke. "I hope you will be very successful in the profession you have chosen." The announcement that the Duke of York was to see the first exhibition of the film, "East is West," caused thousands of people to assemble outside the theatre.

AN ABBEY SUCCESS.

"CRABBED YOUTH AND AGE."

A delightful little comedy, under the title of "Crabbed Youth and Age," by Mr. Lennox Robinson, was produced for the first time in the Abbey Theatre last night, and was received with an enthusiasm that has given it a recommendation and an assurance of future success.

Mr. Robinson endowed a charming widow with an attractiveness for young men, which entirely eclipsed the fascination of her three eligible and youthful daughters. A Sunday evening in her drawingroom found them deploring the absence of the three male guests who were helping their mother in the kitchen. The girls did not get a "look in," and so some plain speaking to the monopoliser was decided upon.

The sequel is presented in an amusing situation, and at the end of the comedy the audience insisted on the appearance of the author, who eventually was obliged to come forward and acknowledge the reception given to his production.

The comedy was well staged. Miss Helena Moloney was an accomplished Mrs. Swan, and gave a fine interpretation of her rôle. The others in the cast were also excellent. They were—Miss Christine Hayden, Miss May Craig, Miss Eileen Crowe, and Messrs. Gabriel J. Fallon, P. J. Carolan, and Tony Quinn.

The comedy was preceded by Mr. Brinsley MacNamara's three-act play, "The Land for the People." Mr. Barry Fitzgerald, both in make-up and in acting, was the life of the play. He was ably supported by Miss Eileen Crowe, Miss Helena Maloney, Miss Christine Hayden, Miss May Craig, and Messrs. Gabriel J. Fallon, Eric Gorman, Tony Quinn, P. J. Carolan, M. J. Dolan, and H. L. Corrigan.

The pleasure of the performance was enhanced by the selections of the orchestra under the direction of Dr J. F. Larchet.

CARL ROSA OPERA.

The Carl Rosa Opera Company, which continues to draw crowded audiences to the Gaiety Theatre, gave further proof of its merit last night with a performance of "Il Trovatore." A notable feature was the singing of Miss Elsbeth Wakefield in the part of Azucena. Her treatment of the number, "Fierce flames were raging," was dramatic, while her interpretation of the old favourite, "Home to our mountains," was agreeable in expression and style.

Mr. Cynlais Gibbs showed nice voice quality as Manrico, and gave "Strike down that pyre" with good effect. Miss Ethel Austen as Leonora acquitted herself with distinction in "I have loved," and the other well-known numbers. The Miserere chorus was creditably given.

As the Count, Mr. Trevor Evans sang throughout with confidence, while Mr. Joseph Griffin again proved himself a reliable artist in the part of Ferrando. Miss Dorothy Jones as Inez assisted in the success of the performance, as also did Mr. Roy Devereux in the rôle of Ruiz.

The orchestra and chorus under the direction of Mr. John Cope treated the music artistically.

This evening—"Samson and Delilah."

BANK OF IRELAND CLERKSHIPS.
Candidates should note that at the last examination 10 Appointments, with First Place, were gained by pupils of Rosse College, Stephen's Green. First Place gained on 11 occasions.—(Advt.)

EX-R.I.C. MAN'S SUICIDE

UNEMPLOYED AND DEPRESSED.

At an inquest at Brixton (London) yesterday on James Molesworth (27), late of the Royal Irish Constabulary, and living at Stockwell Park road, S.W., it was stated that since he had left the R.I.C., twelve months ago, he had been unemployed, and in consequence had been depressed.

Molesworth was found lying dead on his bedroom floor with a piece of gas tubing in his mouth, the other end of the tube being fixed to a gas bracket. He had written on a telegraph form:—

"The sound of a closing window rings in my ears shutting out life, shutting out all that makes life worth living."

A verdict of suicide whilst of unsound mind was returned.

ROBBED ON A TRAIN.

LONDON MERCHANT LOSES £4,000.

A London woollen merchant, Mr. Philip Greenberg, of Talbot road, east, has been made the victim of a daring train robbery. He was travelling on Monday afternoon on the Great Central Railway, between London and Huddersfield, by the 3.20 train from Marylebone, and in a brown leather attache case had a sum of money in notes amounting to about £4,000. During the journey an empty case was substituted for the real one, apparently while the train stopped temporarily at Leicester.

It has been ascertained that a fashionably-dressed man and woman occupied the same compartment as Mr. Greenberg, but they broke their journey at Leicester and got out of the train. The station police at Leicester were immediately informed, and could find no trace of the missing case.

A description of both the man and woman was furnished, and messages were despatched to London warning the police to be on the look out for them.

RACE AGAINST DEATH.

SHIP'S DASH TO SAVE A DYING MAN.

Captain H. L. Look, commander of the steamship President Garfield, of the United States Lines, related to our Queenstown Correspondent on his arrival in that port an interesting story of how the ship's surgeon treated by wireless telegraphy a seaman who was suffering from pneumonia on the s.s. West Norranus, which, at the time, was about one hundred miles out of the President Garfield's course.

At midnight the wireless operator responded to a call for aid which came from the Norranus, a cargo ship bound from Mobile, Alabama, to Rotterdam, asking for immediate help for one of the engineroom staff who was very seriously ill. The ship's surgeon, Dr. G. H. Copher, was immediately summoned to the wireless room, and took charge of the case through the radiograph. He asked for a detailed description of the illness, and the reply indicated that the case was one of advanced pneumonia. He then prescribed emergency treatment, but the answer was that the supply of drugs on the ship was so limited that it was impossible to follow the doctor's directions.

FULL STEAM AHEAD.

This state of affairs was explained to Captain Look, who, without a moment's delay, altered the ship's course so as to come up with the cargo boat. "Full speed ahead" was rung down to the engineroom, and throughout that night and most of next day the liner raced at full speed on her errand of mercy. The passengers were unaware that the ship's course had been altered until the following morning, and when the information spread among them they lined the decks, scanning the horizon for a view of the freight steamer. During the night the operator kept in touch with the West Norranus, and directions were frequently sent by the surgeon for the treatment of the sick man.

PATIENT'S LIFE SAVED.

At four o'clock that afternoon the cargo steamer was sighted, and in a short time the President Garfield came up with her. A lifeboat, in charge of Chief Officer K. B. Lowry, was immediately lowered, and conveyed Dr. Copher to the ship. When he saw his patient he concluded that the only chance of saving his life was to transfer him to the liner's sick bay. This was speedily accomplished, and once more the President Garfield headed for London.

The patient was John W. Miller, one of the engineers. He was kept on board till the liner returned to New York, but long before the home port was sighted he had been restored to health.

LINCOLN'S EXAMPLE.

MAKING THE WORLD BETTER.

The Bishop of Kilmore presided at a public meeting under the auspices of the Harold's Cross Young Men's Christian Association last night in the Parochial Hall, Harold's Cross, Dublin.

The Auditor, Mr. C. H. H. Fennell, delivered the inaugural address on "Abraham Lincoln." He traced Lincoln's career from his birth in a log cabin in Kentucky in 1809 to his ultimate occupation of White House as President.

The Dean of St. Patrick's, in proposing a vote of thanks to the Auditor, said that the address which they had heard was a great proof of the benefit of the Association. The lecturer had treated his subject in a masterly manner, which showed that there was a great deal of mental culture going on. Lincoln lived again in their minds that night, and that showed the great art of the lecturer.

Professor W. E. Thrift, in seconding the resolution, pointed out the value of debating societies such as that. They gave young men an opportunity of "finding their feet." He drew an analogy between the conditions prevailing in America in the time of Abraham Lincoln and those in Ireland at the present time. But the occasion produced the man. It was Lincoln's honesty, his determination to live up to his own convictions to do what was right, and his unswerving faith that right would prevail in the end, that carried America through. Perhaps, some Abraham Lincoln would arise in Ireland also to bring her through. (Applause.)

The Bishop of Kilmore, in putting the vote, which was passed, said that, like Lincoln, they should all strive to make the world better. Societies such as that helped to make the world better. There were great traditions behind the Association, and it should be an incentive to the present members to continue their efforts to uphold those traditions, and to hand them down to their successors.

INJURED ON TRAM LINE.

FARMER AWARDED DAMAGES.

In the Courthouse, Green street, yesterday, before the Recorder of Dublin, Thomas Henry, Rathcoole, Swords, sued the Dublin United Tramway Company to recover £20 damages for injuries to his horse, harness, and cart in September last.

The plaintiff stated that while leading his horse with a load of hay at Charlemont Bridge the cart skidded on the rails, which were raised above the roadway, and the horse fell, damaging his knees. He bought the horse for £26 10s. four years ago, and it was now worth £10 or £15.

For the defence, it was stated that the track had been repaired in June last, and on examination on the 14th September it was found to be in good condition.

The Recorder gave a decree for £15.

Mr. W. J. Gleeson (instructed by Mr. A. Lane Joynt) appeared for the plaintiff; and Mr. J. Healy (instructed by Mr. Gerald Byrne) for the defendants.

ARMED MEN SEIZE CLOTHING.

Between £40 and £50 worth of suits and overcoats was taken away from the premises of Messrs. Burton, Henry street, Dublin, on Monday by four armed men, who took the goods away in a delivery van belonging to a well-known grocery establishment.

REASON HE COULD NOT PAY.

"What reason have you for not paying this debt?" a defendant was asked in the Bow County Court.

Defendant: A large family and an expensive wife.

IRISH TRAINING COLLEGES.

NATIONAL UNIVERSITY AND THEIR WORK.

SECONDARY TEACHERS' SALARIES.

The Chairman, Dr. M. F. Cox, presided last night at a meeting of Convocation of the National University at Earlsfort Terrace, Dublin, at which the Rev. Professor Corcoran moved the following resolution:—

"That Convocation regrets the failure of the Senate to adopt and issue any plan for bringing the work of the primary training colleges of Ireland into practical connection with the University courses for degrees, so as to give the main body of the teachers of this country adequate opportunities for reaching a high standard of academic education."

It was a very vital matter, said Father Corcoran, affecting the interests of the country as a whole. He thought that it was very regrettable that they had no plan. The question involved was that of getting the whole teaching body of Ireland raised to a proper level of equipment, and he believed that the primary teachers should be enabled to get the highest degree possible. The future of the country depended to a large extent on having the two teaching professions brought up to a common high level. He would say that it would be a sorry day for the teaching profession if this were not done.

Miss Agnes O'Farrelly, in seconding the resolution, said that undoubtedly as regarded education, they were backward in Ireland, and this would not be remedied until they gave their teachers a proper training. Having referred to the existing system of Scotland, Miss O'Farrelly added that she thought they should certainly have had a new scheme ready for the present year.

THE SENATE'S EFFORTS.

Professor Magennis outlined the efforts made by the Senate in connection with the matter. A Committee had been set up, and had been in touch with the principal bodies concerned, including the heads of the training colleges and national teachers. Favourable reports had been received from these bodies. He thought that the Senate should, therefore, be absolved of dereliction of duty. They had made an honest and sincere attempt to carry through the idea conveyed in the motion. Further pressure was likely to be used by the teachers to have the University made their training college. Having referred to the financial difficulties in the way, he said that the State was to be asked to destroy existing institutions which, in the course of years, had been highly efficient and might be utilized in connection with the University; create at great expense new institutions, and adopt new educational lines which were contrary to the experience of other universities. That, to his mind, was a really wanton proposal. The most, he suggested, to which the resolution should go was to register a solemn protest against becoming reactionary in the matter of the training of teachers.

The resolution was passed in a modified form, "regretting that the Senate had failed to agree on any plan."

SALARIES AND PENSIONS.

Mr. Maurice Kinsella proposed:—"That, in the opinion of Convocation, the provision of an adequate scale of salaries and pensions for secondary teachers is an essential preliminary to the reform of secondary education as a whole."

No matter how excellent programmes might be, said Mr. Kinsella, if the present conditions regarding secondary teachers continued, the Ministry of Education could not expect the co-operation of that body. They were the only body engaged in public work that did not get bonuses and pensions. Every other branch of the Civil Service was treated decently in that respect. The secondary teachers were expected to carry out new and fuller programmes, but all the while to live on the sympathy of the Ministry of Education.

Miss Agnes O'Farrelly, who seconded, said that the secondary teachers were the "Cinderellas" of their profession at the moment, and were paid at a much lower rate than the other teachers.

The resolution was unanimously adopted.

COMMITTEE OF CONVOCATION.

The appointment of the Annual Committee of Convocation came before the meeting. The following is the new Committee constituted:—Rev. Edward Brennan, M.A.; Bernard Carty, B.A.; Rev. T. Corcoran, S.J., D. Litt.; M. Fitzpatrick, M.A.; Michael Hanly, B.A.; Ellen Harnett, M.A.; Mary T. Hayden, M.A.; Rev. W. J. Herlihy, B.A.; G. Hogan, B.A.; Mary McCarthy, M.A.; Leo T. McCauley, M.A.; Patrick McGilligan, M.A.; James McLaughlin, M.A., LL.B.; J. Creed Meredith, M.A., K.C.; P. J. Nolan, M.Sc.; Mary K. O'Kelly, B.A.; W. D. O'Kelly, M.D., D.P.H.; Rev. A. Quinn, B.A., B.D.; Michael Tierney, M.A; Francis Fahy, Maurice Kinsella, M.A.; Hughes Dowling, and Patrick Tarrant.

MISS MACSWINEY'S HUNGER STRIKE.

TELEGRAM TO THE VATICAN.

The Cumann na mBan headquarters announce that the following telegrams have been sent respectively to the Cardinal Secretary of State in Rome, to Cardinal Logue, and to the Most Rev. Dr. Byrne, Archbishop of Dublin:—

"Mary MacSwiney, sister of martyred Lord Mayor of Cork, lies dying in Dublin jail after 10 days' hunger strike. Cumann na mBan request your Eminence to inform the Holy Father that jail chaplain refuses her the Sacraments."

"Mary MacSwiney is slowly dying in Mountjoy Jail after ten days' hunger strike. Cumann na mBan have wired the Vatican to inform His Holiness of the refusel of the chaplain to administer the Sacraments."

"Cumann na mBan have wired the Vatican to inform his Holiness of the refusal of the Sacraments to Miss MacSwiney."

The telegrams are signed by Mrs. Pearse, Madame O'Rahilly, Mrs. Ceannt, and Mrs. Brugha.

MRS. MACSWINEY

ARRESTED IN WASHINGTON.

Mrs. Muriel MacSwiney, widow of the late Lord Mayor of Cork, and eight other women, members of the American Association for the Recognition of the Irish Republic, were arrested at Washington yesterday while marching before the British Embassy with banners demanding the release of Miss Mary MacSwiney.

The women were arrested because they refused to give heed to the warning of a policeman, who told them that they were violating a district of Columbia Statute.

Mrs. MacSwiney's banner (says Reuter) read: "England murdered my husband." Some banners referred to Ireland as the "English Free State."

According to Reuter, the women all elected to remain locked up rather than furnish bonds. The penalty, if they are convicted, is three years' imprisonment.

DUBLIN ALLOTMENTS.

The General Secretary of the United Irish Plotholders' Union, Dublin, has sent to the Minister of Agriculture a resolution of the Council of the Union, regretting that the Ministry had not taken direct action in the case of the Delville area. He also forwarded a resolution of Delville allotment holders, asking the Ministry to acquire two of the three fields which are at present held, and that, pending the decision of the Ministry, the tilling of the plots will be commenced.

The licensed premises of Mr. Hugh McGoldrick, known as "The Seven Stars," on Eden quay, Dublin, were raided by two armed men at 5.20 p.m. yesterday, and £15 in cash was taken.

THE BEVAN CASE.

RECORDER'S ADVICE TO GRAND JURY.

The new Lord Mayor, Alderman E. C. Moore, opened the November Sessions of the Central Criminal Court at the Old Bailey, London, yesterday. The calendar is an exceptionally heavy one, containing the names of 120 persons. Among them is Gerard Lee Bevan, the city financier, who was committed from the Guildhall on charges of fraud, in connection with the City Equitable Fire Insurance Company, Ltd., of which he was Chairman. The trial is expected to last nearly a fortnight. The case of Dr. Bernard Frederick Hartzhorne, who has been committed on a charge of attempted suicide, is also on the list.

The Recorder, Sir Ernest Wilde, K.C., dealing with the Bevan case, said that it was inadvisable and unnecessary for the grand jury to attempt to master all the ramifications of this very complicated case. The depositions covered no fewer than 320 pages and the documentary exhibits covered even more pages. In a brief outline of the facts, the Recorder said that investigation of the accounts of the fire company made by some of the most eminent accountants revealed that some of the assets set out as belonging to the fire company were absolutely fictitious, and that other of the assets were quite unrealisable. The grand jury would probably be convinced that the charge was one which ought to be thoroughly investigated.

STOLEN MOTOR CYCLE.

RECOVERED BY C.I.D.

On learning that a suspicious-looking motor cycle had been wheeled into a house in Gardiner's place, Dublin, at 4.45 yesterday afternoon, officers from Oriel House set to work, and in twenty minutes had recovered the machine. It had been freshly painted with black enamel, the number being painted out. So far, the owner has not reported his loss to Oriel House.

It is understood that a good many stolen motor cars and cycles have been recovered by the Criminal Investigation Department, but that the owners have not yet claimed their property.

CLAIMS POURING IN.

NO DIMINUTION OF DAILY LIST

Claims for compensation from the Irish Provisional Government are still pouring in, and the daily lists issued by the Government show no signs of decreasing.

The latest for property seized include the following:—

Allihies Copper Mines, Co. Cork	£1,413
The Co-operative Society, Ltd., 20 John street, Cork	1,353
Mrs. Bridget Cosgrave, Tubbercurry, Sligo (also for personal injury and loss sustained)	922

M. Madden, 346 Slade road, Erdington, Birmingham	500
Victor Shaen Carter, Shaen Lodge, Belmullet	450
Thomas Lawless, Newtownbalregan, Dundalk	250

The following claims are for personal injuries:—

J. Conway, Ballinalough, Thomastown, Co. Kilkenny	£500
J. M. O'Donnell, Creggane, Claremorris, Co Mayo	500
D. O'Donnell, Creggane, Co. Mayo	250
E. O'Donnell, Creggane, Co. Mayo	250

M. Torphy, Carrickbeg, Carrick-on-Suir, claims £1,500 for the death of his son.

PLAY WITH A REVOLVER.

MILITARY POLICEMAN SHOT.

That death was due to meningitis was the verdict of a Coroner's Court yesterday on Private Frederick Weatherup, a military policeman stationed at Mountjoy, who died at the Mater Misericordiæ Hospital, Dublin, on the 11th inst. as the result of a bullet wound received on 20th of October.

Mrs. Weatherup, 55 Lower Gardiner street, identified the remains as those of her son, who was aged 23, and unmarried.

Christopher Dunne, a military policeman, stationed at Mountjoy, said that on the 20th of October he saw Weatherup and Private Hamilton going out on pass. Hamilton asked the witness to keep his revolver and ammunition for him. The witness put three spare rounds of his own ammunition into the revolver. When Hamilton returned the witness gave him back the revolver and ammunition. Hamilton and Weatherup were on friendly terms.

Private O'Loughlin said that he saw Hamilton and Weatherup sitting on a bed. They seemed to be joking. The witness heard a shot, and saw Weatherup lying on the floor. Hamilton stooped down and supported him. They seemed to have been very friendly.

WOUNDED MAN'S LETTER.

Lieutenant Patrick Duffy, O.C. police, Mountjoy, produced a letter dated 29th October, which he had received from Weatherup. It was as follows:—

"I have heard that Private Hamilton is under arrest for shooting me. I beg to state that the whole affair was an accident, and you would confer a great favour on me if you removed whatever charge or charges you have against Private Hamilton."

Dr. Savage, House Surgeon, Mater Hospital, stated that Weatherup had a wound in the face which broke five teeth. A piece of a revolver bullet was found in the jaw bone. Death was due to meningitis, the result of the wound.

THE SHOOTING DESCRIBED.

Private James Hamilton, who, having been cautioned, elected to give evidence, said that he was acquainted with Weatherup for five weeks. Before going out on pass on 20th October he gave his revolver to Private Dunne. They returned at about 2.30, and he asked Dunne for his revolver. Dunne said, "There are three bullets of mine there," and the witness gave him three rounds from his pouch. After dinner they went to their room. Weatherup had his revolver out, and was tricking with it. He put it up to the witness's head and said, "How simple it would go off!" The witness was opening his belt to remove his own revolver, which he thought was empty, and made a grab at Weatherup's revolver, when his own revolver went off, and Weatherup fell. He lifted him up. They were the best of friends, and he expressed his deep sympathy with Mrs. Weatherup.

The jury returned a verdict in accordance with the medical evidence, and that the bullet wound was accidentally received.

TECHNICAL INSTRUCTION IN COUNTY WICKLOW.

The prospectus of the County Wicklow Joint Technical Instruction Committee for the session provides for those branches of commercial, domestic, and applied science which have a direct bearing on the leading industries of the neighbourhood. In addition to the classes in the Wicklow, Arklow, and Baltinglass Technical Schools, itinerant classes in engineering, commercial, domestic economy, and manual instruction (wood-work) are arranged for different towns and villages. Special provision is made for the teaching of the Irish language this session, and there are classes in this subject for teachers. Mr. F. F. MacCarthy, the Principal and Secretary, reports favourably on the attendance and on the standard of the work during the past session.

CIVIL SERVICE BONUS.

The Unionist Central Office states officially that it has no knowledge of any suggestion that the Government have decided to withdraw the Civil Service cost of living bonus.

e Recorder, Sir Ernest Wilde, K.C., g with the Bevan case, said that it was visable and unnecessary for the grand to attempt to master all the ramifica of this very complicated case. The de ions covered no fewer than 320 pages the documentary exhibits covered even pages. In a brief outline of the facts, Recorder said that investigation of the unts of the fire company made by some e most eminent accountants revealed that of the assets set out as belonging to fire company were absolutely fictitious, that other of the assets were quite un able. The grand jury would probably onvinced that the charge was one which t to be thoroughly investigated.

DUBLIN.

MOTHERS' UNION.—The Irish branch of the Mothers' Union will hold a public meeting in connection with its annual conference in the Synod Hall, Christ Church Place, Dublin, to-day at 3. The Primate will preside, and addresses will be given by the Rev. A. H. McNeile on "Religious Education as the Nourishment of the Mind," and by Mrs. Lenox-Conyngham on "The Power of Mental Suggestion in Religious Training." On Thursday morning the General Council will meet, and in the afternoon Lady Arnott will hold an "at home" for official workers. There will be a celebration of the Holy Communion in St. Patrick's Cathedral on Friday morning at 11.30, and a meeting of the General Organising Committee in the afternoon. The Mothers' Union is a world-wide organisation for the betterment of home life and the upholding and realisation of high ideals.

ALLEGED STABBING.—Mrs. Margaret Mullen, Cody's Cottages, West road, Dublin, and her daughter, aged 15, were treated at a Dublin hospital yesterday for knife wounds alleged to have been inflicted by the woman's husband. They were attacked in the Ossory road in daylight, and their alleged assailant walked away when a crowd collected. He was arrested late last night, and will be brought before a city magistrate this morning.

BRITISH EMPIRE SHAKESPEARE SOCIETY.—In connection with the Dublin branch, a lecture on "The Play of Macbeth; its Importance as Tragedy," will be delivered by Mr. Bernard Schillman in the Molesworth Hall, Dublin, to-morrow night, at 7.45. A short programme of recitals and songs will follow the lecture.

SHORTHAND WRITERS' INSTITUTE.—It was reported to the annual meeting of the Institute of Shorthand Writers (Ireland) that, in spite of the disturbed state of the country, the organisation had improved its position. Entries for the examinations were larger, and the receipts had increased. Officers for the ensuing year were elected.

NEW MASONIC BOYS.—At a meeting yesterday, the Governors of the Masonic Orphan Boys' School, Clonskeagh, Dublin, elected the following candidates for admission to the School:—John H. McRitchie, Robert C. Murray, Arthur L. McIlveen, Noel Phillips, John J. Gamble, Rupert Gill, Richard R. Irvine, David J. A. Boyd.

COLLEGE HISTORICAL SOCIETY.—A meeting of the Trinity College Historical Society will be held to-night in the Graduates' Memorial Building, Trinity College. The chair will be taken at 8 p.m. by Professor E. Curtis. The subject for debate will be "That the genius of the Irish people is compatible with orderly government."

BUILDING TRADES DISPUTE.—Negotiations are taking place for the settlement of the Dublin building trades strike. The masters have made proposals, which are to be submitted to the men. It is probable that the strike will end this week.

ARTS AND COMMERCE.—Good reports of the Irish Society of Arts and Commerce were read at the recent annual meeting. Mr. Wallis Healy was re-elected President, and the Council for the next year appointed.

ENFORCE THE LAW.—Members of the King's County Medical Association suggest that the county authorities should "consider the desirability of enforcing the compulsory vaccination laws."

ULSTER.

STORMONT TOO REMOTE.—Portadown Chamber of Commerce has adopted the resolution of the Ballymena Chamber, expressing the opinion "that all Government offices in connection with the Parliament of Northern Ireland should be situated in some central position in the city, and not at Stormont Castle, and that the proposals of the Prime Minister to have the main Government offices at Stormont Castle, with duplicate offices in the centre of the city, would entail a wholly unnecessary expenditure of public money, and if carried out would lead to an entire lack of co-ordination and very considerable confusion and dissatisfaction in the conduct of the business of the different departments."

POTENTIAL HIGHWAYMAN.—James McColgan, Mervue street, Belfast, was sentenced in the City Police Court yesterday to two months' imprisonment, with hard labour, for having a revolver, five rounds of revolver ammunition, and two clips of rifle ammunition. For the defence it was stated that the accused man was a "C 1" Special policeman and had the revolver for his own protection. The presiding magistrate said that he came to the conclusion that the accused man intended to "hold up" people and rob them.

ARGUMENT ENDS IN DEATH.—At Lurgan a jury found that W. J. Overend, of Portadown, died from a fracture of the skull occasioned by being knocked down by William Black, Annagh, Portadown. While out together the two men had an argument, and Black knocked Overend down, and the latter fell on his head. Black expressed deep regret.

OLD CLOTHES IMPORTS.—According to an Armagh relieving officer, the importation of old clothes is one of the ways in which smallpox is spread in Ireland. The Armagh Guardians have issued a warnning to defaulters under the vaccination laws.

LETTER POST DELAYS.—A member of the Portadown Chamber of Commerce called the attention of a meeting of that body to the delay in delivering letters posted in England to addresses in Northern Ireland, and suggested that firms doing business with cross-Channel houses should give instructions to have their letters addressed "Northern Ireland," so as to ensure that they would be sent by the proper route.

DEATH OF MAJOR GARDINER.—The death has taken place at Downpatrick of Major Robert Gardiner, D.C.M. Major Gardiner enlisted in the Royal Irish (now Royal Ulster) Rifles, and served with the 5th Battalion in the South African War (1901-02). He was promoted during the campaign to the rank of regimental sergeant-major, and was awarded the Distinguished Conduct Medal. When the European War broke out he received his commission, and served in France with the 16th (Pioneer) Battalion, Royal Irish Rifles (Ulster Division). When the "B" Specials were formed Major Gardiner became commandant in Downpatrick.

BAD EGGS FINE.—At Dungannon Petty Sessions on Monday, Bridget Kilpatrick, Omagh, was fined 40s. and costs for exposing for sale 36 eggs unfit for consumption. The magistrate intimated that the next offender would be dealt with severely. A magistrate pointed out that the defendant was liable to a £720 penalty.

ROBBERIES BY ARMED MEN.

At about nine o'clock on Monday night the residence of Mr. O'Sullivan Beare, 47 Mountpleasant square, Dublin, was entered by three armed men, who took £50 from a box.

Two young men were stopped by armed men in Charlotte street, Dublin, yesterday, and £6 was taken from one of them.

Three armed men on Monday took £20 from the pawn office of James Cluxton, 13 Summerhill, Dublin.

A "SILLY" FALLACY.

TRADE UNION LEADER ON CAPITAL LEVY.

Mr. W. A. Appleton, the Secretary of the General Federation of Trade Unions, said yesterday that the capital levy embodies one of the silliest fallacies to which any political party can attach itself. It is an expedient rather than a remedy. Its advocates seldom take the trouble to define capital, or to say on what basis and by what means they propose to collect the levy; nor do they make any attempt to discuss the grave probability of evil rather than good resulting from their policy. They ignore the inherent dishonesties of the proposals, or seek to disguise them or exculpate them by attacks on the "profiteer."

All profess to hate the "profiteer," but few take the trouble to define him or her as the person who took advantage of the State's emergencies to make a profit, or to take a wage that could not have been obtainable under the ordinary conditions of industry. If the intention of the levyists is to "go for" the "profiteer," why not begin by admitting that he exists in every grade of society, and that the proposals now advanced will never touch a tenth of those who made a bit out of the war.

It is urged in extenuation of the injustices that must be perpetuated that these will only affect those whose capital exceeds £5,000. Leaving aside the fact that injustice is injustice, whether it affects £5 or £5,000, I am satisfied that in practice this proposed limitation must be ineffective.

Just as surely as the inflation by which the Government financed the war affected the workman, so will the inflation consequent upon loss of ready money and confidence affect him. The orator who desires to earn the prefix "popular" never tires of telling us that the £1 has to-day a purchasing power of 12s. only. Approximately he is right, and it is the workman's £1, as well as the plutocrat's which is affected. Any economic experiment which involves further inflation will not only decrease the possibilities of remunerative employment, but will depreciate the value of every investment the workman makes.

ORVIETO STRIKE OVER.

COURT ORDERS MEN BACK TO SHIP.

Reuter's Melbourne Correspondent telegraphed yesterday that the members of the crew of the Orient liner Orvieto, who went on strike when their demand for Australian pay while in Australian waters was refused, were brought before the Court and ordered to return to work.

They demanded a guarantee that they would not be prosecuted in England, and the Court gave them an assurance.

Inter-State passengers, the presence of which caused the men to demand the Australian pay, have left the ship.

DALKEY AMBUSH.

ATTACKERS HIDDEN BY ROCKS.

A VERDICT OF MURDER.

Yesterday, at St. Michael's Hospital, Kingstown, Dr. J. P. Brennan, Coroner for South County Dublin, held an inquest on the bodies of Mr. H. A. Manning, of Pilot Cottages, Dalkey, and Corporal Samuel Webb, of the national Army, a native of Kingstown, who were killed in an ambush at Ulverton Hill, Dalkey, on Monday night.

Mr. M. A. Corrigan, Chief State Solicitor, appeared for the authorities, and Superintendent Kelleher for the Metropolitan Police.

REPORT TO THE CORONER.

The Coroner, in opening the proceedings, said that the circumstances reported to him were that at 10.55 p.m. on the 15th inst. Privates Kavanagh and McNally, with five other soldiers, were proceeding along Ulverton road with a prisoner named John Keys when they were attacked with bombs, rifle, and revolver fire from a field at Ulverton road. Corporal George Webb and a civilian, whose supposed named was H. J. Manning, were taken in the ambulance to St. Michael's Hospital, and pronounced dead by Dr. Hesham, house surgeon. Private Sharkey and Leo Treston, who were with the patrol, were also injured, and were now patients in the Monkstown Hospital.

Evidence of identification in the case of Mr. Manning was given by Mr. William Francis Waterhouse, Claremount, Killiney, who said that the deceased man was his brother-in-law, aged 43 years, and unmarried. He spent Monday evening with the witness, and left the house between 10.30 and 10.40 to go to his lodgings at Pilot Cottages, Bullock Harbour.

Margaret Kelly, 19 Library road, Kingstown, identified the body of Corporal Webb as that of her brother-in-law, who was aged about 20 years, and unmarried.

Captain Keane, Harbour Barracks, stated that he received a telephone message, as a result of which he went to Ulverton road, the scene of the attack. A civilian stopped the car, and the witness got out about 50 yards from the scene. Private Sharkey was lying on the road and a civilian was lying against the wall on the side of the road. An ambulance then came on the scene and removed the wounded. The witness found an unexploded bomb lying on the road.

ATTACKED FROM THE ROCKS.

Private Art O'Conner, Harbour Barracks, said that he was one of a patrol from the Barracks in Dalkey at about 11 o'clock. When they reached the portion of the road where the rocks were protruding rifle fire was opened on the patrol from the direction of the rocks. The witness lay down on the tram tracks. There was a bomb thrown which exploded at the corner nearest to Kingstown. He saw Private Sharkey fall at the right side of the road. There was a civilian near him, who was also killed. A good deal of firing took place and another bomb was thrown, which exploded. The men were killed by the fire from the rock.

Dr. Michael J. Harty, St. Michael's Hospital, stated that he received the body of Private Samuel Webb. On examination he found wounds on the left hand, a wound on the inner side of the left foot, near the ankle, and a penetrating wound on the right side. There was also a penetrating wound in the lower lobe of the right lung, and the liver was also penetrated. Death was due to shock from the wounds.

To the Coroner—In his opinion the principal wound was caused by a bullet, and not by a bomb splinter.

To a Juror—The wound penetrating the chest caused death.

Witness added that he also received the body of Mr. Manning, and found a punctured wound in the left ear, entering the skull and traversing the brain. Death was due to laceration of the brain caused by a .45 revolver bullet.

To a Juror—He could not say if the nose of the bullet was hammered down before it was fired, but he thought that it would have been flattened by striking the bone.

BOMBS FOUND.

Lieutenant-Commandant Joseph Flanagan Harbour Barracks, having described the finding of the bodies and their removal, said that when he arrived the police handed him a bomb (produced) which had been picked up, and they placed it in a bucket of water. They later got two other bombs which had not exploded and 17 empty and eight live rifle cartridges.

Police Constable Joseph Keating deposed to searching the scene of the ambush at Ulverton road yesterday morning, and finding an unexploded bomb behind the rock where the ambushers were, and 17 empty cartridge cases and 18 live cartridges.

When other witnesses had been examined,

Mr. Corrigan said that it was clear that these two men—a civilian and a national soldier—were killed in the attack, and the people who were responsible were, he submitted, guilty of the murder of these two men.

FINDING OF THE JURY.

The Coroner, in reviewing the evidence, said that this was another of the very regrettable tragedies they had to inquire into where one Irishman was up in arms against another brother Irishman, and there was no decent Irishman who did not regret it. With the morality of the acts of the belligerents the jury had no concern there, and they had to arrive at their verdict upon the evidence before them.

Mr. C. Murphy (Managing Director, Messrs. Clery and Co.) expressed regret on behalf of himself and of the firm at the death of Mr. Manning.

The jury found in the case of Mr. Manning that death was caused by a bullet fired by some person or persons unknown, and tendered sympathy to the relatives.

In the case of Corporal Webb a verdict that the deceased soldier was wilfully murdered by some person or persons unknown was returned. They tendered deep sympathy to the relatives of the deceased, in which the Coroner and Mr. Corrigan joined.

AIR RACE DISASTER.

FAMOUS FRENCH AVIATOR KILLED.

A machine piloted by the aviator Poire, with two mechanics, while competing for the Grand Prix for commercial aeroplanes, crashed near Villepinte, says a Le Bourget telegram. All three occupants were killed.

M. Poire's aeroplane was smashed to fragments. According to first reports, the machine fell 500 feet after the propeller had been broken.

M. Poire was forty years of age, and was in Russia when the war broke out. He volunteered for service, and was awarded every possible Russian Order for gallantry, besides the French Military Medal and the Order of the Legion of Honour.

M. Boussontrot was the only one to finish of the four competitors in the race. He covered the distance of 600 kilometres in four hours seven minutes, an average of over 145 kilometres an hour.—Reuter.

LOCAL GOVERNMENT OFFICERS.

At a meeting of the Joint Committee, representing kindred associations of local government officials, held in the Royal College of Science, Dublin, yesterday, the delegates present were:—Local Government Officials' Trade Union, Messrs. J. F. Monks and M. Dunne, Secretary; National Union of Poor Law Workers, Messrs. J. Leon and J. J. Judd, R. J. Blackburn and R. Stubbings, Secretary; Irish Nurses' Union, Miss Price, Secretary; Clerks of Unions' Association, J. P. Condon.

Mr. J. R. Dagg was moved to the chair.

It was proposed by Mr. Stubbings, seconded by Mr. Leon, and resolved:—"That this joint meeting of delegates be adjourned, and that a future meeting be called of a joint board to act with representives of the various unions here represented, and the doctors' union, so that combined action can be taken in future; and that the secretaries of the various unions place grievances under Clause 8, P.R. Act, before this board."

PRODUCE MARKETS.

NEW YORK, Tuesday.

WHEAT—Spot market irregular, 1¼c. down to 1¼c. up. Exporters took 75 boatloads of wheat, 85 boatloads of rye, and 25,000 barrels of flour. The visible supply of wheat in Canada increased 2,212,000 bushels on the week, and now totals 37,889,000. Receipts—Atlantic, 1,093,000; last year, 720,000. Clearances, 467,000; last year, 1,377,000.

FLOUR firm.

CORN on spot firm at 1¼c. gain. Receipts—Atlantic, 440,000; last year, 242,000. Clearances, 69,000; last year, 160,000.

LARD—Cash steady at 5 points reduction.

RUBBER steady and unchanged. First latex crepe, 23¼c.; smoked ribbed sheets, 23¼c.

SUGAR steady. Futures steady, 1 to 3 points up. Dec., 3.73; March, 3.30; May, 3.44; July, 3.57.

COTTON opened firm at 22 to 32 points advance on firm cable advices, buying by foreign interests, and the firmness of sterling exchange, but the market soon reacted and declined owing to favourable official weather reports, unloading by bulls, discouraging Wall street conditions, selling by Japanese operators and by New Orleans and spot interests, and also on port receipts running above expectations. The closing was barely steady, 45 to 17 points down. Spot quiet at 35 points fall. New Orleans spot 25 points lower. Receipts—Atlantic, 28,000; Gulf, 58,000. Exports—Britain, 7,000; Continent, 9,000. Nov., 25.73; Dec., 25.88; Jan., 25.74; Feb., 25.69; March, 25.74; April, 25.65; May, 25.55; June, 25.37; July, 25.22; Aug., 24.62; Sept., 24.25; Oct., 23.60.

COTTON OIL easy, with summer yellow spot 47 and January option 31 points lower.

PETROLEUM steady. TALLOW steady.

IRON steady. TIN steady, 12½ points lower.

ELECTROLYTIC COPPER steady.

KANSAS CITY—Wheat steady, ½c. up; No. 2 hard winter, 117½.

ST. LOUIS—Wheat easier, ½c. lower; No. 2 red winter, 126½.

MINNEAPOLIS—Wheat firm at 1¼c. gain; No. 1 Northern spring, 119½.

WINNIPEG—Wheat opened firm, ⅛c. to ¼c. higher, and after further improvement closed firm, 1¼c. to ⅜c. up; Dec., 103⅜; May, 105⅛. Oats steady at ¼c. rise; Dec., 40⅜. Wheat carlot receipts—To-day's total, 1,567; yesterday, 1,854.

CHICAGO, Tuesday.

WHEAT opened firm, ⅜c. up, and further advanced on small stocks, bullish Liverpool cables, strength of North-West markets, a demand from millers, cash interests and commission houses, and covering operations. After a partial reaction on slow export trading, better weather in the South-West, and realising, the market closed steady, 1¼c. higher to unchanged. Spot firmer. No. 2 hard winter, 119½; No. 3 hard winter, nominal; Dec., 117⅛; May, 115⅛; July, 105⅜.

CORN opened firm at ⅜c. gain, and made further improvement on bad roads for crop movement, small stocks, a better cash demand, adverse weather North-West, elevator interests buying, and bull support; then partially eased under indifferent export trading, increased interior movement, and realising. The market closed steady at 1¼c. to ⅛c. rise. Spot No. 2 mixed, 71½; Dec., 69⅛; May, 69⅛; July, 69⅛.

OATS firm at ⅛c. to ¼c. advance. Dec., 42⅛; May, 42⅛; July, 39⅛.

PROVISIONS opened easy. Lard declined on a larger hog market, heavy receipts, light liquidation, and selling by packers. The demand from outside was unsatisfactory, and the market closed easy, with lard 10 to 15 points down, pork unquoted, and ribs unchanged. Lard—Jan., 10.00; March, 10.17½; May, 10.32½. Pork unquoted. Ribs—Jan., 9.95.

BACON steady and unchanged. Receipts of hogs at fifteen principal Western centres, including Chicago, since November 1st total 1,204,000, against 1,229,000 same season last year.

HOGS easy, with light 15 to 20 and heavy sorts 10 to 15 points down.

CHURCH NOTES.

Admiral Drury-Lowe offers something quite new to the electors of the Abbey Division of Westminster, in his appeal for their support as an Independent candidate. The gallant Admiral, with cheering frankness, comes out boldly on the Christian side. "I believe," he says, "I can best serve your interests and the country by studying how to apply Christian principles to all problems, social, industrial, economic, and political, having regard not to party expediency, but to the interests of all classes and their obligation to the community as a whole. There is at present far too much suspicion and antagonism, and far too little fellowship and understanding. Each of us is dependent on the good-will of our fellows, and the motive of all should be service. I believe the application of Christian principles is the only remedy for the world's sickness. I stand for the principle that government should be directed by the ideal of righteousness, rather than by questions of expediency."

At a meeting of all the representatives of the Yorkshire dioceses, held to consider the division of the diocese of York and the creation of a new Leeds bishopric, it was decided by a majority "that, in the opinion of this Conference, it is neither desirable nor practicable at present to take any steps to obtain Mr. W. Pitt's legacy towards the creation of a See of Leeds." There is but small hope of obtaining the sum necessary to receive the legacy within two years.

The new revised Table of Lessons will come into use in English churches on Advent Sunday, December 3rd. The Table has received the sanction of Parliament. The use of the Table is, however, optional, and any incumbent may, at his discretion, continue the use of the present Table of Lessons contained in the Prayer Book. Both the Oxford and Cambridge University Presses and the King's Printers are busily printing complete Lectionaries for the whole year, Sundays and weekdays, with the new Lessons for every day printed in full.

TO-DAY'S PARLIAMENT

THE REGULATION OF ELECTIONS.

ESTIMATES FOR THE PUBLIC SERVICES.

The Provisional Parliament resumes its adjourned session to-day. The main business on the orders of the day is the introduction by the Minister for Local Government (Mr. Blythe) of an Electoral Bill, which is intended to regulate the conduct of Parliamentary elections on the principle of adult suffrage. It is not likely that there will be much controversy about its provisions.

The President, in his capacity of Minister of Finance, will submit estimates for the public services, and he will doubtless avail himself of the opportunity to make a general statement regarding the present situation, especially its financial aspect.

Mr. Darrell Figgis has given notice to submit a motion to refer certain clauses, which he enumerates, to the Committee charged with the duty of devising the best practical measures to prevent corrupt practices at elections. These clauses deal mostly with the fixing of fines for breaches of the regulations in regard to bribery and corruption.

THE ELECTORAL BILL.

The Schedule of the Electoral Bill, which the Ministry suggests should be embodied in the measure, provides that every person, without distinction of sex, who is a citizen of Saorstat Eireann and of full age, and who is not subject to any incapacity, shall be entitled to be entered at once on the registry of Parliamentary electors.

Clause 2 of the Schedule provides that the registration shall be in respect of one of the following constituencies:—

(a) The constituency in which he or she is ordinarily resident on the date fixed by law as the qualifying date;

(b) the constituency in which he or she occupies for the purposes of his or her trade, profession, or business, the whole or any part of the house or other premises, either alone or in partnership with another or others;

(c) the University constituency, comprising a University in which he or she has received a degree (other than a honorary degree), or, in the case of the University of Dublin, has obtained a scholarship.

If qualified for more than one constituency, the elector must chose which he shall vote in.

No member of any police force on full pay may be registered as a Parliamentary elector or vote for any election to the Oireachtas.

Any person serving as a member of the defence force of Saorstat Eireann on full pay, who is entitled to be registered as a Parliamentary elector, may be so registered in the constituency in which he would but for his service be ordinarily resident.

Provision shall be made by legislation to enable members of the defence force of Saorstat Eireann on full pay to vote by post at any election of a member or members to serve in either House of the Oireachtas, but, save as aforesaid, no person shall be entitled to vote by post or by proxy.

The election shall be by proportional representation, the system to be used being that operating by way of the single transferable vote.

The disqualifications for membership of the Oireachtas apply to persons imprisoned for six months or sent to penal servitude, imbeciles, undischarged bankrupts, members of the defence force or police on full pay, members of the Civil Service (unless expressly permitted), and persons convicted under the Corrupt Practices Acts.

There is a notice on the paper by Mr. Darrell Figgis referring to a Committee on Corrupt Practices, which it has been resolved to set up, clauses and schedules set out on the order paper. These provide a penalty of £25 for persons who attempt to be registered to vote more than once at a general election, and a penalty of £50 for attempting to register a person without the necessary qualification and for an attempt to have another person registered more than once.

Any person attempting to interfere with the preparation or delivery of a nomination paper shall receive twelve months' hard labour.

The same punishment is provided for intimidation. There is imprisonment, not exceeding a year, for bribery, and on the subject of "personation" it is proposed to amend the sections of the Corrupt Practices Prevention Act, 1883, and to make the term of imprisonment under it one year, with hard labour.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

THE IRISH NURSES' UNION.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE IRISH TIMES.

SIR,—In reply to statements made by Mr. Paul, T.C., at the recent meeting of trained nurses held at the Mansion House, as reported in your columns of the 9th inst., we would be very glad if you could find room for the following. In addressing the nurses Mr. Paul spoke of the disadvantages under which probationers work, and quoted one probationer in a City hospital, to whom he was recently speaking, who was on duty for thirteen and a half hours daily, or eighty-four per week. This is nothing new to trained nurses in Ireland. It is the old system under which probationers have always worked. We wish to inform Mr. Paul that there already exists the Irish Nurses' Union, with headquarters at 29 South Anne street. This Union was started in 1919, amidst many difficulties, and combines in one large union various sections of the nursing profession, each section comprising members fully trained in their own particular branch. We think that the greatest strength is maintained by uniting the various branches of the nursing profession in one organisation. Lately a special section has been allotted to probationers who require protection during their period of training.

Hours have been shortened to fifty-six per week, and less in at least two of the City hospitals, without any inconvenience to the working of the institutions. Negotiations are at present in operation with other City hospitals for shorter hours. We intend to press for standardised working hours for all hospitals, public and private, where our nurses are engaged.

We are a fully recognised trade union affiliated to the Irish Labour Party and Trade Union Congress. Regarding the midwives' section, which is very large, we only accept members who are fully trained midwives and possess the Central Midwives' Board certificate. For these we have obtained increases of salary in a great many districts all over Ireland. We are in close communication with the Local Government Department regarding superannuation allowances, and have had most satisfactory results for our members. We have also circularised all public bodies in town and country to elect only trade union members for appointments when vacancies occur, providing, of course, that they are fully qualified in their special branch.

We are sorry to say that some of the medical profession do not co-operate with us in securing the services of the fully-trained nurse for skilled work, and this grievance will always exist until doctors cease to encourage this abuse of the nursing profession.—Yours, etc.,

ALLOTMENTS.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE IRISH TIMES.

SIR,—It is to be hoped that amicable arrangements may be arrived at to enable the continuation of tenure to the plot-holders. The utilisation of unoccupied time and untilled soil has been the means of providing a large volume of food for the sustenance of families. It would be a great calamity if interference should prevent the supply of vegetables hitherto obtained from this source.

When Lord Morley was Chief Secretary for Ireland my questions directed attention, although it took years to obtain requisite legislation, which is rather more favourable in Great Britain than in Ireland. Labour ought not to be divorced from land, more especially contiguous to centres of population.—Yours, etc.,

WILLIAM FIELD.

Danger Months for school boys & girls

THE month of Fog and Damp. The month that coughs begin. The month to look ahead and build up the children against winter ills and infection. Start November with Virol, the food which has been proved to increase the resistance to infection.

The month of Cold and Darkness. Will your children be ready to face it—or will they enter these dark days with impaired vitality? The child who is fed on Virol now will be strengthened against winter ills.

The child whose vitality has been allowed to droop is "always catching things" or "cannot shake them off."

But the child of school age who is given Virol now will have a reserve of strength, because Virol contains those precious food elements which renew living tissue.

Yes, November again, because now is the time to build up the child's strength and vitality. Let Virol protect your boy and girl against chills, colds, Influenza, Pneumonia, and the ills of winter. Virol has been proved to enormously increase the powers of resistance to infection.

It is Virol, too, which helps at the critical age of growth when winter conditions expose young people to special risks. Start giving your children Virol now.

The Head Master of a Public School writes:—

"Last term several of my boys had Impetigo Contagiosa and seemed run down generally. I used Virol with extraordinary results; the whole system was braced up, and the effect on the boys was marvellous. I cannot too highly recommend its use for delicate children."

Have you tried this "weatherproof" Shave?

Here's a doctor's method of getting shaving comfort and freedom from skin soreness in rough weather.

He always uses McClinton's Shaving Soap or Cream, because of the "soothing and delightful effect" of its soft-as-velvet lather.

He shaves in the usual way but immediately re-lathers with McClinton's and allows the lather to dry on. He then wipes off the dry lather with a soft towel.

Try this weatherproof shave to-morrow. The secret is in the skin-soothing vegetable oils from which McClinton's Soap is made. They heal the skin and protect it 'gainst wind and weather.

WHAT IS A SERVANT?

POINT RAISED BY SIR ERNEST CASSEL'S WILL.

Lord Louis Mountbatten's wife was an "interested party" in a case, arising out of the will of Sir Ernest Cassel, heard before Mr. Justice Sargant in the Chancery Division, London, yesterday afternoon.

Mr. Justice Sargant was asked by the executors and trustees to decide whether a gift in the will to clerks or servants in Sir Ernest's service applied to Walter Boggis, farm manager; Arthur Melville, estate agent; Captain Cecil Boyd Rochfort, manager of the racing stud and stables; and Hugh Powney, private trainer of racehorses—all in Sir Ernest Cassel's employ at the time of his death.

Mr. Hunt, who appeared for two of the respondents to the summons—Edwina Annette Cynthia Ashley and Ruth Mary Clarisse Ashley—said that they were infants, interested in the residuary estate.

After hearing counsel, Mr. Justice Sargant said that Sir Ernest, a man of very great wealth, made a special bequest to every clerk or servant who had been in his employ for two years of a sum equal to two months' salary or wages for every completed year of service.

It was obvious that in the case of a man of such extraordinary wealth as Sir Ernest Cassel many people might be in the position of being "servants" who would be in a social position entirely different from the domestic servant class.

He held that Sir Ernest had desired to benefit all who had really ministered to his service, and therefore decided that the four persons mentioned were entitled to participate in the bequest to servants, according to length of service.

ROUND THE WORLD TOURS.

The Canadian Pacific has made arrangements for the issue of Round the World tickets, in conjunction with other steamship companies. These tours were formerly very popular, but of necessity were cancelled during the war. Arrangements have already been entered into with the P. and O. Co., the Blue Funnel, the Nederland Royal Mail Line, and within a few weeks it is expected that the Canadian Pacific will be in a position to issue Round the World tickets in conjunction with any all-sea routes. These Round the World tours permit passengers to travel by Canadian Pacific steamers to Atlantic ports, by Canadian Pacific Railway across Canada, where connection is made with Canadian Pacific steamers to Japan, Manila, and China, or with Canadian-Australasian steamers to Honolulu, Suva, New Zealand, and Australia. The return journey can be made via Suez Canal, or via South Africa and India, including special side trips to Java, stop-overs in India, etc., and it is expected that the new facilities offered will be greatly appreciated by world travellers.

OPIUM POISONING.

WELL-KNOWN DUBLIN DOCTOR'S DEATH.

At an inquest, which was held yesterday at the Mater Misericordiæ Hospital, Dublin, the jury returned a verdict of death from opium poisoning, while temporarily insane, in the case of Dr. Thomas Paul Codd, of 78 Lower Drumcondra road, who was admitted to hospital on Sunday afternoon, and died some hours later.

Dr. Codd's brother identified the remains. His brother had not been in good health recently, and was depressed.

Michael Brien stated that at about 5 o'clock on Sunday afternoon he saw Dr. Codd lying in a ditch near Coolock lane. There was an empty glass and a small bottle beside him. He was unconscious.

Dr. Frank Kane, House Surgeon, Mater Hospital, stated that Dr. Codd when admitted to the hospital was deeply unconscious. An empty bottle labelled "laudanum" was a glass which smelled of laudanum were found with him. He was treated for opium poisoning, but never recovered consciousness, and died at 9.30 on Sunday night. Death was due to opium poisoning.

The Coroner said that it was a very sad case. Dr. Codd was an old friend of his. They were students together, and people from the district told him last week of Dr. Codd's kindness. He was in delicate health, according to his brother's evidence, and in his (the Coroner's) opinion, he became unnerved.

The jury found according to the doctor's evidence, and added that Dr. Codd was suffering from temporary insanity when he committed the act. They expressed sympathy with his relatives.

IRISH FAIRS.

LURGAN.—The monthly cattle fair was very largely supplied with stock of all kinds. There was a very noticeable upward tendency in the price of milk cows, good springers and store cattle in forward condition. Milk cows went to £3 or £4 a head up since last fair, as did also springers. The former sold from £35 to £40 for prime animals, and other classes £20 to £25 each. Springers were in great demand, and ranged from £42 back. Best beef sold from 60/- to 65/- per cwt., or 20/- per cwt. up, and inferior beef, 45/- to 57/6 per cwt. Prime store cattle were in good request, and also showed an advance in prices of from £1 to £2 per head. Over 40 waggon loads of cattle left Lurgan station for shipping purposes in the afternoon.

SHERCOCK.—There was a brisk demand for store cattle in Shercock monthly fair on Wednesday, but prices were low. Prime springers touched £30; second-class, £18 to £24; fresh calved cows, £20 to £26; milkers, £15 to £20; stores, two years and over, £16 to £18; six quarters, £12 to £13; year-olds, £7 to £8; young pigs, £7 per pair; sheep, £3 to £3 10/- each; six quarter horses, £10 to £13; ponies, £8 to £11. General Markets—Eggs, 3/1 per dozen; butter, 1/6 per lb.; young fowl, 3/- each. The fair was largely attended, and farmers disposed of large quantities of stock.

PIGS DEARER AT ROSCOMMON.—Very large supply of pigs at Roscommon fair, and keen demand. Good pigs brought from £10 to £13 each, an increase of £1 on recent fairs.

KILREA.—Average sized fair, composed chiefly of second-class cattle; trade fair for cattle in forward condition; backward cattle were difficult to dispose of and a good number remained unsold; fat animals a small supply which met a fair trade, springers scarce and dear; young pigs an average supply at lower rates.

RATHDRUM (Co. Wicklow).—Held on 7th November—A medium-sized fair of first and second class cattle of the shorthorn type. The demand ruled brisk at improved prices, but many lots remained unsold. A small supply of springers and milch cows, which sold at current rates. An average number of sheep, principally mountain wethers, were on offer, and met a moderate demand at recent values. A large show of young pigs, for which there was a keen inquiry at late quotations. Calves, under six months old, £1 5/- to £2 5/-, average £1 15/-. Store cattle, over six and not exceeding twelve months, 1st class, £6 10/- to £8, average £7 5/-; 2nd class, £5 to £6, average £5 10/-; one year old and under two years, 1st class, £12 10/- to £15, average £14, live weight average 35/6 per cwt.; 2nd class, £8 15/- to £12, average £10 5/-, live-weight average 33/-; two years old and under three years, 1st class, £16 10/- to £20, average £18, live-weight average 38/6; 2nd class, £14 to £16 5/-, average £15 10/-, live-weight average 37/-. Fat Cattle, three years old and over, 1st class, £22 10/- to £25, average £24, live-weight average 42/6; 2nd class, £19 10/- to £22, average £21, live-weight average 40/-. Springers (cows and heifers), 1st class, £22 to £29, average £25 10/-; 2nd class, £18 to £21, average £19 10/-. Milch cows (down calved), 1st class, £20 to £26, average £23; 2nd class, £16 10/- to £20, average £18 10/-. Lambs (under twelve months old) downs and cross-breds, 45/- to 55/-, average 50/-. Store sheep, two years old and over, mountain, 60/- to 72/6, average 65/-. Fat sheep, two years old and over, downs and cross-breds, 65/- to 80/-, average 72/6. Young pigs, eight to ten weeks' old, 30/- to 55/-, average 45/-. Store pigs, over ten weeks and under four months old, 52/6 to 75/-, average 62/6.

STRABANE.—Strabane cattle fair was of large dimensions, and there was an upward tendency in prices. This applied particularly to springing cows, which were in much demand, and pollies for shipping purposes. Quotations—Best beef, 44/- to 50/- per cwt.; springing cows, best class, £20 to £26 10/-; second class, £15 to £20; milch cows, best class, £18 to £22; second class, £14 to £18; springing heifers, £14 to £15 10/-; three-year-old bullocks, £1 to £20; two-year-old, £15 to £17 10/-; dry heifers, £11 to £13; fat sheep, £3 to £3 17/6; fat bulls, £18 to £20. In the horse market there was a fair supply offered for sale. For the best class of farming horses, £14 to £18 10/-; old agricultural horses, £5 5/- to £8; driving horses, £12 10/- to £18; horses, best class, £25 to £36.

CASTLEREA.—At Castlerea fair the supply of pigs was very large. Prices showed an improvement of about 10/- per cwt. over recent fairs in the district. Best pigs sold at about 105/- per cwt. (live-weight).

THE MONEY MARKET.

SHARP RECOVERY IN EXCHANGES.

Conditions of loanable credit remained uncomfortable, but it was not quite so pronounced as previously. Early in the day there was a scramble for loans, but later on supplies seemed to be rather better. For night money lenders frequently charged 2½ per cent., but there was accommodation offering down to 2 per cent. in places, fixtures being renewed at 1½ per cent., with appreciably more demand for any new accommodation.

Bank Rate (Discount) changed July 13, 1922, 3%
60 days (fine) .... 2¾% Trade 3 3½%
3 months ,, ... 2⅞% ,, ... 3 3½%
4 months ,, ... 2⅝ 2⅞% ,, ... 3¼ 3¾%
6 months ,, ... 2¾ 2⅞%
Loans to brokers day-to-day 2½ 1½%
,, ,, for a week 1¾ 1½%
Deposit allowance Banks at call .... 1 %
,, ,, Discount houses, at call .... 1 %
,, ,, at notice 1¼%

This condition of money served to stifle business in discounts, as the market is not physically capable of buying bills, and its chief desire is to ease its position by selling them. The new Treasuries were being offered with practically no success at 2½ to 2¹⁄₁₆ per cent., while the common quotation for three months' Bank paper was 2⅝ to 2¹¹⁄₁₆ per cent., but if it came to actual buying not even the lower rate was very effective, there being a scarcity.

Gold lost 3d. to 92s. per oz. Bar silver fell ¹⁄₁₆d. to 32¹¹⁄₁₆d. per oz. for spot, and ¹⁄₁₆d. to 32⅝d. for forward delivery.

There was a better tone about the Foreign exchange market, the Turkish situation being regarded as less critical. As a consequence, values picked up. The recovery in French francs was noteworthy at 65.60-65.70, Belgium being 70.60-70.80, while Italian lire progressed further with 91⅛-92 quoted Sterling was strong on New York, mounting to 4.48, while rupees appreciated further to 1s. 3¹⁵⁄₁₆d.-1s. 3¹⁵⁄₁₆d. Holland was dull at 11.39-11.40, and Switzerland at 24.37-24.42. After being uncertain owing to the rise in the Reichsbank rate, German marks became firmer at 29,000-31,000 Norway was steady at 24.20-24.30, and Greece better at 280-285. Brazil was dull, as also were Argentine dollars, while Lisbon deteriorated a little to 2¹⁄₁₆. The following are closing rates:—

FINANCIAL PARAGRAPHS.

The operations of Yugo-Slavia's State Railways for 1921-22 produced a surplus of dinars 230,000,000, as compared with deficits of dnrs. 75,000,000 for 1920-21, and dns. 98,000,000 for 1919-20. Deliveries of railway and telegraph material have recently been made by Germany on account of reparations. Trade returns show exports in 1921 of dns. 2,460,000,000, as against dns. 1,320,606,000 in 1920, while the exports for the first seven months of 1922 amounted to dns. 1,919,040,000. During 1921 the imports amounted to dns. 4,122,097,000, against dns. 2,487,697,000 in 1920. The imports for the first seven months of 1922 amounted to dns. 2,507,939,000. The Budget estimates for 1922-23 show a small surplus of dnrs. 349,433.

In raising its rate from 8 per cent. to 10 per cent., the Imperial Bank of Germany has sprung a surprise on the world generally. It remains to be seen what the effect will be on the financial position of the country. Following the previous increases in 1 per cent. stages, the exchange value of the mark has slumped precipitately. Will the 10 per cent. bring matters to a crisis? That an an economic crisis is inevitable there can be hardly any doubt, but whether it will result from any ordinary action on the part of the Reichsbank it is difficult to say. What the Reichsbank does only may contribute towards the smash.

We are authorised to state that there is no foundation for the rumours which are current in London regarding proposals for the absorption or acquisition of Spiers and Pond, Ltd., by any other concern.

The Village Main Reef Gold Mining Co., Ltd. (in liquidation), at the extraordinary general meeting of the company held yesterday, 14th inst., Mr. Ernest Ashmead, 8 Old Jewry, London, E.C. 2, was elected liquidator in the place of Major F. de Mallet Cunynghame, who has resigned. It is hoped that the third distribution of 1/4 per share will be paid on or about the 30th November.

Holders of share warrants to bearer of Union Corporation, Ltd., are notified that they will receive payment on and after 2nd December next of dividend No. 12, being an interim dividend for the year ending 31st December, 1922, of 1/- per share, free of Dominion tax, less tax.

TELEPHONE MANUFACTURING COMPANY.

PREPARING FOR THE "WIRELESS" BOOM.

At the annual general meeting of the Telephone Manufacturing Co., Ltd., at the Hollingsworth Works of the company, West Dulwich, Viscount Chetwynd, C.H. (chairman) said that the business of their company must of necessity prosper only with the prosperity of other trading concerns, and in view of that fact the directors did not consider the business for the year under review had been unsatisfactory. They hoped to derive considerable benefit from the expansion of their business in connection with the sale of wireless telephone receiving sets. Their instruments were now perfected and ready for the market, and the directors were optimistic enough to think that, with the assistance of the installation companies, the company was at least in quite as good a position as any firm to obtain at least a fair share of the orders. The company was certainly in a better position for fitting up the sets and keeping them in order. The business would provide a turnover from which the company should derive an increased trading profit.

The Managing Director said he might mention the important fact that all the wireless receiving sets the company was making were being manufactured under licence from the Marconi Wireless Telegraph Co., Ltd., which controlled practically the whole of the essential patents which went to make a wireless receiving set.

MESSRS. RAMSAY'S CATALOGUE.

A very useful catalogue has been issued by Messrs. Ramsay, of the Royal Nurseries, Ballsbridge, Dublin. They draw particular attention to their large stock of the leading varieties of fruit trees, which can be had in bush form and trained for walls, and to their choice classes of bush, Standard and climbing roses. Possessing over twenty acres of nursery stock, which includes flowering and evergreen ornamental shrubs, privet, laurel, and thorns for hedges, vegetable plants, seakale and rhubarb, Messrs. Ramsay invite inspection of their nurseries by the public.

ROYAL CITY OF DUBLIN HOSPITAL.

The Board of Directors of the Royal City of Dublin Hospital met on Friday, 10th inst., Mr. C. Wisdom Hely, J.P., in the chair. Also present:—Mr. Wm. Beckett, J.P.; Mr. A. E. Goodbody, Mr. R. W. Booth, J.P.; Mr. T. R. McCullagh, Dr. V. M. Synge, Mr. G. Jameson Johnston, F.R.C.S.; Mr. W. Mills Forsyth, J.P.; Dr. Alfred R. Parsons.

Mr. Joseph X. Murphy was unanimously elected a director of the hospital.

The following were unanimously elected life governors of the hospital:—Mr. Edwin N. Edwards (donation of £100 in the estate of Samuel Anderson Duigan, deceased); Mr. Edward Shackleton Lee (donation of £21), and Miss Mason (for services rendered during the last 28 years in connection with the Ministering Children's League, Leeson Park Church).

The Matron begs to offer her thanks for the following gifts received during the month of October:—Magazines and Papers—Mrs. Stenson, Mrs. Rogers, Killiney Golf Club, and Major G. C. M. Rouse. Flowers, Fruit and Vegetables—Mrs. and Miss Rothwell, Mr. Parkes, St. John's Church, Sandymount, Harvest Festival; St. Augustine's Church, Harvest Festival; Whitechurch, Rathfarnham, Harvest Festival; Mrs. Clarke. Jam—Mrs. and Miss Rothwell and Mrs. A. C. Donaldson. Poultry—Whitechurch, Rathfarnham. String Bags—Mr. G. Goff. Vacuum Cleaner—Mrs. Seton Pringle. Carrying Chair and Back Rest—Lady Johnson. Empty Bottles—Mrs. A. C. Donaldson. Apples—"Harvest Festival."

The Resident Medical Officer reported that during the month of October 122 patients were admitted, the number remaining in hospital at the end of the month being 102. There were 1,184 attendances at the general and special dispensaries, and 709 accident and emergency cases were dealt with during the month.

Visitors will be shown over the hospital any afternoon.

COMPANY MEETINGS.

CITY OF DUBLIN STEAM PACKET COMPANY.

THE WINDING UP.

PAYMENT ON ACCOUNT OF CAPITAL.

DUBLIN JUNCTION GUARANTEE.

The half-yearly meeting of the City of Dublin Steam Packet Company was held at the offices, 15 Eden quay, at 1 p.m. on Tuesday, 7th November. Mr. Edward Watson, Managing Director, presided. Other directors present were:—Mr. John Murphy, the Marquess of Ormonde, Mr. Richard Jones, and Mr. Wilfred Fitzgerald.

The Secretary read the notice convening the meeting and the statement of accounts.

The Chairman said—Ladies and gentlemen, the report is already in your hands, so I presume, as usual, we shall take it as read. I beg to move—"That the report and accounts now read be received and adopted."

Mr. Murphy—I second that.

The Chairman—Ladies and gentlemen, before formally putting the motion I shall make a few observations. It seems hardly necessary to amplify what is stated in the second paragraph of the report; as regards the unsettled accounts, we are in the same position as we were six months ago; so far as my experience goes in transactions with the Government, business principles are not acted upon; in commercial dealings arrangements made with an accredited representative are considered binding, but when dealing with the Government one official is allowed to upset what another official has settled. As you know, in the case of the Connaught, our contract made with the Admiralty, regarding which Lord Coleridge said he never saw a clearer contract, was repudiated, and we had to file a petition of right in order to enforce it; a definite arrangement was come to with one set of officials and another set objected to carry it out. The Ministry of Shipping seem to have got their accounts into a complete tangle: the members of their staff never appeared to work in concert; this department has been swept away, and the Board of Trade is now dealing with the business; to give you some examples, we sent the Ministry of Shipping £1,208 on account of money we owed, and got their receipt; nearly three years ago we made a complete settlement of accounts and got a receipt—this included a payment to us of £140; six months afterwards they sent us a cheque for that sum, which we returned, and this year the officials asked us to pay the £1,208 over again, and subsequently had to admit it had been paid. The Admiralty undertook that we were not to be adversely affected by the requisition of the Connaught, and it was agreed between us and the Post Office, when we came to a settlement in 1918, that we were not to carry on the mail service at a loss; these arrangements are, in our opinion, a sufficient reason for not claiming an excessive price for the hire of the Anglia. When this vessel came to Holyhead there was no available berth for her, except at the Admiralty Jetty, and we at once assented to her using our lie-up berth when we were not occupying it; we did not consider the Anglia a suitable ship for our service, but made no objection to her and took her on the same conditions as the Curraghmore. The Anglia burned nearly twice as much coal as the Curraghmore, her consumption being about the same as the Ulster's and Munster's; the officials have admitted the justice of our contention that we should not pay more for the coal consumed by the Anglia than if the Curraghmore had been running, consequently we feel it difficult to understand why they should endeavour to adopt a different principle in regard to the hire, and unless we can be legally compelled to submit to what, we think, is an unjust claim, we certainly will not pay it; we know to a penny the amount we owe the Government, and have long since agreed to that sum being deducted from the £20,000 that the Government are still holding back from the payment for the Connaught.

The only offer we got, up to the middle of September, for the Ulster and Munster, was so low that we did not entertain it. As far as I know the parties who communicated with us were acting on account of the same service regarding which we had been approached shortly after the termination of the mail contract; however this may be, the offer seemed to us wholly inadequate. About the time I mention other people, in Liverpool, said they were prepared to purchase for a service nearer home, and that they considered the ships would be very suitable, with trifling alterations; the matter is still under negotiation, and should it materialise you will be informed without delay.

THE JUNCTION RAILWAY AGREEMENT.

It is needless for me to recapitulate what I told you at the last meeting in regard to the company's bill, which we understood was rejected by a Select Committee of the House of Lords for political reasons; but if the bill had become an Act the company's position would not have been materially altered; the company cannot be wound up until relieved of the guarantee to the Junction Railways; we were obliged to put a proviso to that effect in the bill: without such a proviso the bill would not have had a chance of passing; the Great Northern (Ireland), the Dublin and South-Eastern Companies, and the holders of the guaranteed stock of the Junction Railways would have had no difficulty in defeating such a bill had the company been so ill-advised as to introduce it. The names of the three railway companies which were in the bill would have automatically disappeared from it, without any formal opposition on their part, when they all declined to call Wharncliffe meetings in support of the bill, and practically our position would be just the same as it is to-day. You can rest assured that the railway companies, parties with us to the Junction Railways agreement, cannot, and will not, consent to the release of our company from it unless our place can be taken by a company or parties fully as solvent. We are of opinion that more than one company could with advantage take over our responsibilities, but the present time would not seem suitable to communicate with any company or person on the matter, for the following reasons:—I have before now told you what the terms of the agreement are: it may be well to repeat them—the Dublin and South-Eastern Railway Company are bound to work and maintain the railways for 40 per cent. of the gross receipts; the first charge against the remaining 60 per cent. are the rates and taxes, and the interest on the debenture stock; the next charge is the interest to the holders of the preference stock, who have never received any dividend.

Now assuming this to be paid in full, any balance would be divided rateably between the Great Northern, Dublin and South-Eastern, and our company, and go in relief of the guarantee; if it amounted to over £10,000 a year we should be relieved of the guarantee altogether, and everything above that sum would be the property of the Dublin and South-Eastern Railway Company. That company are now, for them, in a happy position, and are taking the entire of the surplus receipts, the preference holders are not getting anything, and the Great Northern and our company are not receiving any relief; it is certainly an anomalous state of affairs; during the war, as was proved to the satisfaction of Mr. Justice Powell, there was a large increase in the traffic; the Government secured the Dublin and South-Eastern Railway Company against loss, and had the free use of the railways for the conveyance of troops, and received all the surplus receipts. The Dublin and South-Eastern Company did not do their part in maintaining the line: their excuse was that they were under the orders of the Government; in August last year the control ended, later we had a meeting of the Junction Railways Committee, and got an assurance from the Dublin and South Eastern Company that all necessary work would be carried out; a large grant of three millions was expected to be paid by the Government for the use of the Irish railways during the war and divided amongst them.

It is obvious that the receipts of the Junction Railways must have increased very much, all the through traffic that used to go by the North Wall route now travels via Kingstown, but under the terms of the Irish Railways (Settlement of Claims) Act, 1921, which was passed in a somewhat unostentatious way, the state of things that existed during the war is continued "until further provision is made by the Council of Ireland," and the Dublin and South Eastern Railway Company are now putting into their coffers all the surplus receipts. They have besides received as compensation for the use of their line, including the Junction Railways, a sum of about £165,000, yet instead of keeping the undertaking in proper order they are neglecting it. Tara street and Amiens street stations are in a leaky and dirty state, indeed bordering on being insanitary, and anyone who sees the condition of the Beresford place viaduct on a wet day will be amazed that the Corporation tolerates its condition, the Dublin and South Eastern Company being bound by statute to keep it and the bridges watertight.

When we sent the Dublin and South Eastern Company the last payment, on account of the guarantee, we reminded them of their undertaking to keep the line, etc., in order, and the reply we got was that they could not do so owing to the conditions prevailing in the country. Their attitude to this company appears to be "heads we win, tails you lose," and it seems perfectly obvious that so long as this state of things continues it would be impossible to expect any company to take our place. I have no doubt whatever that when the Dublin and South Eastern Company are obliged to act in accordance with the agreement, that more than one company could with advantage to its stockholders assume our position and free us from liability, but in present circumstances it would seem unreasonable to approach anyone on the subject.

PAYMENT ON ACCOUNT OF CAPITAL.

It seemed clear to us, after the last half-yearly meeting, that the wish of the proprietors is that a payment should be made on account of capital, and as, in our opinion, such a course, if legally practicable, would be advantageous, the matter is being fully considered and taken up with our advisers; the case is, however, a somewhat complex one, but if we are advised that a scheme can be carried out, it will be brought forward for your consideration at a special meeting, which then, without delay, will be summoned.

As regards the vacancy on the Board, our practice hitherto has been, when such occurs, to consult leading proprietors and ascertain their views, and it is our intention to adopt this course and bring forward a name for your approval at a future meeting.

The Treasury bills that the company held, and which were discounted, were carrying 6 per cent.; though the Treasury Bonds pay ½ per cent. less than the bills were doing, they possess this advantage—being free of Corporation Tax, 5s. per cent. on the gross dividend.

For the same reason as we gave you six months ago, we did not think it fair or reasonable to charge the Holyhead working expenses to the half-year; we have been able to reduce these expenses very considerably; and if the negotiations for the sale of the Ulster and Munster can be brought to a successful issue we shall be free from these charges.

Now, ladies and gentlemen, if you have any observations to make we shall be happy to hear them.

WINDING UP.

After the discussion, the Chairman said—There are a good many new faces here, and I think many of you are under a complete misunderstanding. Do you know that the person in this room most anxious to wind up the company is myself? I have been Managing Director here for a great many years, and I can assure you that nothing would give me greater satisfaction than to wind up the company to-morrow. My anxiety is to wind up the company, but it won't make me flinch in doing my duty to the shareholders. I now take the points seriatim, and I will deal with the first speaker. He asked how soon would we be able to sell the Ulster and Munster. The people who are negotiating with us told us the last time we heard from them that they were going to have another inspection. We have been trying to get a good price, and owing to the great depression in trade we have not been able to do so, but we hope to sell the ships in the coming half-year. As regards Mr. Hayes, he made a statement which I believe he made bona fide, and that was that under the deed we cannot pay out of capital. We have not done so. The capital of the company consists of £585,950. So long as we have that on the other side of the account it is not impaired. We have in reserve £700,000 over that. That is the property of the proprietors of the company, and if we, from time to time, have put aside money instead of distributing it in dividends, we are perfectly justified in giving it in dividends now. If he thinks we have given too much dividend now, it is open to Mr. Hayes to move that it be reduced. Mr. Hayes says the company can be wound up. I have spoken to shareholders who don't want the company to lose any money. We are in the hands of our advisers, and I am advised that we cannot wind up without an Act of Parliament. I am trying to get you as much money back on account as we can. All I can say is, if we, the Board, do not represent the shareholders as a whole, why do not the shareholders take steps to put themselves right? There is a machinery by which we can be replaced. I wish they would do it. I don't want to sit here a day longer than I can help. I would like to hear any shareholder who cares to give me his views, but as long as I am Managing Director I will not consent to any shareholders coming in and interfering with the management. Mr. Hayes has said that he could get a Court Order, and said he did not like taking that course. If he could get it I would advise him to do so. I must, of course, defend the case, because I believe that if we wound up in his way we should lose a great deal of money. You all want the company wound up, and so do I, but does anybody want the company to lose money? (No.) My speech was intended to cover the whole ground. I hoped to have something definite to tell you, but I have no more than I said. If we could carry out a scheme for giving payments on account we will do it, but I don't think anybody could give us assistance on the matter. Mr. Hayes asked a question about Mr. Litchfield. The company has been in existence over ninety-nine years, and in that period no officer has been treated with such consideration and liberality as Mr. Litchfield. He got into bad health and went away last December. Eventually the directors told him he would have to come back. He did not see his way to come back. We could not give him a pension as a director, but we told him to hand in his resignation. He did so, and he was given a pension of £1,150 a year.

The motion was then put and passed, and also the motions in regard to the dividends, and, after a cordial vote of thanks to the Chairman for his conduct in the chair, the business of the meeting concluded.

THE CITY OF DUBLIN STEAM PACKET COMPANY.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE IRISH TIMES.

SIR,—Unfortunately I was unable to attend the meeting of this company on the 7th inst., but I am informed that the Chairman announced that it was the intention of the directors to elect a new director in the room of Mr. Litchfield, who had resigned. This is surprising, and I would advise stockholders strongly to oppose the proposition. I cannot see any necessity for the appointment of a new director in view of the fact that steps are being taken to wind up the company; it is now merely a dividend-paying concern. As an operative company it has ceased to exist. It seems pure waste of the shareholders' money, and I would suggest that no time be lost in forming a stockholders' committee to safeguard our interests and, if possible, to hasten the winding up of the company.—Yours, etc.,

F. TOWNSEND GICK.

Walton, Sandycove Point, Dublin,
November 14th, 1922.

NELSON BROTHERS, LIMITED.

Mr. Harold Nelson, presiding at the annual general meeting, held yesterday at Cannon street Hotel, London, E.C., said that the quoted investments showed on balance an improvement in value at the 30th September of £74,771 as compared with the book values, and there had been still further improvement since that date. Owing to the comprehensive nature of the investments, they were in touch with the industrial position generally, and it appeared to the directors that, in spite of many discouraging features, there was a better tendency in trade, if not an actual revival. The national Budget for the half-year to 30th September showed a considerable improvement on the estimated figures, and although matters were too obscure to venture a prophecy, they could at least venture a hope that the Chancellor of the Exchequer might be able to give a further impetus to trade by relief in taxation. Such relief would, generally speaking, be employed in development of business, and thus broaden the basis of income tax assessment. Any such reduction in income tax improved the net income of the company on investments. They might also hope that the corporation profits tax would meet with the fate it deserved in the near future. The net revenue of the company showed an improvement of a little over £7,000, which, under all the circumstances, the directors considered to be quite satisfactory. They had had no revenue from their Queensland investments, and owing to the severe shock experienced from the post-war fall in values they could not expect an immediate recovery. An adjustment of costs was gradually being effected, with the result that within the last few months business with Queensland had been done on a more satisfactory basis, and there was every reason to hope that, with the Queensland Government assistance in settling labour problems and continuing their subsidy, the export of beef to the United Kingdom would, in the near future, be once more on a profitable basis. The report was unanimously adopted, and the payment of a total dividend for the year of 10 per cent., free of income tax, on the Ordinary shares was approved.

FINANCIAL NEWS AND NOTES.

IRISH STOCK EXCHANGES.

DUBLIN.

BRITISH ELECTION ANTICIPATIONS CAUSE GENERAL GAINS IN MANY DIRECTIONS.

Confidence was once more clearly defined on the Dublin Stock Exchange, and this improved feeling again, naturally, favourably affected prices in nearly all directions on 'Change. The Funds were bought freely, and changes all benefited holders. War Loan 5 p.c. was good at the close. Banks were quietly firm, but featureless. Guinness Ord. alone quoted in Breweries and kindred securities. After an initial slight gain the closing price for regular lots did not show any alteration, although finally an odd lot was picked up at 44⅝. The Pref. were harder. Marconis were the turn better, and the Pref. were also wanted. There was a fair demand for Great Northern Railway Pre-Ord. Stocks, but the Ord. gave way. Otherwise this important department was mostly idle and featureless. Dunlops were without point of interest, but prices were unaltered in a very small market where business was done. There was firm support for Textiles. Courtaulds and Spinners were particularly good. Tobacco shares were well held, with Imperials higher and good in tone. Findlater Debs. and Todd Burns Ord. met with support. Oils were still doubtful and lower.

The Funds were again well supported. Consols rose ⅜ to 57⅛, War Loan 4½ p.c. ⅜ to 94⅝, ditto 5 p.c. 5/16 to 99¼ 5/16, Funding Loan ½ to 87½, and Conversion 3½ p.c. ½ to 75 11/16. India 3 p.c. repeated 55½ and ditto 5½ p.c. 99.

In Banks, Bank of Ireland Stock repeated 230½ and Nationals 18⅞.

Dealing in Breweries was confined to Guinness issues. The Ord. repeated 44 7/16, after opening at 44½, but an odd lot at the later market was sold at 44⅝, while the Pref. rose 1/16 to 11 11/16.

Marconi Wireless shares rallied 9d. to 44s. 6d.

Home Rails were practically idle. Great Northern Ord. was weaker, and fell 1¼ to 63¼, but the Pref. was bid up 1½ to 63½, without getting any stock, while the Debs. rose ¼ to 72¾. Great Southern and Western Debs. did not alter at 79, and the other issues were neglected.

In Dunlops Parent Tyre Deferred repeated 25s. 6d. and Dunlop Rubber Ord. 8s. 10½d.

Drapery shares closed rather bid for. Todd Burns Ord. rose 6d. to 19s. and Walpole Bros. Debs. 4d. to 76s.

Among Manufacturing shares A. Armstrong Pref. were held for 1s. advance, or 9s. British-American Tobacco Pref. rose 3d. to 19s. 6d. and Imperials 4½d. to 69s. 1½d., 3d., and 4½d. Textiles were all on the upward trend. Courtaulds rose 1s. to 57s., after earlier dealing at 56s. 6d., 56s. 9d., Spinners 1s. 3d. to 41s. 3d., Coats 3d. to 66s., and later back to 65s. 9d., and Cottons 3d. to 45s. 6d. Bleachers fell 1½d. to 41s. 10½d. at the later market. Vickers Ord. were the turn harder at 13s. 7½d., and Lever Bros. 7 p.c. Pref. repeated 19s. 9d.

In Trading, etc., Findlater 4 p.c. Debs. rose 1s. 5d. to 45s., and Dockrell Debs. repeated 6⅞. Dublin South City Markets 4 p.c. Debs. rose ¼ to 60¾. E. and J. Burke Pref. further rose 7s. 6d. to 72s. 6d.

Shell Transports fell 1/16 to 4 1/16.

ELECTION STOCKS.

A FIRM TONE.

(FROM OUR FINANCIAL CORRESPONDENT AND THE "FINANCIAL NEWS" OF TO-DAY.)

A notable all round improvement was displayed in the Stock markets yesterday. The further advance registered in gilt-edged values and the development of strength in Home Rails were directly attributable to prospects that are generally considered to be favourable for the outcome of to-day's General Election, while the very firm tone exhibited by Foreign Rails and Foreign Government Bonds was the natural result of the better European outlook. The marked appreciation ensuing in the foreign exchanges proved a powerful factor of influence in the Foreign market. Of special significance was the forward move in the franc. After standing at 69.50 to the £ overnight, it opened firm yesterday morning at 68.00, and by the time the House had closed had recovered still further to 65.45. The German mark advanced from 30,500 to 29,500, and the lira from 96½ to 91½. Markets generally opened very firm, and gathered new strength practically all day long. British Funds were characteristically good. Conversion Loan was the chief feature with War Loan Consols and Local Loans, all making lesser progress.

LONDON STOCKS BRIGHTER.

On the Stock Exchange yesterday there was quite a general improvement in values, business being rather better, due to the happier outlook regarding the Near East question. The hope that the election day will eventuate in a steadying of home political conditions was another factor. The improvement was held to the close, and there is a reasonable prospect that it may continue to-day. British Funds were steady but not much changed. The Five per cent. War Loan rose ⅛ to 98⅛, and the 4 per cent. ½ to 101¾. Victory Bonds at 87 rose ½, and the Conversion Loan advanced ¼ to 75⅞. Local Loans rose ½ to 64.

FOREIGN GOVERNMENT SECURITIES were notable from the fact that French Loans improved in keeping with the firmer currency rates. The Fives rose 1 to 28, and the Fours 1 to 21. Italian Rentes advanced a point in sympathy to 21½. Peruvian Corp. Pref. rose ½ to 29½, and Mexican Fives fell 1 to 56½.

HOME RAILS were strongly supported, the carry-over being easily arranged. Advances were general. Great Northern Pref. rose 1½ to 68½; Brighton "A" added 1 at 63½; Great Western rose a point to 105½; and Underground Electric Income Bonds gained a point at 87½. London and North Western at 101½ was ½ higher, as were many other quotations.

COLONIAL and FOREIGN RAILWAYS were quite active. "Canpacs" fell 3 points to 160. In Grand Trunks, the First Pref. fell a point to 7½. Argentines were good. B.A.G.S. rose 1 to 83½; Pacifics 1 to 74½; Westerns 1 to 77½; and Centrals ½ to 73. Central Uruguay put on 2 points at 42; Entre Rios Ord. rose ½ to 19½; and the Pref. 1 to 60. Leopoldina at 34½ was a point higher; United of Havana rose ½ to 71½; while Antofagasta fell ½ to 72. Americans were very dull. Union Pacific at 159½ fell 1½, and Baltimore at 53 lost 2 points. Atchison at 113; Chesapeake at 80; Erie Pref. at 20½; Southern Common at 26; and Southern Pref. at 70, each lost a point.

OIL SHARES DULL.

LOSSES ON THE ACCOUNT.

Unsettled conditions have prevailed in the Oil share market during the account now in course of settlement, and prices, with few exceptions, make up lower, the losses in certain of the leading counters being of substantial amount. For instance, Royal Dutch show a decline of 2¼ on the period, this following on a fall of 2 in the preceding fortnight, the chief influence making for depression in these shares being the weakness of Continental exchanges. Shells have declined 5/16, mainly as a result of liquidation following the dissolution of the pool, and Mexican Eagles show a fall of 1/16 on the fortnight, these shares having been subjected to heavy selling both on local and Paris account. Burmahs further declined 3/16 on the account. Trinidad issues show little alteration on the fortnight. Roumanians also make up slightly lower. Lobitos advanced during the fortnight, a moderate demand having arisen on anticipation regarding the interim dividend which is due to be announced shortly. The open position remains small, and the carry-over was easily arranged. The general rate for the continuing of bargains was 5½ per cent. to 6½ per cent., exceptions being Shells, which were done at 4½ per cent. to 5½ per cent.; Mexican Eagles and Royal Dutch, which commanded 3 per cent. to 4 per cent., and British Controlled, which were continued on the basis of 3½ per cent. to 4½ per cent. Except in the case of Mexican Eagles, there were generally givers, thus indicating a small bull position. Closing prices:—

LONDON MINING MARKET GOOD.

INTERNATIONAL COUNTERS STRONG.

Despite the approach of the general election the Stock Exchange wore a much brighter appearance yesterday, and business in certain directions broadened. This was partly due to the improved political outlook, which affected the gilt-edged department, but mostly to the marked recovery in the Continental exchanges. Indeed, in the Mining market the strength of the international counters was the chief feature, and the demand for these imparted a good tone to the whole department. In the Kaffir market, the excellent character of the October returns began to make its influence felt, and as Cape favourites were still in modest request the whole list presented quite a healthy appearance. Here and there the gains on the day were of fairly substantial proportions, despite the fact that dealings were nearly all of a professional character, but there is no doubt that anticipations of satisfactory dividend announcements next month are largely responsible for the growth of general interest in this section. Central Mining led the advance, and Rand Mines, Johnnies, Randfontein, Union Corporation, General Mining, and many others moved up. The members of the Modder group were not much in evidence, and other far Eastern were only moderately active, but Van Ryn and several of the lower-priced Levels attracted attention, and at the close not a single decline could be recorded against a long list of advances. In the Rhodesian department, Chartered remained indifferent, but Globes came into request on somewhat vague rumours of amalgamation, while Cam and Motor receded fractionally in the absence of further news regarding developments. Closing prices:—

RUBBER SHARES QUIETLY STEADY.

The Rubber share market was quietly steady. Prices moved upwards generally though not very much. Anglo-Malay rose 2s. 3d. to 22s.; Pilmoor at 20s. rose 1s. 3d.; Sennah at 42s., and Sungei Bahru at 16s., both gained 1s. Malayalam improved 10½d. to 23s. 4½d., and Damansara 9d. to 13s. 3d. Falls were not important. The price of rubber receded to 12⅝d. per lb. Closing prices:—

INDUSTRIALS FIRMER.

INFLUENCE OF NEAR EAST NEWS.

The carry-over was arranged without difficulty in the Miscellaneous and Industrial markets yesterday, the general rate for the continuation of bargains being from 5 p.c. to 6 p.c. Dealings for the new account were on a restricted scale, but, in company with other departments of the "House," practically all Industrial sections finished with a very firm undertone, mainly as a result of the appreciable improvement in the Continental exchange rates and the more favourable news from the Near East. The view was expressed that with the return to power of a working Conservative majority at the polls to-day a revival of activity will be seen at the opening of business to-morrow. It was stated that there have been several instances lately of difficulty being encountered in the disposal of stocks and shares coming on offer, owing to the uncertainty regarding the outcome of the election. Courtaulds met with fresh support among Textiles and finished higher again, while the interim dividend at the rate of 8 p.c. per annum on Fine Spinners, which compares with 5 p.c. per annum a year ago, stimulated interest in the shares, which also advanced. Cellulose issues continued active. Iron and Steel descriptions had a firm appearance, Vickers and the tax free Prefs. coming into demand. Sudan Plantations further improved in the Land section.

Bieckerts went ahead among Breweries, being still under the influence of the report. Nitrates were on the dull side, Liverpools giving way on the report and the proposal to increase the capital. Renewed strength was displayed by B.A.T.'s, which finished 1s. higher on the day at 87s. 6d., while Imperials stiffened to 69s. 3d., and the "B" Prefs. of the latter rose 6d. to 23s. 9d. In the Miscellaneous trading section, De Treys further appreciated to 16s., or 6d. better on balance. Dunlops showed no change at 9s. Among Wireless issues, Marconis more than recovered their losses of the previous day at 2¼. The Prefs. held their ground at 2⅛, Marines gained 1/16 at 1⅜, and Canadians improved to 10s. 3d.

DIVIDENDS AND REPORTS.

THE IRISH TIMES, LIMITED.—The report of the directors to be presented at the annual general meeting at 31 Westmoreland street, Dublin, on Thursday, 23rd November, at 3 p.m., states:—The profit earned during the year, after payment of salaries, wages, management expenses, etc., and providing specially for bad and doubtful debts, amounted to the sum of £30,354 3/2. Deducting income tax and corporation profits tax, £12,112 15/-, and adding balance brought forward from last account (£10,404 1/-), there remains a sum of £28,645 9/2. The directors have written off the following—viz., Depreciation on premises, plant, machinery, furniture and fittings, horses and vans, £2,664 1/9. An interim dividend has been paid on the Preference Shares at the rate of 5½ per cent. per annum (less income tax) for the half-year ended 31st March, 1922, which absorbed £5,293 15/-, and an interim dividend has been paid on the Second Preference Shares at the rate of 6½ per cent. per annum (less income tax) for the half-year ended 31st March, 1922, which absorbed £2,388 15/-, leaving £18,298 17/5. The directors propose the following allocations:—Placing to general reserve account, £1,000; that a final dividend be paid on the Preference shares for the half-year ended 30th September, 1922, at the rate of 5½ per cent. per annum (less income tax), which will absorb £5,671 17/6; and that a final dividend be paid on the Second Preference Shares for the half-year ended 30th September, 1922, at the rate of 6½ per cent. per annum (less income tax), which will absorb £2,559 7/6, leaving a balance to be carried forward to next account of £9,067 12/5. Owing to the continuance of unsettled conditions, the directors do not consider it prudent to recommend the payment of a dividend on the Ordinary Shares. The directors retiring by rotation are Major L. P. Arnott and Captain L. J. Arnott, who, being eligible, offer themselves for re-election. The auditors, Messrs. Stokes Bros and Pim, also retire and offer themselves for re-election. The dividend warrants will be posted on Thursday, 23rd inst.

UNITED INSURANCE.—Dividend of 10 per cent.

SUN INSURANCE.—Interim dividend of 9/- per share, less tax.

MEADOW DAIRY CO.—Interim dividend of 4d. per share, less tax, on the 3,500,000 issued Ord. shares.

FULLERS' EARTH UNION.—Interim dividend at rate of 10 per cent. per annum, less tax, on Ord. for half-year.

RANSOME AND MARLES BEARING.—After providing £15,507 for depreciation of plant and premises, accounts year ended 30th June, 1922, show a loss of £16,645.

FINE COTTON SPINNERS AND DOUBLERS' ASSOCIATION, LTD.—Interim dividend of 4 per cent. actual on the Ord. shares.

LONDON AND COLONIAL INVESTMENT.—Dividend of 5 per cent. actual on Def. stock, less tax.

SOUTH AFRICAN BREWERIES, LTD.—Interim dividend of 2½ per cent. on the Pref., less tax, being at the rate of 5 per cent. per annum, and 1/- per share on the Ord. shares free of tax.

CANADIAN PACIFIC RAILWAY CO.—Dividend of 2½ per cent. on the Common Stock for the quarter ended 30th September last, being at the rate of 7 per cent. per annum, and, in addition, 3 per cent. per annum from special income account.

J. LYONS AND CO.—Interim dividend for the half-year ending 30th September of 2/- per share on the issued Ord. and the "A" Ord. share capital, and one-fifth of this amount—4.8d. per share on the issued proportional profit share capital.

GRAIG SHIPPING.—After allowing profit on working, profit on investments, interest, and deducting charges, net loss is £93,151. Managers have waived fees since last voyage prior to sale. Directors are awaiting opportune time for purchasing further tonnage, and expect to be able to purchase at least two modern steamers with funds available.

OIL REPORT.

The Commonwealth Oil Corporation, Ltd., cable advice from Sydney reports for the four weeks ended 3rd November 1922:—Shale mined, 1,383 tons; shale retorted, 1,231 tons; crude oil and naphtha produced, 128,538 gallons (equal to 104.4 gallons per ton of shale).

PRODUCE AND FOOD.

CATTLE.

BIRMINGHAM, Tuesday.—Pigs—Short supply, with a good demand, and late rates very firm. Quotations, per score, dead weight—Sizeable bacons 21/-, small pigs 22/-, sows 18/-.

LEEDS, Tuesday.—Beasts on offer, 304 at from 8d. to 11d.; fair trade, but supply small. Dairy cows, 6, at from £30 to £40. Sheep, 2,183, at slightly lower prices ruling, from 9d. to 1/6 per lb.

SALFORD, Tuesday.—There were 953 beasts and 6,826 sheep at to-day's market. Quotations similar to last week. Welsh lambs, 1/6 per lb.; choice small sheep, 1/4; ewes about 11d., and cattle from 9d. to 10d. Dairy cows fetched from £30 to £42.

GRAIN.

DUBLIN CORN EXCHANGE, Tuesday.—With the settlement of G.S. and W. Railway difficulties and resumption of business, a much more cautious trade dominates grain, in anticipation of freer supplies coming in. Oats especially are much more cautiously bid for, and generally blacks may be written 6d. cheaper, if not more. Current prices average:—Irish wheat 23/- to 25/6, extra nice parcels 26/6 to 27/- per barrel, the latter figure being about zenith of value. Barley is still a more or less suspended sale, malting grade 17/- to 18/-, and others 15/- to 16/6 per barrel. Rye is rather irregular, some holders are looking for 26/- to 27/-, but 25/- appears to be about best bid for sound descriptions. Black oats figure 14/- to 15/- and 15/6 per barrel. Some extra nice lots are held at 16/-, but difficult to make. Whites from 14/5 to 17/- and 17/6 per barrel.

FLOATING GRAIN CARGOES.—BALTIC, Tuesday.—WHEAT cargo market steady, with rather more inquiry. Part cargoes, 4,500 tons choice white Karachi, per Trewillard, November 20th sold at 54/4½ per 492lbs., and 2,000 tons Rosafe (63lbs.) afloat, per Porthis, 50/6; No. 1 Northern Manitoba November-December from Atlantic ports sellers 49/9, Pacific quality end November 53/-, Australian January 52/3, choice white Karachi December 51/6, Rosafe (62½lbs.) January-February 47/6. Parcels firmer; No. 1 Northern Manitoba November-December sold 49/3, December-January 49/-, Rosafe (63½lbs.) October-November sellers 50/3, Baril (63lbs.) loading 50/3 per 480lbs.; choice white Karachi November-December 54/9 per 492lbs. MAIZE cargoes quiet, but held for 3d. to 6d. per qr. advance. Plate steamers afloat sellers 35/- to 35/3, November-December 35/3, January-February 35/6, February-March 36/-. Parcels dearer; Plate November-December quoted 34/7½, December-January sold at 34/7½ to 34/10½, January-February 35/1½ per 480lbs. BARLEY quiet; Dan.-Bess.-Kus. cargoes loading sellers 30/9, October-November 30/6 per 400 lbs. Parcels neglected and nominally unaltered. OATS steady but quiet; Plate f.a.q. November-December quoted at 23/9, December-January 23/-, January-February 22/6, No. 2 Canadian Western November-December 29/9 per 320lbs.

LIVERPOOL, Tuesday.—Influenced by higher quotations from Winnipeg and Chicago, offerings were made sparingly here in view of the limited stocks on hand, and speculative positions, in consequence, improved to a liberal extent during early trading; then fluctuated moderately, and finished under best points, afternoon cables being encouraging. WHEAT on the spot was very scarce, and prices the turn dearer than Friday last. MAIZE—Spot parcels were in fair request, but American mixed showed a decline of 2d. from Friday at 7/9 to 7/9½, though River Plate unchanged at 7/6 to 7/6½ per cental. FLOUR quiet, and prices of local milled generally 1/- per 280lbs. lower. Graded red wheat futures opened ½d. to 1d. dearer, and 1d. to 1½d. over last night was afterwards paid; then prices receded and fluctuated moderately, the market closing steady at ¾d. to 1½d. per cental advance on the day. Maize options nominal.

PROVISIONS.

LIVERPOOL, Tuesday.—Live hogs at Chicago were easier, but speculative products showed an improvement, and arrivals of BACON at this port were on a moderate scale. The firmness in the market for American bacon continues, and a fair demand is again reported for American Wiltshires and Cumberlands, with former showing a further advance at 102/- to 108/- per cwt. A few bellies are now on sale at 124/- to 126/-, and move fairly, while long clears and backs remain scarce and nominal. HAMS firm, with a better demand, especially for short cut, which are again dearer at 99/- to 108/- per cwt. Shoulders still firm, and there are a few squares now available at 90/- to 94/- per cwt. Canadian Wiltshires firm at late rates. Irish and Danish sides quiet and easier at 143/- to 150/- and 146/- to 148/-, respectively; but Dutch scarce and nominal. LARD on the spot remains nominal for prime steam, and American refined in boxes scarce and in good demand at a further 6d. advance—viz., 75/- to 76/-. CHEESE steadily held, but not specially active. BUTTER firm and moderately active at late rates. New Zealand now on sale at 217/- to 218/- per 112lbs. EGGS unchanged at 30/- to 33/- for Irish hen and 20/- to 20/6 per 120 for Canadians.

PATRICK KEHOE, LTD., Irish Bacon Curers and Lard Refiners, Importers of American Provisions (Estd. 100 years).—103 FRANCIS ST., DUBLIN.—(Advt.)

REFINED LARD "FUTURES."—LIVERPOOL, Tuesday.—Following higher quotations from Chicago and a good demand, with limited offerings, prices advanced 6d. to 1/- per cwt. during early session, current month being most affected. Sales covered:—November at 70/9 to 71/3, December 66/- to 65/9 and 66/-, January 62/6; while March was quoted 62/6 to 62/9 per cwt. Despite lower late cable, market closed 6d. to 1/6 per cwt. dearer on the day. Sales—November 71/6 to 71/9, December 66/-, January 62/6, and March quoted 62/3 to 62/9 per cwt.

MANCHESTER, Tuesday.—BUTTER—The demand was rather slow, with Danish quoted 222/- to 224/-, Finnish 218/- to 220/-, Irish creamery 204/- to 208/-, and Canadian 195/- to 200/- per cwt. BACON was in steady request at firm rates, American and Canadian meeting a much improved inquiry. LARD in better demand at firmer prices; English refined quoted 78/6 per cwt. CHEESE—Canadian steady at late rates, with British finest selling up to 1/7 per lb. EGGS—Irish quoted 29/- to 30/6, Danish 31/- to 34/-, and Canadian 19/- to 19/6 per 120.

DUBLIN FRUIT AND VEGETABLE, Tuesday.—Market liberally supplied with imported and home-grown commodities, but trade all round wretchedly poor. Irish apples and ordinary pears scarcely realised freight charges. Black grapes 1/- to 1/2, 1/6 and 1/10 per lb.; Almeria 22/- to 26/- and 28/- per barrel. American apples unchanged on stock prices from Friday. Irish selected Bramley apples 20/- to 25/-, ordinary apples 4/- to 8/- per barrel, and 1/- to 2/6 and 3/- per tray selected. Valencia oranges, 1st arrival, 200-360, 15/- to 25/- and 27/- per case; twoforties 20/- to 24/- per case. Sale slow on oranges, condition being green and poor. Canary tomatoes 22/- to 30/- per crate, Irish tomatoes 4d. to 6d. and 7d. per lb., cauliflower 1/6 to 2/9 and 3/- per dozen, sprouts 3/9 to 4/6 and 5/- per float, tray, etc. Swedes 2/4 to 3/- and 3/2 per cwt.; York cabbage 6/- to 10/-, 15/- and 20/- per load; extras, 26/- to 30/-; parsnips 2/6 to 4/- per cwt., celery 2/6 to 4/9 and 5/3. A few special garden lots 8/- per bundle. White turnips 3d. to 6d. and 8d. per bundle, carrots 11d. to 1/4 and 1/6 per doz. bunches, thyme 4d. to 6d. and 8d. per bunch, parsley 1/6 to 2/6 per bag, artichokes 2/- to 2/9 half bushel. Other stuff very irregular.

DUBLIN WHOLESALE POTATO, Tuesday.—Railway supplies of potatoes increasing and becoming harder to clear. Best handled qualities 4/6 per cwt.; prime Co. Dublin potatoes still figure around 5/-. Consumptive inquiry comparatively poor.

DUBLIN POULTRY AND GAME, Tuesday.—Supplies fair. Milder weather against trade generally. Fat geese especially have become neglected. Turkeys steady, but chickens easier. Ducks unchanged. Prime chickens, 1/- to 1/2 per lb., crammed 1/2 per lb., dead; pullets 4/-, heavy fat hens 2/6 to 3/-, seconds 2/6, fat geese 9d. to 1/- per lb.; stores 4/6 to 6/6 each; prime fat ducks 4/6 to 5/6, mediums 3/6 to 4/-, seconds 2/- to 3/-, old ducks 1/- to 2/- each; cock pheasants 4/- to 4/6, hen ditto 3/6 to 4/-; grouse, young, 3/-, old 2/-; partridge, young, 3/-, old 1/6; wild duck 2/6, widgeon 1/6, teal 1/-, grey plover 9d. to 10d., green 6d.; snipe 6d., woodcock 2/6; hares 3/- to 3/6; rabbits, best fresh, 10d. to 1/- each.

LITTLE GREEN EGG AND BUTTER, Tuesday.—Supplies of butter very free, and creams largely composed of overheld and unsuitable makes on which prices are irregular. For choice fresh made creams, however, 1/11 is still current top, and good mediums 1/10 to 1/10½, other classes 1/6½ to 1/9½ per lb. A good deal of stuff is coming in in such mouldy condition lately that it has to be scraped and otherwise treated. Farmers butter of good sound grade cools and firkins rate at 1/3 to 1/5½ per lb.; fine cools and separators are scarce, and go at 1/3 to 1/5½ per lb., perhaps ½d. more for fancy separators. Coarse descriptions of farmers butter 1/- to 1/2½ per lb. Practically no change in eggs at the moment, although the demand is very slack and limited owing to the dear and extreme prices; however, an easing in the value position is anticipated, and trade is inclined to act cautiously in view of this. Prime case eggs run from 33/6 to 35/-, and from Western districts, say, 23/- to 24/6, smalls and ordinaries 21/- to 22/6 per 120. Duck eggs are featuring, but in poor demand and about 1/- to 2/- under the value of hens.

DUBLIN FISH, Tuesday.—Market embraced a moderate supply of fish, mostly of rough character—5 chests lobsters featured and over 255 boxes of stuff came in from two steam trawls. Considerable quantities of small winter herrings continue to come in from coasting stations, and find a slow cheap sale. Prime fresh large herrings would sell well. Sales averaged:—First pick lobsters 20/- to 25/- per 13, seconds 10/- to 15/-, and others 5/- to 10/- per 13; turbot 1/6 to 15/- and 20/-, brill 6d. to 3/- and 4/- each, best soles 30/- to 44/- per 9 pairs, mediums 20/- to 25/-, slips 10/- to 15/- per 9 pairs, large plaice 6/-, 8/- and 9/- per 4, others 5/- to 8/- per 8. Half boxes plaice 50/- to 105/-, codfish 40/- to 75/-, hake 70/- to 90/-, haddocks 30/- to 65/-, white soles 50/- to 65/-, prime whiting 30/- to 40/-, others 6/- to 12/- and 20/-, pollock and ling 20/- to 30/-, ray 20/- to 30/-, conger eels 15/- to 20/-, gurnard 5/- to 7/6 and 8/-, herrings 3/- to 5/- and 6/-. About 200 boxes on early market.

GRIMSBY FISH, Tuesday.—Forty-eight North Sea, one Faroe trawler, and three liners landed fair supply. Demand moderate. Plaice, 11/6, lemon soles 19/6, halibut 12/- to 15/-, cod 6/- to 8/-, small haddocks 3/-, kit 5/-, gibbed 6/-, dabs 6/- to 7/6, codlings 4/6 to 6/-, whitings 3/6 per stone; soles 1/6, turbot and brill 10d. per lb.

BILLINGSGATE FISH, Tuesday.—Supply fair. Demand steady. Soles and slips 1/3 to 1/9 per lb.; live eels 20/- to 30/- doz.; 15/- to 22/- per draft; turbot and brill 10/- to 11/-, plaice 10/- to 12/-, halibut 12/- to 15/-, lemon soles 14/- to 15/-, whitches 7/- to 9/-, cod 5/- to 7/6, whiting 3/- to 5/-, hake 10/- to 11/-, gurnet 3/- to 4/-, bream 3/-, haddocks 4/- to 6/- per stone.

CORK BUTTER, Tuesday.—A quiet tone continues, and values have undergone no noteworthy change. Creameries average 200/- cwt., choicest mild cured 196/- to 200/- a cwt., [illegible] 172/-, factories 176/- to 186/-.

ANOTHER SCOTCH WHISKEY DEAL.

Our Edinburgh Correspondent wires:—The directors of the Benrinnes-Glenlivet Distillery, Ltd., have issued to the shareholders a circular, stating that they have received a cash offer of £10 for each £7 Preference share and £5 for each £5 Ordinary share, £2 paid. Acceptance is recommended. It is understood in trade circles that the buyer is a big blending house.

The Benrinnes Company was registered in 1896, and the capital was re-organised in 1911, when £3 per Preference and £5 per Ordinary share were written off, arrears of Preference dividend being cancelled and certain modifications made in the distribution of the profits available for dividend. The authorised capital is £57,500, of which £28,000 is in Preference shares and the balance in Ordinary. A dividend of 20 per cent. was paid for the past year.

LONDON POTATO, Tuesday.—Liberal supplies met with moderate support, chiefly best samples at generally steady rates. Eclipse 50/- to 60/-, King Edwards 70/- to 85/-, Lincoln British Queens 60/- to 65/-, Majestic 60/-, blackland King Edwards 65/-, Evergoods 55/- to 60/- per ton.

PRODUCE.

LONDON, Tuesday.—TEA—In auction 16,000 packages of Ceylon offered met a fair demand for good to fine qualities at generally steady rates, but inferior sorts easy. Pekoe sold at 1/4½ to 1/11; broken Pekoe, 1/4½ to 2/2½; orange Pekoe, 1/4½ to 1/10½; broken orange Pekoe, 1/5½ to 2/6½ per lb. in bond. COFFEE—Spot steady, but quiet. Rapeseed quiet; Toria November-December sellers £17 15/-, January-February £16 5/-, Jamba November-December £13 15/-. Cottonseed steady; Egyptian black November sellers £10 7/6, white £9 18/-, Bombay December-January £8 15/- per ton. Castor, Gingelly, and Groundnuts unaltered.

LIVERPOOL AGRICULTURAL PRODUCE, Tuesday.—Moderate supplies at to-day's market, with better demand. Hay realised 6/7, new clover hay 7/6, baled wheat straw 2/- to 2/4, baled oat straw 1/10 to 2/4. Potatoes—Great Scots 2/4 to 2/9, Up-to-Date 2/9, Kerr's Pink 2/3 to 2/6; Swede turnips 2/9, carrots 3/6 per cwt.; cauliflowers 2/- to 3/-, cabbages 6d. to 1/-, celery 2/- to 3/- per dozen.

CLYDE CRUSHED SUGAR (Official), Tuesday.—Market steady; yellows very scarce.

MISCELLANEOUS.

LIVERPOOL COTTON (Closing), Tuesday.—American quiet. Brazilian quotations raised 20 points. East Indian unchanged. Egyptian fair demand. November 15.08d., December 14.88d., January 14.72d., February 14.57d., March 14.46d., April 14.35d. Sales 7,000, imports 20,675 bales. Market barely steady.

MANCHESTER TRADE, Tuesday.—If no other hindrance to business existed, want of confidence in values would operate as a deterrent. As it is, cloth demand is reduced to small proportions, and nothing of weight changes hands in any quarter. Smaller outlets of supply, sprinkling of orders, but more important markets relatively dull. Spinners ask more money, with poor response from users of yarns.

DUBLIN HAY AND STRAW, Tuesday.—A tolerably heavy market of hay came in this morning. Old meadow descriptions formed bulk of arrivals, and chiefly came from Counties Meath and Kildare districts. Co. Dublin consignments showed some expansion, and choice strong hay less conspicuously scarce. Trade throughout quiet, and prices most irregular on old meadow hay of soft and poor character. Choice Co. Dublin 1st and 2nd crop, from shed, made 7/6, 7/9 to 8/- per cwt., but 3d. or so more was looked for in some extreme cases; long loads strong hay, 7/- to 7/6 and 7/9 per cwt.; prime Co. Dublin old meadow, 6/- to 6/6 and 7/-; long loads, 5/- to 5/6; soft to secondary sorts, 3/- to 4/9 per cwt.; second cutting clover scarce, but more or less neglected. Straw market rather better supplied, and prices again easier. Average 4/6 to 5/3 and 5/6 per cwt. for oaten and wheaten; perhaps 3d. more for fancy loads of latter. Rye and barley straw 3/6 per cwt.

LONDON HAY AND STRAW, Tuesday.—Best in fair demand about late rates; inferior slow. Best meadow hay £7 15/- to £8 5/-, medium £5 to £6 5/-, inferior £4 10/- to £5; best clover £8 10/- to £9, best mixtures and Sanfoin £8 5/- to £10; trussed wheat straw 70/- to 75/-, barley oat 80/- to 90/- per ton, delivered.

LONDON METALS MARKET.

TIN—The market received active support and rates ruled easier, while somewhat irregular at times, cash on balance being 45/- to 47/6 and forward 40/- per ton down compared with the close of Monday. Cash quoted £180 to £180 5/-, three months £180 17/6 to £181, settlement price £180 5/-. Sales, 1,700 tons; cash at £180 5/- to £180 12/6 to £180 2/6, January £180 15/- to £181 to £181 5/- to £180 15/-, and three months £181 to £180 10/- to £181 10/-, while finally at £181. COPPER ruled easier, while in good demand, cash and forward being 7/6 per ton lower. Cash quoted £63 7/6 to £63 10/-, three months £64 5/- to £64 7/6, settlement price £63 10/-. 1,300 tons sold; cash done at £63 10/-, and January £64 2/6, and three months £64 7/6 to £64 5/-; electros £70 15/- to £71 5/-; best selected £66 to £68, and strong sheets £96. LEAD firm. Sales, 700 tons; November sold at £26 5/- to £26 7/6, December £26, February £25 5/- to £25 3/9, and March £24 17/6. SPELTER easier. Sales, 600 tons; November sold at £38 12/6 to £38 15/-, December £38 2/6, January £37 7/6 to £37 5/-, and February £36 15/- per ton. TINPLATES quiet, unaltered.

LONDON FREIGHTS—Tuesday.

Homeward market quiet and rates steady, especially for early tonnage. River Plate section shows moderate interest, and steamers to load heavy grain at upper ports to United Kingdom-Continent 25/- to 26/3, according to size and position. IMPORTANT SALE OF SEVEN DAYS

LICENSED PREMISES AND SUPERIOR FARM OF LAND,

At BALBRADDAGH, ROBINSTOWN, NAVAN.

MESSRS. PATRICK SMITH and SON are favoured with instructions from Mrs. F. E. Chandler (who is retiring from business)
TO SELL BY PUBLIC AUCTION,
At their Salerooms,
CHURCH VIEW, NAVAN,
On MONDAY, the 20th day of NOVEMBER, 1922
(Navan Fair Day),
At the hour of 12 o'clock noon,

All That and Those Two Parts of the Townland of Balbraddagh, in the Barony of Upper Navan and County of Meath, formerly in the occupation of William Chandler, Deceased, and containing, respectively, 11a. 2r. 22p. and 1r. and 34p., Irish Plantation measure, and held under lease for 99 years from the 1st November, 1898, at the yearly rent of £31 4/-. Poor Law Valuation, £31 10/-.

The Premises consist of substantial two-storeyed slated Dwelling-house with seven-day publican's licence attached, and contain well fitted-up Grocery and Liquor Apartments, with meal-room and taproom off same. The dwelling portion consists of 3 sitting-rooms, 3 bed-rooms, and kitchen with close range.

The Out-offices, which are in an enclosed yard, comprise bottling stores, bottle-washing house, 3 store-rooms, bacon store, 2 oil stores, coal-store, men's apartments, coach-house, cart shed, stables for 5 horses, cow-shed for 6 cattle, piggery, calf-house, dog-house, with very extensive lofts.

There is also a large galvanised hay-shed, and attached to the premises is a very good fruit and vegetable garden with green-house, in which there is an excellent vine.

All the Out-offices are either slated or covered with galvanised iron. The above property, which is all in excellent order, is situate within three miles of Trim and four miles of Navan, on the direct road between Trim and Navan, and within three miles of Kilmessan (M.G.W.R.). Robinstown Post and Telegraph Offices adjoin the premises.

The Land, which is of prime quality, is laid out in convenient-sized divisions, and is under grass and a small portion in tillage.

The Auctioneers wish to draw the attention of intending purchasers to this important Sale, as a very lucrative business has been carried on in these premises for many years, and all are in first-class order, requiring no outlay.

Terms—One-fourth of the purchase money, together with £5 per cent. Auction Fees, to be paid at Sale; balance on completion of the purchase, when immediate possession will be given.

For Cards to View and all further particulars apply to

DANIEL J. REILLY, Esq., Solicitor, Trim; or to

PATRICK SMITH & SON,

ANDREW J. KEOGH'S SALES.

MAGNIFICENT LICENSED PROPERTY, 42 LOWER CAMDEN STREET,

ONE OF THE MOST IMPORTANT LICENSED PREMISES IN THE CITY OF DUBLIN, WITH ITS EXCELLENT TRADING FACILITIES, ARTISTIC EMBELLISHMENTS, AND A MARVELLOUS BUSINESS RECORD EXTENDING OVER FORTY YEARS—THE PERIOD OF THE VENDOR'S OCCUPATION.

LEASE 600 YEARS. RENT £60 PER ANNUM.

THE ABOVE UNIQUE PROPERTY WILL BE OFFERED FOR SALE BY PUBLIC AUCTION,
AT 10 LOWER ORMOND QUAY,
ON FRIDAY, THE 24TH DAY OF NOVEMBER, 1922, AT ONE O'C.
(BY INSTRUCTIONS OF MR. JOSEPH DELAHUNT.)

The Business portion was wholly reconstructed and appointed after plans prepared by the late Mr. Fred. Morley, F.R.I.A.I., no expense being spared in the execution of the work.

The Spirit Bar, about 70 feet long, is elegantly appointed in richly-carved Domingo Mahogany and Walnut, and is lighted through a handsome bent plate-glass dome and large half-moon plate-glass fanlight.

A special feature is the "Hall" Private Bar, the same length as the main bar, which is adorned with panels painted in oils, with medallion centres portraying subjects allegorical of "The Arts" and "Science," beautifully executed.

There are spacious Whiskey and Wine Stores, Bottling and Bottle-washing Stores, modern lavatory accommodation, all on ground level, the building having a depth of over 150 feet. There is good domestic accommodation for the staff.

This Property is centred in the most busy portion of the district, at the junction of the thoroughfares leading to four of the principal Southern suburbs. Its real worth may be best measured by viewing the entire premises, and inspecting particulars of the supplies and trading, which will be furnished in the fullest manner. The Premises may be inspected between the hours of 3 and 5 o'clock, on production of Card from Auctioneer.

Conditions of Sale from
Messrs. D. and T. FITZGERALD, Solicitors, 20 Saint Andrew street, Dublin.

VERY IMPORTANT, MOST SELECT, AND ELEGANTLY-APPOINTED

FULLY-LICENSED PREMISES, WITH ORNATE FACADE, MOST DESIRABLE, AND VERY COMMODIOUS RESIDENCE, "FANNING'S," 19 LINCOLN PLACE.

HELD UNDER TRINITY COLLEGE LEASE FOR 99 YEARS FROM 1894, SUBJECT TO £60 YEARLY.

FOR SALE BY PUBLIC AUCTION, AT 10 LOWER ORMOND QUAY,
ON FRIDAY, THE 24TH NOVEMBER, 1922, AT 1 O'CLOCK
(Per instructions of Mr. MICHAEL FANNING, who is retiring).

The above Property was built and appointed to the order of the late Mr. William Burke by the late Alderman Meade after specially prepared plans, cost a considerable sum of money, and is one of the most imposing business premises in central Dublin. The position is singularly favourable—at a most important junction on the main thoroughfare, Dublin to Dun Laoghaire, adjacent to Westland Row Rail Station, and is the only premises of its kind on a direct line between Lower Mount street and Suffolk street. The trading, which is of a most select and profitable nature, indicates a most valuable asset.

The Residential portion has electric light and bell service throughout, and is everything that could be desired.

An inspection of this excellent Property and perusal of its many advantages is respectfully invited. Cards to View (3 to 5.30) and particulars of the Trading from the AUCTIONEER.
